MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage is drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find Mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instruments as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

Vol. LXVIII. OCTOBER 12, 1901. No. 1752.

DURING all the recent decline in stock market quotations the professional bear policy has been decidedly skippish, and it was the continued liquidation that forced prices down more than professional sales for the short account. It was not surprising, then, that the shorts rushed to cover on a seemingly authentic report that the financing of the big railroad combinations made in the past year was about to be begun. The shorts' idea was that if such were the facts the best financial opinion in the country had reached the conclusion that the time had arrived when this work, which must be done sooner or later, could be begun with certainty of securing a favorable public and an equally favorable money market. In carrying out the work it would be necessary, during the preliminaries at least, to throw strong support into the market, in which case any one short of stocks would suffer severely. Though the story was denied, the market remained strong until the close of the week, and the Street were still unwilling to receive this denial with confidence. The theoretical position taken was quite sound: If the great railroad purchases, made to control territory, are to be put before the public in the shape of new issues of securities, it may undoubtedly be taken as an expression of the best kind of opinion on the general situation and stock market quotations would advance, first on interested, and later on public buying; but, so far, the quotations themselves do not indicate the presence of any extraordinary stimulant to an advance, and the changes of the week may just as readily be attributed to one of these rallys that come at intervals in a declining market as a consequence of technical conditions, as to the report mentioned, especially as the downward movement had previously continued practically without interruption for three weeks.

HARRASSED by present and threatened by further penal statutes, the property-owner, no matter what his political predilections, must have read with a sense of satisfaction one sentence in the speech of acceptance of the Democratic nominee for Mayor, which was: "I have not made, nor shall I ever make, any promise that any law on the statute book shall not be enforced. Nor will I, on the other hand, promise that, if I be elected, the Mayor will subordinate the great vital functions of his administration to a futile, corrupting, blackmailing effort to enforce every one of the vast number of misdemeanor statutes which, as I have said, turn into nominal crimes acts which in themselves are perfectly innocent."

NOT unnaturally, German financial circles are becoming annoyed and alarmed by the attention that is being given abroad to the dark side of their situation, while little or none is given to the other. They frankly admit that business is bad, and that a good many industrial concerns have been brought to the ground—not without scandal. But they say these are comparatively few, while there are fifty-five hundred joint stock companies in the Empire, the most of which, by their prudent policy of the boom years 1895-1900, are riding the storm safely. They urge, too, that nearly all the companies that have been brought to the ground through fraudulent practices were viewed for years with suspicion at home, and their failure therefore did not come as such a shock there as it did abroad. All this means that the decline in business in Germany is accompanied by only the same unwholesome disclosures that appear in similar movements elsewhere, and that inherent, basic conditions are as sound there as elsewhere. This is true; but it does not alter the fact that times are hard for a good many concerns in Germany, amounting to an industrial depression, and foreigners have to take this fact into account as well as the proportions of the rascality divulged in forming opinions of the general situation and credit. Business throughout Europe continues to be depressed, but the facts regarding Germany have more prominence because of the continued exposure of rottenness in her banking circles. Contracting trade and industry are still evidenced by the decreasing volume of foreign trade in every country publishing returns, and by the failure of national income to meet expenditures, which one head of the Treasury announces after another. Still, the conditions in the financial market are a little better than they were a week ago. Money is not so tight and government bonds higher, which, though all that can be said at present is better than having to say there is no spark of encouragement anywhere.

The Latest Swindle.

THE ingenuity of Man is always an interesting study, but often it possesses a peculiar piquancy when manifested in an attempt to make a living entirely at the expense of "the other fellow." Every trade and profession can furnish its examples of tricks and devices originated by swindlers, usually along the line of some perversion of legitimate conditions and practices. Were some enquiring mind to compile for us a list of swindles and malpractices, grouping them in classes or types, with the necessary historical dissertation, we should surely have an amusing, if not a valuable, volume.

The author of such a work would discover not a little material for his purpose within the limits of the real estate and building trades. Indeed, some of his most valuable "finds" would be made in those fields, for apparently the ground here is very fruitful, and the looseness and multiplicity of transactions in these industries offer special inducements for indirect and shady methods of gaining a livelihood. Everyone who has had any experience within these trades is acquainted with the commoner "lay-outs" that have been devised from time to time by the genius of rascality to trap the incautious and the ignorant; and everyone, too, is more or less on the lookout for new modifications of the old games, which, like the tricks of beggars, are undergoing constant development. The cork-leg, the sightless eye, the distortions of paralysis—all these "make-ups" of the indigents' trade are effective in proportion to their novelty. In like manner with trade swindles, there is a perpetual need for something new, and as at times, by force of inspiration or happy chance, new swindles, particularly deceptive and efficient, are concocted, it is not always possible even for the wary to avoid being caught.

The latest "lay-out" worked in the building trades is of a particularly subtle and offensive character. It pertains at present to the work of plastering only, but as the game can be quite as effective in other departments of construction, we may watch with certainty for its extension. A, let us say, is a builder on his own account about to commence the construction of a tenement or an apartment house. He is approached by B, a plasterer, who desires the contract in his own line of trade. As though to obtain this, B makes certain representations regarding his capability and responsibility, and quotes prices to which A listens, resulting for the time being in a negative or an indefinite result. Thereafter A sees no more of B until he, A, has given out his written contract for the plastering of his buildings to D. Then B reappears, protesting that he holds a "verbal" contract from A for the work. Perhaps, as in one case we know of, B, to strengthen his position and give it a greater air of plausibility, enters A's buildings on Saturday afternoon, or at some other "off" time, when workmen are not on the premises, and then rapidly plasters the side of a wall or a few square yards of ceiling.

In support of his bogus claim, B promptly places a lien on the job for the full amount of the alleged "verbal" contract. Of course, if A is a man possessed of large capital, and happily quite indifferent as to the effect of this act upon his commercial credit with other contractors, and is at the same time independent of building loans, he can by slow process of law worry out of his predicament. But if he is not so easily circumstanced—and how very few are?—he is seriously threatened with disaster. His creditors become alarmed. In the contention between himself and the fraudulent plasterer B, even A's friends are liable to be confused.

But even with this, his specific trouble is not over; for, as soon as D, the bona fide contractor, puts his men to work on A's building, B steps in, demands a place for his workmen, resulting in the dispute being carried to the union by the walking delegate. Now, the union is not a court of law. It cannot decide the issue; and what, in the name of justice, can be done but leave the warring contractors to fight it out, making the job in the meantime one of "days' labor!"—so the union judicially determines. The delegate, of course, is installed as foreman, and after that life goes easily and even merrily with those plasterers. Opposition to this on the part of A is useless, unless A is prepared for a strike; and that, of course, would mean delay and still further loss of credit and cash. A can do nothing but accept the "days' labor" plan, knowing well that it will cost him many times the contract price. After a little cool consideration, A concludes it is much cheaper for him to let the swindler score and pay the blackmail. The only paraphernalia necessary for this swindle is the "conversation" and the allegation of a verbal contract. The law supplies the lien; the union does the rest.

It is really a cheap "outfit," and the game based on it is hard to beat. The swindler stands tantalizingly beyond the reach of the police; the law won't permit the sufferer to kick him, and as the offender has no means to be attacked, there is no prospect of any redress in the shape of damages. Moreover, it is almost impossible for the builder to adopt any plan of action that will preclude the possibility of an assault on his property. If highwaymen are daring enough to ply their vocation on the main streets at noon-time, it would be difficult for anyone to avoid attack; but in the case of these blackmailers one cannot defend one's self on the spot, as one could with the nobler class of robber.

Clearly, some defense is necessary, and protection, we judge, can be secured only by a suitable amendment of the Lien Law. This law has many defects which renders it an instrument of tyranny, available for the use of any swindler or person inclined to be unjust or arbitrary. The right to file the lien is a fair one, but some method should be provided for a prompt, final, judicial decision as to the justness of the claim behind the lien. That the Lien Law to-day is very greatly and even generally abused is commonly recognized. We understand that bond and surety companies, in most cases, put liens beyond the limit of their operations as being too risky and highly charged with dishonesty —very telling evidence of the rottenness that exists in Denmark.

THE death of Mr. Dwight H. Olmstead, on Thursday last, deprives New York of a gentleman who in his prime had been one of the most active and influential real estate lawyers in the city. The public cause, to which he was particularly devoted, and to which for many years he gave a great part of his time, was that of land transfer reform. It was Mr. Olmstead, in 1881, who first seriously proposed, in an address before the West Side Association, that the laws in respect to real property should be assimilated to that of personal property, and from that time until his illness compelled him to go abroad he was indefatigable in his efforts to secure cheaper and quicker methods of real estate transfer in this city. The only actual fruit of the lively enthusiasm and hard work which he gave to the cause was the block-indexing law, which went into effect on January 1, 1892, for the attempt to apply the system to the County Clerk's Office was bungled, so that the essential point of his method of indexing was omitted. But he has left behind him, in the numerous addresses which he delivered and the numerous pamphlets that he published, a full description of the steps necessary to complete the work begun by the block-indexing law. Few New Yorkers have devoted themselves with such lively zest and unflagging zeal to an impersonal end as did Mr. Olmstead.

THE report of the three engineers appointed under the McCarren law to devise some adequate plan to relieve the crush at the Manhattan terminal of the Brooklyn Bridge will be received with mixed feelings of approval and dislike. The important proposals of the engineers are (1) an elevated road along Centre street to a terminal at Worth street, this terminal to be eventually connected with the new East River and the Pike Street Bridge; (2) an elevated road along Park row, through Vesey street to West street, and thence to Cortlandt street, with a station connecting with the Sixth and Ninth avenue "L" roads; (3) the use of the gallery floor of the present terminal exclusively for the trolley cars, with adequate entrances and exits. These proposals are undoubtedly well calculated to relieve the present terminal of a part of its traffic, and it does so in a manner which would make the structure additionally useful to the public. The stations at Worth street, on Vesey street and at Cortlandt street would undoubtedly be used by a large fraction of the travelers that crowd the stairs at the existing terminal. The connections with Bridges Nos. 2 and 3 would also relieve the crush by giving these bridges an immediate connection with the districts which many of the passengers are seeking and leaving. The possibility of transferring to the West Side elevated roads would be an immense boon to the many travelers to whom it would be convenient to use those lines. Finally, the dedication of the gallery exclusively to the trolley cars would be a decided improvement upon the truly deplorable and dangerous present condition of the ground floor. But it must be admitted that the city will have to pay dear for the relief which these elevated roads would afford. The core of the business district would be cut up by iron structures, which might be an improvement upon those already erected, but which at the same time could not be anything but unsightly, particularly in the immediate neighborhood of so many important public and private buildings. The engineers describe this class of objection as sentimental; but, sentimental or not, it will undoubtedly appeal strongly to the many people who believe that New York should not be disfigured by more elevated roads, particularly on and across prominent streets. At the same time, although we admit the strength of these objections, it is difficult to see how the building of such additional elevated roads can be avoided. The present condition of the Manhattan terminal is intolerable, and the best way it can be permanently and adequately relieved is to carry part of the traffic away to other and less congested points. It should be added, however, the estimated cost of these improvements by the engineers is obviously very much too small.

THE opposing speakers in the existing political campaign differ about most subjects; but there is one matter of public policy upon which they are remarkably unanimous. Both in the platforms and from the platforms all voices declare that the municipal ownership of "public utilities" is a good thing, and should be carried further. Different declarations differ as to the extent to which this policy should be pushed. Some favor merely the public ownership of these utilities, leaving their operation to private companies; others would have the municipality keep the whole business to itself; but upon the main issue the lions of reform lie down with the Tammany lambs and their Shepard. This unanimity is not surprising, considering the grip which private corporations have obtained upon some of the most valuable assets of the city and the way in which these assets have been used to increase their capitalization. The figures as to the enormous increases of stock which have been based upon recent railway and lighting combinations in this city have been collected by Mr. R. R. Bowker in the current number of the "Atlantic Monthly," and are sufficiently astounding. The surface railway facilities of Manhattan and The Bronx, now practically under one control, represent an actual outlay of less than $125,000,000, and could be duplicated probably for less than $100,000,000, while their nominal capitalization, share and loan, excluding securities of the consolidated company held in the treasury of the controlling company, is over $300,000,000 and their market value above $400,000,000. The case of the lighting company is even more remarkable. "It is difficult," says Mr. Bowker, "to state lucidly this extraordinary multiplication of complications, in which the original $9,200,000 Edison stock is represented by the $21,000,000 power company purchase-money bonds, the $21,000,000 power company stock based upon the Edison property already purchased by these bonds, and the $9,200,000 again added as the old Edison capital in the new company. This is an aggregate of $57,000,000 out of a total capitalization share and loan of the new company exceeding $85,000,000, built up within two years, based chiefly on the Edison earning power, which, under the old conditions, would have been done to-day on approximately $20,000,000 capitalization." Similar figures are given for the gas companies. The market value of the gas and electric securities in Manhattan and The Bronx is at least $222,000,000, of which very much more than half represents the value of the franchises.

THE important question is, Can anything effectual be accomplished by this unanimous public sentiment in the way of recovering for the city some of the assets which have been ignorantly or corruptly given away? The future is made tolerably secure by the provision in the charter which forbids the alienation in the future of any public franchises. Something will be accomplished by the Franchise Tax law, in case it is held as constitutional, to make the value represented by these franchises yield a public income; but, as Mr. Bowker points out, the figures plainly show that a large part of the "unearned increment" is yet to be reached by taxation or otherwise recovered by the city. The measures which Mr. Bowker advocates as neither extreme nor impracticable are the use by the city of any legal hold which it has upon the corporations. Thus, the subway companies and several of the railway lines, such as the Sixth and Eighth avenues, are under specific obligations to surrender their property to the city on a valuation or for a reasonable advance upon cost; and these obligations could be effectually used as weapons against the consolidated companies. Furthermore, it is stated that in many cases corporation managers have far exceeded their charters, even to the extent of violating their provisions by engaging in business in which they have no right to engage, as of seizing upon street privileges to which they have no legal claim. A firm and strong executive could use such weapons as these to secure much larger returns for the city than is obtained under present circumstances. Whatever party wins the election, it should be held to a strict accountability in the matter of their declarations on this subject.

The Real Estate Situation

The purchase during the past week by J. A. Stevens of No. 40 West 20th st, for the purpose of erecting a store and loft building on the site, calls attention to one of the most interesting and wholesome current movements in real estate. We refer to the building up of what is likely to become a new wholesale district between 14th and 23d sts, 6th av and 4th av. For a long time—that is, at least fifteen years—there have been erected, slowly but steadily, some very large and handsome store and loft buildings on 5th av between the above named streets. The Judge Building was the first of these, and it was succeeded by the Mohawk, the Constable and seven others equally large and imposing. But the firms who tenanted these buildings were in very few cases drawn from the downtown wholesale district. The shops were occupied by piano warerooms, art stores and other similar trades, which needed large and well-situated show rooms, not necessarily on a crowded avenue. As for the lofts, they were filled by a medley of trades. The most important of these were publishers of one kind or another—not only publishers of books, but firms that did all varieties of better-class printing. The next in importance, probably, were the dealers in carpets and upholstery materials, some of whom opened retail stores on the ground floor, but all of whom found it convenient to have their warerooms situated in the vicinity of the valuable New York retail trade. There were also some few woolen firms who early removed to this district. Of late years, the rate at which accommodations were being provided for new firms has increased very rapidly. There are at present nine store and loft buildings either just finished or in the course of building between 16th and 21st sts, 6th av and Broadway. Four of these buildings are being erected on parcels that contain almost, if not quite, 10,000 square feet, the other five on the usual 25x100 lot. In three cases the buildings in question have entrances on two streets, and are thus peculiarly adapted to a wholesale business. It should be added that the new buildings which are going up are renting very well indeed, and that there seems to be a marked tendency for some trades, in addition to those already mentioned, to find a habitation in this region. A number of signs of cloak firms and the like are to be observed on the buildings thereabouts, and there are likely to be more in the future. Recently Mr. N. Weiss has leased the third, fourth and fifth lofts of No. 85 5th av, containing 8,000 square feet per floor, for five years, at $18,000 per year, to Mr. M. Schwarz and Hyman & Brown, and a floor of the new building on the southeast corner of 18th st and 5th av, containing 10,000 square feet, for five years, at $7,000 a year, to Geo. C. Heimerdinger. All three of these firms deal in ladies' suits and costumes. It is stated that the new building above mentioned, at the southeast corner of 5th av and 18th st, now being erected by Henry Corn, is almost entirely rented already. The basement, the ground floor and the first and second floors will be occupied by S. Stein & Co., dealers in woolen goods, and now at the corner of Great Jones st and Broadway. It will be seen from the above facts that a tolerably strong current is setting in the direction of this neighborhood. It is, indeed, the only wholesale section of the city in which any active building is taking place and which is showing much power of expansion. The advantages of this region for wholesale firms, in addition to those of less crowded streets for carting and better light, is, of course, its proximity to the large department and retail stores which handle such enormous quantities of goods. It is probable that there will be next spring quite as much activity in the building line, both on the avenue and on the side streets, as there is at present.

The New Wholesale District.

In a letter to the Record and Guide, Mr. Henry Snyder Kissam, the architect, suggests the desirability of combining bachelor apartments with offices in some of the buildings now being erected in the central parts of the city. He points out that in the latter neighborhood many profitable businesses have been established by reputable single men, in the offices of which practically no stock is carried and little or no trades-work performed, so that the floor space necessary for the purpose is both a small and a fixed area. These businesses are carried on largely by working, counseling or soliciting in the offices of others during business hours, and the office work necessary is performed either in the early morning, the late afternoon or at night. He claims that such conditions have created the demand for associating living apartments with offices, and that the problem of uniting modern business and residence conveniences profitably under one roof will soon be undertaken, such a building already having been projected for a location not half a mile from Broadway and 23d st. Mr. Kissam evidently believes that there is a great future for this class of building, but we cannot accept his view of the matter. It will be interesting to see one such experiment made, and if properly advertised it might well have a good chance of success. The demand for such a class of accommodation would, however, soon be exhausted. It would be confined to bachelors who happened to control the sort of business described above, and this surely cannot be a very numerous class. Moreover, many of the bachelors so situated would doubtless prefer to draw more of a line between their business and their residence than would be possible in case both were grouped under the same roof. A bachelor who does own such a business, and whose offices are within half a mile of Broadway and 23d st, would, if he desired to live near his office, find abundant opportunity to do so without having to walk more than a few blocks.

Can Offices and Apartments be Combined in One Building?

Real Estate in London and in New York.

THE London correspondent of one of the New York dailies has recently been comparing the position of real estate owners in New York and London and has reached conclusions very much to the disadvantage of the former. The methods of leasing property are, as is well known, widely different in the two cities. In London the land-owner is subjected to a minimum of responsibility. For the most part the leasehold system prevails; the leases often run for as long as ninety-nine years; the taxes are paid by the lessee; Parliament has not sanctioned the principle of assessing "betterments" upon the owner; and he has the option at the expiration of the lease of taking possession of all the improvements made by the lessee. The consequence is, that although his returns seem to be small, his property gives him no bother at all, his interest is absolutely secure; and in the course of time he has the benefit of the enormous increase of value, which has been gradually taking place. Even the owner of the lease is in many respects better off than the owner of the fee in New York. His house is rented to the occupier generally for a period of ten years, and the latter has to pay the taxes and keep the property in repair. The aim of the whole system is to concentrate as much responsibility as possible upon the people who actually use the property. In New York, on the other hand, the actual user of the property, while he has to pay a larger rental, need not bother himself about taxes, repairs or betterments. The owner of the house has to pay all these expenses from his rent, and, furthermore, the lease itself generally runs for only one year, and rarely above three, so he has the additional expense and care of constantly providing new tenants. Consequently, even should he get slightly larger returns he pays dearly for them in anxiety and trouble.

All these facts seem to make out a pretty good case for the London system from the point of view of the land-owner; yet it may be doubted whether the case is as complete and as unimpeachable as the correspondent evidently thinks. The English system is obviously adapted to a country in which the conditions of municipal life are comparatively stable; but it would not be at all adapted to New York, in which conditions change radically, not merely in fifty or twenty-five years, but even in ten or fifteen. The New York system puts the land-owner under many disadvantages; but it has the supreme advantage of flexibility, a quality which is useful, not only to the business interests of the whole city, but which is of considerable profit to the land-owner himself. Imagine the possessor of a block of New York real estate leasing his property for ninety-nine or eighty years at a rental based upon its present value. Considering the chance of an increased value during his own lifetime it would obviously be absurd for him to make such a contract, so that even the few ground rents there are in this city run for very much shorter terms. But the whole leasehold system, although it is occasionally used, is contrary to American real estate methods, and the spirit which lies behind them. Americans make a business of owning land. With them it is less of an investment than an opportunity. They are all more or less real estate speculators. They expect to take care of it, and to turn it over frequently. Furthermore, there can be no doubt that the system has had an immense deal to do with the rapidity of American municipal growth. It is adapted to a city in which land frequently has four or five new buildings erected on it in the course of fifty years, each one more expensive than its predecessor; and the introduction of English methods could lead only to comparative stagnation.

It should be added, however, that conditions are certainly becoming more permanent in New York, and that with this relative permanence, the present system is undoubtedly hard upon the owner of real property. The city has reached the point, in which it has become profitable to tear down eight and nine-story buildings, in order to replace them with twenty-story buildings; but the time is not yet within sight when buildings as much as or more than twelve stories high can be profitably thrown into the rubbish heap. It may be expected that the office buildings, the apartment houses, the more expensive residences and even the six-story tenements will endure some time longer than their predecessors, although he would be a bold man who would grant them the ninety-nine years life of an English lease. The point is, however, that as these relatively stable types of buildings are going up, the New York real estate owner tends to lose the advantage, which formerly remunerated him for the trouble and anxiety which his property cost him. Real estate is so far no longer a business and speculative opportunity; it is a permanent investment. Unfortunately, also, it is a permanent investment, the income of which frequently cannot be increased in proportion to the expenses. Within a few years taxes have been increased in many cases as much as a third; and this increase has been for the most part an irretrievable loss to the property owner. During the past year he has in some cases been able to raise his rents so as to collect part of the burdensome increase from the lessees; but probably in two cases out of three he has had to pay the additional charge out of his own pocket. It is obvious that in justice to the property-owner some tax-system should be devised which will distribute the cost of such a sudden variation over a larger number of people. The outlay for repairs, etc., are year in and year out a relatively fixed quantity, which can be estimated in putting a rental value on a house; but taxes are quantity, which fluctuates widely and generally in the direction of a increase. To assess a portion of such taxes upon the occupier, in proportion to the amount of his rent—the best possible indication of his ability to pay—would not only be an act of simple justice to the real estate owner, but would be an efficient means of stimulating popular interest in economic municipal government.

AS time goes on instances are brought to our notice where the enforcement of the provisions of the new Tenement House Law relating to "Now Existing Tenement Houses" would cause the utmost pecuniary injury to the owner of the property affected. Many of these people own only comparatively small equities in tenements that require the heaviest expenditures under the law, and have no means with which to make them. Should the law be enforced, they will have no alternative but to put their properties on the market and sell them for what they will bring, which, in the event of this form of attempted realization being large in volume, would not be much, if anything; so that the ultimate destination of many can only be the hands of the mortgagee, who will only be but little less embarrassed than the mortgagor. It will not follow that the additional expenditure will increase incomes. In the present condition of the tenement renting market the changes made will not justify a demand for increased rents; on the contrary, rental returns will be reduced by the diminution of rentable space, so that the return on the property will be reduced by the amount of interest on new capital and reduced rents, plus the loss occasioned by the disturbance of tenants in order to make the changes. This state of things is aggravated by the fact that many of the houses that must be altered under the mandatory provisions of the law are in good condition, satisfactory to tenants jealous of their own comfort and health, and which have health and mortality records that compare in the most favorable way with those of the most up-to-date "scientifically" sanitated apartment.

THE Democratic nominee for the office of President of the Borough of Manhattan, Isaac Fromme, has proved himself a very capable Register, having, during his administration, brought up the efficiency of his office to a very high standard. The same administrative capacity would serve him and prove of great value to the public if he should be elected to the important office for which he has been nominated. The importance of this office is materially increased by the new charter; in fact, it may be said that document has made it from one having little dignity and no importance to one second only in each of these virtues to that of Mayor. It is to the President of the Borough that the owner will look for the policy on which the maintenance as well as the growth of values of real estate will depend, and it is therefore necessary that the incumbent should combine with an administrative capacity a knowledge of the practical requirements of the case. This Mr. Fromme's long connection with real estate has given him.

A REMARKABLE REAL ESTATE MOVEMENT. THE CAUSES OF THE PRESENT LEVEL OF PRICES.

The Record and Guide prints herewith a map showing the important purchases of property which have recently taken place on 5th av. The upward movement which has been going on ever since the general revival of business prosperity several years ago has, during the present year, culminated in a persistent activity, a range of values and a rapidity of improvement, of which the real estate history of New York offers few parallels. The actual prices obtained for desirable lots have in some cases gone far beyond the most sanguine expectations of shrewd and interested speculators. The area of activity has slowly been pushed further uptown, until now it comes into actual contact with the cheap apartment house section further north. For the first time in the history of New York speculative builders have been putting on the market residences that sell for several hundreds of thousands dollars and getting their prices. The value of well-situated lots has reached a level for which it is difficult to find an ordinary economic justification, and people are continually expressing curiosity as to how much longer it will last and how much farther it will go.

Once before, in 1872, lots on this part of 5th av underwent a boom; but recent prices have made the earlier movement seem insignificant. In 1872 the price even of well-situated corner lots did not get much beyond $100,000, while inside lots varied between $40,000 and $70,000. Yet last spring John T. Farley took title to five feet less than three interior lots, between 64th and 65th sts, for $420,000, which is equivalent to $145,000 a lot. As an indication of what has taken place in the meantime, it may be added that one lot on the south corner of 66th st, sold in 1880 for $50,000, while ten years ago the south corner of 65th st, 50.5x100, brought only $100,000. An equally striking instance of the present demand, and the way it over-reaches ordinary economic limitations, is to be found in the purchase last June by J. B. Haggin of the Progress Club, on the north corner of 63d st, for $735,000. The plot on which the club-house stands, measuring 100x100, was bought in 1887 for $225,000. Soon thereafter the present club-house was erected at a cost estimated at $325,000, making a total investment of $550,000. Recently the club was able to sell the property for $735,000 to a man who proposes to tear the club-house down and erect a private dwelling. In a little over twelve years the four lots have more than trebled in value, so that the $325,000 sunk in the club-house can be thrown away, and the club still make $185,000 net on the bargain. In no other city in the world, and at no other time but the present, could such a transaction have taken place.

Quite as remarkable is the advance in values which has taken place during the past few years in the very upper end of fashionable 5th av. The movement in this vicinity began with the purchases of Andrew Carnegie, and has been proceeding merrily ever since. The following is an extraordinary illustration of the profit which a shrewd speculator was able to make out of a deal in property, which five or six years ago seemed destined to be improved with ordinary apartment houses. On June 27, 1899, Isaac H. Clothier took title to three lots, 75.6x102.2, on the south corner of 95th st, for $150,000—giving a mortgage for $100,000, or two thirds of this price. A few days before the same gentleman had bought the four lots, 100.8x102.2, adjoining this corner on the south, also for $150,000, of which $120,000 remained on mortgage. This gave him the whole frontage with the exception of the lot on the north corner of 94th st, and this lot he finally purchased on April 3, 1901, for $75,000, of which $50,000 was a mortgage. Thus he had paid $375,000 for the whole frontage, of which $270,000 remained on mortgage—leaving a cash investment of $105,000. On May 23, 1901, he transferred the eight lots to Mr. Al. Hayman for $625,000, a mortgage being taken by the Mutual Life Insurance Co. for $400,000 at 4½ per cent. Hence, the mortgage at the time of the final sale amounted to $25,000 more than Mr. Clothier had paid for the whole property. On an investment of $105,000 he had reaped a profit of $250,000 in about two years. Another illustration from the same region is the case of the plot, 100.9x200, on the north corner of 97th st. This parcel sold in 1898 for $95,000—a price making it available for the erection of ordinary flats. In the same year it changed hands at $140,000, brought $240,000 in 1899, and was acquired last spring by Mr. Lloyd S. Brice, for $345,000.

of the lot may be covered by the building, in practice we get only from 65 per cent to 68 per cent, depending upon the shape of the lot. The yard ought not to be compulsorily deeper than 10 ft. and the architect ought to be given more latitude in the disposition of his building and air spaces. The width of the air-shaft ought not to be more than, say, 3 ft. on 25 or 26 ft. lots. We want to get all the apartments facing the front or rear if possible, but owing to the new requirements as to rear yard and width of air-shaft, we are obliged to put some in the middle of the house facing the court."

Mr. Smallheiser, of Sass & Smallheiser, who designed the tenement that is to go up on the northeast corner of Mulberry and Broome sts, the issuance of the permit for which has been long delayed, urged that the Building Code should be reconciled with the Tenement House Law as soon as possible. As an instance of the necessity for this work being done, he pointed out that the Tenement House Law requires (Section 21) only the floor above the cellar in a 5-story tenement to be fireproof. At the same time it says (Section 162), "except as herein otherwise specified every tenement house shall be constructed and maintained in conformity with existing law." The Building Code requires (Section 53) that the first and second floors of every tenement house five stories in height above the cellar, shall be constructed fireproof. The sections named taken together make it still possible for the Department to require the two floors to be constructed fireproof although this was not the intention of the Tenement House Commission who said in their report: "The Commission finds that in the Building Code, a local ordinance, there is a requirement that where there is a store on the first floor of a tenement house and the building is also five stories in height, the second tier of beams or the beams over the store shall be constructed of fireproof materials. As the Commission finds that only ten per cent of all the tenement fires originate in stores, and as the present law does not require the partitions enclosing the stores to be fireproof, this requirement seems to afford but little additional protection and not to be of sufficient importance to warrant making it compulsory."

Mr. Smallheiser suggests further that the allowed height of a 5-story tenement, now based upon rooms 9 ft. high, should be increased so as to permit the construction of rooms 9 ft. 6 ins. high. This he suggests to meet the wishes of tenants. He also says provision should be made for recesses on staircase halls from which apartments open. This is in line with the suggestion made by Mr. Bernstein regarding a definition for private halls.

George Legg has leased from Anthony Van Bergen, of Paris, the entire building No. 5 Washington pl, corner Mercer st, for five years, at $16,000 per annum, with privilege of purchase. The lessee will remove his millinery business from Broadway to this location.

The firm of Charles R. Faruolo & Co., have leased for Charles F. Pfiizenmayer the two 5-sty tenements, Nos. 41-43 Carmine st, for a term of five years at a gross rental of $19,500.00 to Michele Fennelli.

There are 8,000 square feet on each floor. Mr. Butler bought the lot in September, 1898; he sold it two months' later to Harry Chaffee and afterward took it back selling it in December, 1899, with a loan, to Leo Wise, who put up the building. He later acquired the whole property in foreclosure proceedings and has now given Franklyn M. Wise an option to purchase it for $779,410.

N. Weiss has leased for Henry Corn to George C. Heimerdinger, manufacturer of ladies' costumes, a loft in the building now being erected at the southeast corner of 5th av and 18th st. The term is for five years at $7,000 per year. There are 10,000 square feet on each floor and the entire building is said to hav been rented. The plot was formerly the site of the Marshall O. Roberts mansion.

Real Estate Notes.

Ten $100 shares of the Century Realty Co. stock were sold at auction on Wednesday for $100 per share.

The Geo. A. Fuller Co. have leased, through Arthur S. Cox & Co., the premises Nos. 531 to 543 West 20th st, 175x98.9, for a term of years. The property was formerly occupied by the Floyd Iron Works.

The property-owners who have been protesting against both the amount of the awards and the area of assessment in the matter of widening 110th st, between 5th and 7th avs, have been successful in defeating the awards. Failing to obtain any relief from the commissioners of estimate and assessment, motion for confirmation was adjourned from time to time, and the matter brought by petition before the Board of Public Improvements. After several adjournments it came up for a hearing before the Board on October 9th, and after some discussion, the Board finally decided to cancel the whole assessment. Mr. Walter H. Martin represented the property-owners at the hearing.

Richtmyer & Irving, of No. 18 Wall st, are specialists in mortgage loans. Their facilities for placing loans, large and small, quickly, are of the very best, and they want applications for loans on all kinds of good property.

Application is to be made to the Supreme Court on October 31 for the appointment of commissioners of assessment to determine the area of assessment for benefit in the matter of improving Park av, north of 106th st.

Charles Welde who is suing the New York Central R. R. Co. for damage for injury to his property on Park av by the construction of the viaduct there has received an adverse decision from the Court of Appeals, which places him in the position of going to a third trial or withdrawing his suit.

Nichols & Lummis are conveniently and centrally located at No. 1 East 34th st, adjoining the corner of 5th av. They make the sale and rental of realty in the vicinity of their office a specialty, and have lists embracing many desirable properties. Romaine C. Nichols and Benjamin Rush Lummis comprise the firm.

The tearing-down of buildings in Long Acre Square has not disturbed the busy office of John P. Kirwan, at No. 1505 Broadway, southwest corner of 44th st. A few of the sales recently completed by Mr. Kirwan have been reported, and he has many others under negotiation. Telephone 951 38th, calls Mr. Kirwan's office.

"Appraisals our specialty," is the heading of the card, on another page of this issue, of the long-established and well-known firm of N. Brigham Hall & Son, and it should be read by buyers and sellers of realty as well as by persons loaning money on mortgage. Messrs. Hall's well-equipped office is located at No. 681 Broadway. They can be communicated with by telephone.

This is the season of the year when owners, agents and builders would do well to have sidewalks, cellars, areaways and yards repaired and repaved before the frost and snow come. Chas. Lehmann, of 31 Manhattan st, Harlem, is experienced and well equipped for doing all kinds of artificial stone work. His telephone call is 1063 Harlem.

The Municipal Assembly have approved the application of the Union Railroad Co. for leave to extend their Jerome av line in the Bronx across the Harlem River on Macomb's Dam Bridge to connect with the Metropolitan Street Railway Company's 8th av line at 155th st. The Board of Estimate is to fix a price for the franchise.

G. Nicholas, real estate broker, of No. 537 5th av, near 45th st, has opened elegant branch offices in the new Fife Arms apartment house, No. 2383 Broadway, corner of 87th st. Mr. Nicholas was for many years at No. 1483 Broadway, near 42d st, but owing to many changes in the Long Acre section was compelled to seek other quarters and chose those at No. 537 5th av, which he makes his main office. Mr. Nicholas makes a specialty of high class residential, business and investment properties.

Judge Andrews this week dismissed an injunction restraining John J. Schacht from building a residence in the middle of Punett st, in the Bronx. The city condemned the property for Punett st, but afterward decided to build the street at another point, the condemned property reverting to the original owners. Lucas Vangaasbeck owned a strip of land which could be reached only by way of Punett st. He objected to Schacht's blocking the street, and got out the injunction, which the Court dismissed.

In naming candidates for office in the Borough of the Bronx the Fusionists, in addition to nominating James L. Wells for President of that Borough, a fact which has already been referred to in these columns, have also named other realty workers who will advance the cause of good government if elected. For instance, in the 40th Aldermanic District, Jacob Leitner has been nominated for Alderman, and in the 44th District, John H. Behrmann has been named for Alderman. The 40th District extends from 149th to 170th st, east of 3d av, and the 44th District embraces the section north of the Bronx and Pelham Parkway to the city line from the Bronx River. Messrs. Leitner and Behrmann are young and energetic, and capable of intelligent work for the realty interests.

Some of the property owners living in Park av have protested to the Health Board against the changes proposed in the New York Central's tunnel. They assert that if the tunnel's present brick walls are replaced by steel girders and the roof is left more open for ventilation the smoke and fumes at present confined to the tunnel will enter their houses, endangering the health of the occupants. "Of course these people think they have a grievence," President Sexton of the Health Board is quoted as saying, "but they are mistaken in their belief that their houses will be filled with smoke; soft coal is not used in the tunnel. There may be a few cinders, but that can't be helped. It is quite impossible to please every one. The change in the tunnel is absolutely necessary, and will be made."

The formation of big consolidations outside of New York often benefits New York real estate—in that such consolidated companies almost always establish headquarters in this city. On the other hand, the consolidation of business actually being carried on in New York is as often as not harmful to local property interests. One apparent consequence of the recent gas consolidations has been the shutting down of the gas plant on 11th av, from 41st to 42d st, and the discharge of the 150 men employed there. This same vicinity has been hurt by the threatened removal of the factory of the Higgins Carpet Co., on 11th av, from 43d to 44th st. This company has been taken over by the Hartford Carpet Co., and a factory is in the course of building out of town, which means that the neighborhood will lose another important industry. The result is that the tenements are badly rented, and shops are vacant. It should be noticed that the land upon which the gas plant was built was reported to have been purchased by the New York Central; but the report was denied.

The announcement that the new corporation, Realty Associates, with its influential directorate and large capital while formed to operate in New York City, are to give special attention to real estate in this borough ought to stimulate business. The capital of this corporation is $3,000,000, but none is to be offered by public advertisement, so that it is, presumably all taken by the organizers and their friends. The prospectus is signed by Frank Bailey, Henry Batterman, Charles S. Brown, Felix Campbell, John Greenough, Charles R. Henderson, John D. Hicks, William M. Ingraham, Martin Joost, Augustus D. Juilliard, Clarence H. Kelsey, Alexander E. Orr, Charles A. Peabody, Frederick Potter, Douglas Robinson, Ellis D. Williams and George G. Williams, most of whom are influential in the management of the Title Guarantee and Trust Company and the Bond and Mortgage Guarantee Company.

It is gratifying to know that in one direction building in this borough is more active this year than last and more so than in the other boroughs of the city. Owing to its superior transit facilities this borough is becoming more and more attractive to the seeker for small dwellings and the statistics prove that the building trade is responding efficiently to the demand thus created. Since the new Tenement House Law went into effect and effectually stopped the building of the old flat, plans for about 1,100 dwellings have been filed in the office of Commissioner Guilfoyle, the total cost of which is in the neighborhood of $4,500,000. This is an increase of some 250 in dwellings and of $1,250,000 in money over the corresponding period of last year. Besides a better class of dwelling is being put up, and, therefor, presumably called for by the buying public. Last year the average cost per dwelling was in the neighborhood of $3,800 and rather under than over that figure; this year it is about $4,050, with prices for materials on the whole favoring the builder this year more than last. The sections most favored by this movement are the 29th and 30th Wards, including Bensonhurst, Flatbush and New Utrecht.

Another movement that has met with considerable success is the building of 2-family flats of the cheaper sort on the outskirts of Greenpoint. This has been conspicuous on the old Kingsland estate land. There is room for much more of this kind of operation, for, not only is the law operating to restrict the building of tenement, but such as were built up to the time of its effectuation were not for the poorest class of tenants, for whom very little provision is being made compared with their natural growth of numbers.

A section that fails to share in the building movement so conspicuous elsewhere is East New York, which still suffers from the celebrated "loop" question, with no appearance of any kind of concession from the Rapid Transit Co. Whether this matter can be straightened out so as to give the section a chance to renew its development at an early day cannot be said, but it is interesting to note that the changes made by the railroad company, both as to running of cars and the doubling of fares, have been in operation during nearly all of the period covered by the annual report that is just now being received with so much dissatisfaction in the financial districts.

The map of the public place at Myrtle av, Knickerbocker av and Bleecker st has been adopted and is now on file in the office of the Register of Kings Co. The limits of the "place" are: Beginning at the southeast house corner of Myrtle avenue and Knickerbocker av; 1st. Thence easterly along the southern house-line of Myrtle av for 69.13 feet to the southwest house corner of Myrtle av and Bleecker st; 2d. Thence southerly along the western house-line of Bleecker st for 48.53 feet to the northwest house corner of Bleecker st and Knickerbocker av, as shown on the Commissioners' Map of Bushwick; 3d. Thence westerly along the northern house-line of Knickerbocker av for 49.24 feet to the point of beginning.

West End Affairs.

LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS AND THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT OF THE BUILDING CODE.

The West End Association resumed their regular meetings, after the vacation interruption, on Monday evening last at a gathering over which Cyrus Clark presided. E. J. Benson, 37 W. 97th; James F. Longley, 21 W. 97th, Lionel Moses, 47 W. 97th; Francis G. Saltonstall, 35 W. 97th; Joseph A. Flynn, 157 W. 77th; Lee Kohns, 127 W. 79th, and A. Walker Otis, 594 West End av, were elected to membership. The resignations of Geo. C. Coffin and R. H. Stearns were accepted.

The Grievance Committee reporting on matters referred to them said: W. 87th st, Central Park West to Columbus av, had been repaved; Amsterdam av to Broadway was in fairly good repair; 125th st viaduct, it was stated, would be open in about a month; 96th st, viaduct, date of opening still uncertain. The Park Department desired Central Park West and 59th st bounding the park placed under their charge.

The Subway Special Committee reported that sub-contractor Bradley, whose sections extend from 60th to 103d st, was far behind on his work, and recommended that efforts be made to compel him to properly fulfill his contract. On motion of Mr. McDonald, J. L. Brower was appointed a committee of one to ascertain how many men Mr. Bradley had at work. On motion of Mr. Dobbs, the subway Special Committee was instructed to urge the proper authorities to compel the completion of the present excavations under the Bradley contract.

On motion of Mr. Wilmot, the Board of Estimate was asked to appropriate the $38,000 for West End av trees, &c., requested by the Park Department.

On motion of Mr. Stanton the matter of securing the necessary appropriation for widening of W. 59th st was referred to the Committee on Local Improvements.

Chas. Buek moved a resolution which was adopted, protesting against the enactment of the proposed amendment to the Building Code, now before the Council, making violations of such code a misdemeanor. Charles Buek, Judson Lawson, Percival R. Moses, Wm. E. D. Stokes and Wm. R. Ware were appointed a committee to confer with committees of other organizations and oppose passage of this ordinance.

The Power of Arrest.

HEARING BEFORE THE COUNCIL COMMITTEE ON LAW.

The Council Committee on Law gave a public hearing yesterday on the resolution to endow the Department of Buildings with the power of arrest in cases of violation of the Building Code. Commissioner Wallace and Superintendent Gordon appeared in support of the resolution, and there were present to oppose it Wm. J. Fryer, Charles Buek, representing the West End Association; Cornelius O'Reilly, for the Real Estate Owners and Builders' Association; John P. Leo and Judson Lawson, President and Vice-President, respectively, at the head of a committee of the Builders' League; Henry Markus, President, at the head of a delegation from the United Real Estate Owners' Association, and a considerable gathering of property owners. Councilman Christman introduced the speakers who opposed the resolution. The opposition generally took the ground that in the execution of a law that could never be observed with absolute obedience to every detail severe and degrading penalties should not be allowed. That the power of arrest was a dangerous one to intrust to any official in such cases and detrimental to the progress and development of the city. This power for good cause had been taken from the Department in 1887, and never returned until the passage of the Tenement House Law this year.

John P. Leo suggested that the resolution be amended to provide that before an arrest be made a summons should be served personally and returned unsatisfied. Mr. Leo was asked and promised to frame an amendment to meet his suggestion.

Theodore Sutro made a short address in which he took the ground that it was monstrous that any man for a technical violation should be deprived of his liberty without due process of law.

W. P. Sleusley, speaking on his own behalf, bewailed the condition of the property owner under oppressive laws: "Are we lunatics, are we criminals?" he asked. "I have lived 60 years without being arrested and I would like to die without becoming a criminal. Yet I do not know whether, if I lift an axe on my own premises, I may not be arrested. We property owners are slaves. If an officer of the Health Department comes on the premises we bow down before him. A man's house is his castle no more. The state of things is such that if I could sell my property in this city, I would not own another brick. Now, I beg that for sake of the honor and prosperity of the city, you will not put any more penalties upon the property owner."

Commissioner Wallace pointed to the large number of violations, of which there were 25,000 last year, and held that the liability to arrest would serve to reduce them in future. He took the position that as the builder of a tenement was liable to arrest for violations of the Tenement House Law, the builders of other classes of buildings should be subject to the same penalty. Existing penalties were not sufficient to deter illegal acts in building.

Chairman Hottenroth, of the committee, taking up the reference to the Tenement House Law, said the committee had nothing to do with that; because the Legislature passed an obnoxious law the Assembly were not obliged to imitate them.

Mr. Fryer said the proposition of Mr. Leo was not made with the cognizance of the other delegations, and they would like to be heard thereon.

The chairman replied that if the amended proposition was at variance with the one before the committee a further hearing would be announced. The committee, he said also, would be glad to receive other suggested amendments.

The Building Material Market

Conditions and Prices

Iron and Steel.—Although locally the iron market does not show any great animation, reports from Western and intermediate points all reflect a marked degree of activity in the movement of both the pig metal and finished products. Pig iron is in continued good demand and prices are very strong, especially for Southern iron. There is a good call for iron of all sorts for early delivery and also for shipment during the early part of next year. Structural steel continues in urgent request at full prices. Old material is very active and prices are decidedly stronger, with rumors of an impending advance in quotations. There are, too, signs of a speculative movement in futures.

Lumber.—There is a good general business doing and lumber dealers express themselves as satisfied with present conditions. Spruce is in especially good demand, and Eastern spruce has been firmly held, while Adirondack is well maintained at the recent advance of 50c. White pine is in moderate demand and higher prices are being named for the better grades. Hardwoods are increasingly stiff, especially poplar, plain oak, chestnut, red birch, ash and quartered oak. Hemlock is very firm and some dealers are asking 50c. above quoted prices for boards, as they are scarce. Yellow pine prices are stiffening and demand is excellent. For North Carolina pine there is a good local demand, and dealers are talking of an advance. Cypress continues firm.

Lath.—Arrivals have continued limited and prices have not changed.

Brick, Lime and Cement.—A fairly full volume of business has been done in bricks and prices are 12½c. higher at 5.62½@6.12½ per M. for Hudson River common. Maine and State lime are moving fairly well. For Portland cement there is a good call and a fair trade is doing in Rosendale.

Builders' Hardware.—Manufacturers in many instances report that they have been booking orders less freely. The recent purchases by the jobbers have largely supplied their wants for the present. Manufacturers, however, have been kept busy making deliveries on outstanding orders. Jobbers report a good distributing business, and the general market shows a good undertone, but no important changes have been made in prices.

Nails.—A fairly large volume of business was transacted in the market for wire nails. The restriction of building by the new tenement law naturally affects the local consumption of nails. Small lots of wire nails from store are quoted at $2.60 per keg. Cut nails have had a fair sale. No change in prices was made by the manufacturers at their meeting last week, but standing prices were reaffirmed. Owing, however, to scarcity of material, manufacturers are still somewhat slow in their deliveries. Prices have continued to show some irregularity, but quotations have not changed, small lots from store being quoted at $2.18 to $2.30 per keg.

Plumbers' Supplies.—There is nothing new to report in pig tin. The demand continues to be of a hand to mouth character. The current volume of trade is light. Jobbers have not yet begun to receive shipments from the mills and their stocks are greatly depleted. Although a further advance occurred this week in the price of spot tin, both here and abroad, it is held in some quarters that the situation is artificial. The New York market was very quiet, with spot bid up to 24.40c., while it was understood that 24.50c. would have been readily accepted. Manufacturers and jobbers alike report that the demand for sheet copper continues and exceeds that of former years at this season. Prices are held firmly on the basis of 21c. per lb. for small lots from store. Rumors of a possible reduction in prices of pig-lead to quicken the demand so as to reduce accumulating stocks have been without influence on this market, which has remained quiet but steady on the basis of 4.37½c. for lots of 50 tons or more. The feeling in the galvanized sheet market is easier than last reported, but black sheets are as scarce as ever. There is still a wide range in prices, and the market is difficult to quote.

Copper.—No change has taken place in copper conditions here. Consumers are still buying only for present needs, and where the delivery extends over any length of time, the purchaser is protected by a guarantee clause. The disappearance of the premium on futures is considered an unfavorable sign by merchants. It is regarded as an indication that there is not much confidence in the future of the metal.

Glass.—There has been a slight improvement in trade during the past week and it looks as if stocks will be fairly cleaned up by the time the new fires are started. The price cutting trouble experienced during the past few weeks was considered by the executive committee of the National Window Glass Jobbers' Association at a meeting in Chicago last week, and steps will probably be taken to remedy the existing troubles. Prices were reaffirmed at the meeting and are as elsewhere quoted. Nothing official has been learned regarding the Belgian deal, but it is understood James A. Chambers, president of the American Window Glass Co., will soon take another trip to Belgium to complete negotiations.

Paints.—There has been no change in the paint trade during the week and dealers report conditions unchanged. The bulk of the business done was on contracts, very little new trade being traceable. White lead has been in good demand, but some grinders have had trouble in getting deliveries of linseed oil contracted for October. Prices in all lines remain unchanged.

Linseed Oil.—Spot supplies continue extremely light, and there is little prospect of an improvement in the situation during the balance of this month. The consumption is large and oil is needed for immediate use, consequently the demand for prompt deliveries is considerable. Naturally the market is very firm, but those who are in a position to best gauge the situation are of the opinion that prices will not be advanced on spot oil in the near future.

St. Louis Exposition Building Contracts.

Contracts for the building and grounds of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, at St. Louis, Mo., will be let about Dec. 1, 1901. The contracts to be let will involve an expenditure of about $11,000,000, of which $7,000,000 will be for buildings and $4,000,000 for the ground. The first contracts to be let will be for the four main buildings, which will cost about $4,000,000. The site to be occupied is the unfinished part of Forest Park, and this site has been surveyed and the lines of the buildings and avenues staked out. The designs for the separate buildings assigned to the individual members of the Commission of Architects, will be submitted in scale drawings by the middle of October, and the working drawings of the main buildings to be let first will be ready by Nov. 1. The lettings will be advertised for about three weeks in the leading technical journals throughout the world. There will be no geographical restriction on bidders. The main stipulation will be that the buildings be ready for occupancy at a date sufficiently far ahead of April 30, 1903, the date fixed for the opening of the exposition, to allow exhibitors time to prepare their displays for the opening. To secure completion of the buildings by this time a sufficient bond will be required of the successful bidders. All work will be under the direction of Mr. Isaac S. Taylor, Chairman of the Commission of Architects, St. Louis, Mo.

Owing to last Wednesday being New York Day at the Buffalo Exposition, the annual meeting and election of the New York Lumber Trade Association was postponed until next Wednesday, 16th inst.

M. Levenson, dealer in second-hand building materials, has opened a new office at No. 331 East 14th st, with yards at Clinton and 15th sts, Hoboken, N. J. Mr. Levenson has the contract to remove St. Rose's Roman Catholic Church on Cannon street, near Delancey street. His telephone is 2813-18th.

Sylvester A. Murphy, Superintendent of Buildings for Manhattan and the Bronx, died at his residence, 124 East 81st street, Monday night of consumption. He was appointed to his position three years ago by Commissioner Brady of the Department of Buildings, when he, with his brothers, Edward S. and Francis J. Murphy, composed the firm of Murphy Brothers, contractors and builders.

WATER-PROOF BLUE PRINTS.

Those who have experienced the annoyance of having blue prints discolored and blurred by rain, and moisture in general, will appreciate, says "Mines and Minerals," a simple and inexpensive method of waterproofing the prints which renders them completely impervious to weather and water. The waterproofing medium is refined paraffin, and may be applied by immersing the print in the melted wax, or more conveniently as follows: Immerse in melted paraffin until saturated a number of pieces of an absorbent cloth a foot or more square, and when withdrawn and cooled they are ready for use at any time. To apply to a blue print, spread one of the saturated cloths on a smooth surface, place the dry print on it with a second waxed cloth on top and iron with a moderately hot flat iron. The paper immediately absorbs paraffin until saturated and becomes translucent and highly waterproof.

The lines of the print are intensified by the process, and there is no shrinking or distortion. As the wax is withdrawn from the cloths, more can be added by melting small pieces directly under the hot iron. By immersing the print in a bath of melted paraffin, the process is hastened, but the ironing is necessary to remove the surplus wax from the surface, unless the paper is to be directly exposed to the weather and not to be handled.

TELEPHONE SYSTEMS IN PRIVATE HOUSES.

The private house of to-day, instead of being equipped with a speaking tube as was the custom a few years ago, generally has a modern telephone system connecting the various departments with each other. The main advantage of the telephone over the speaking tube is that one outlet or one telephone can be used to communicate to all of the different stations, whereas when the speaking tube was used a separate mouthpiece was needed for each and every station. There is no limit to the flexibility of a system of this description, as any station can call all the departments or it can be so wired as to call only a certain few. Arrangements should be made for bringing the cable to a point where it can be attached to wires going to the stable, greenhouse, etc., these connections being especially convenient for the lady of the house, as in ordering the carriage for a drive, etc. By a simple attachment in the owner's chamber, the telephone system can be instantly converted into an alarm system, and all the bells be made to ring at one time by the simple pressure of a special lever. This can be used in case of fire, burglars or sickness, and is very valuable in suburban residences. As to the construction, the cable itself should be installed while the house is in process of construction and should be put in place before the studding is covered with lath and plaster. The instruments themselves should not be placed on the wall until all the workmen have left the building for good, as telephones are apt to be regarded as an object of curiosity by workmen doing other work and oftentimes considerable damage is done by their carelessness.—Electrical World.

Legal Decisions.

Apartment House.—What articles are fixtures as between mortgagor and mortgagee; intent of mortgagor; how ascertained. Carpets nailed to the floors of the halls and stairways of an apartment house, window shades and gas fixtures placed in the various apartments in the usual way, detached ash cans provided for the use of the tenants, gas ranges placed in the kitchen of each department and not set in any place specially constructed for them, and which were wholly disconnected from the building except that they rested on four legs on a concrete hearth and were attached to a supply pipe and connected with flues as ordinary stoves are generally connected, are, as between the owner of the building, who installed the various articles, and a person to whom he executed a mortgage upon the apartment house, personal property as matter of law. The question whether refrigerators, placed in the alcoves specially constructed for that purpose in each apartment and connected by a waste-water pipe with the sewer, and gas logs furnished with asbestos backs inserted in the fireplace in each apartment and screwed to the supply pipe, and window awnings and iron clothes poles placed upon the roof and nailed to movable planks, and personal property, depends upon the intention of the mortgagor, to be ascertained, not from his testimony as to what he intended, nor from any undisclosed purpose or intent which he may have had, but from his acts and conduct and all the surrounding facts and circumstances.—(Cosgrove vs. Troescherr, 62 App. Div. 123.)

When a Covenant as to Light and Air Creates a Perpetual Easement.—One Pottier, being the owner of two parcels of land covered by dwellings, altered the dwellings on one of the parcels into a business building, covering the whole of that parcel, and removed that portion of the building upon the other parcel, back of fifty feet from the front thereof, so as to form a yard upon which many windows from the larger building opened. Subsequently Pottier agreed to sell to one Graves the smaller parcel, except a part of the yard, fifty feet in length and thirteen feet six inches in width, by an agreement which contained a provision to the effect that he would grant to Graves "the right to the light and air of the yard in the rear of the premises hereby agreed to be conveyed and not to build on said yard, * * * and it is understood that the stipulations aforesaid are to apply to and bind the heirs, executors, administrators and assigns of the respective parties." The deed executed in pursuance of the contract contained a grant of the right to the light and air of the yard and a covenant not to build thereon, and the habendum clause provided that the grant was "unto the said party of the second part, his heirs and assigns * * * forever." Immediately after the execution of the conveyance, Graves erected a building on the plot purchased from Pottier, which building had numerous windows opening upon the court yard in question. Held, that the covenant with reference to the court yard contained in the deed from Pottier to Graves created a perpetual easement, and that such covenant was connected with and ran with the title to the lot conveyed to Graves.—(Kahn vs. Hoge, 61 App. Div. 147.)

Lease under seal—proof, in an action for rent, of a concurrent oral agreement to repair is incompetent—effect of the tenant's retaining possession. In an action to recover rent upon a lease under seal, complete upon its face and containing no covenant to repair, evidence that prior to the execution of the lease, and as an inducement and consideration for it the plaintiff agreed to make certain repairs to the premises, to be completed upon the commencement of the term, is inadmissible where the answer alleges that such agreement of hiring and letting was made as part and parcel thereof. Van Derhoff v. Hartmann, 63 App. Div., 419.)

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing a Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to their having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482, denote that the property is in section 2 block 482.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers, the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—The letters R. S. mean Revenue Stamp, as R. S. $8.00 means Revenue Stamp $8.00.

Tax on Conveyances executed prior to July 1st, 1901, on $100 to $500, 50c., and for each additional $500 or fraction thereof, 50c.; on Conveyances executed on and after July 1st, 1901, 25c., where consideration exceeds $2,500 and is not more than $3,000, and 25c. for each additional $500 or fraction thereof.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage is drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find Mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

October 4, 5, 7, 8, 9, 10.

[1]Editor Record and Guide:

The lien filed by G. W. Billings, as trustee for Boyle & Everts Co., bankrupts, of Auburn, N.Y., is without foundation. They are not entitled to a payment, neither have they made an acceptable delivery of material to warrant advancing a payment. Steps will be taken to vacate the lien. The contract covering this lien was originally awarded to John S. White, of this city, and later assigned to Boyle & Evans Co., of Auburn, N.Y., who have failed since the assignment of this contract, and G. W. Billings was appointed as trustee. Emma Horenburger.

Editor Record and Guide:

We were paid in full by W. & W. F. Crockett for all work at No. 124 East 65th street. The lien filed Oct. 3 is for material furnished us, the bill for which we dispute.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

· · · The New
Rapid Transit Route

The interest taken in the new underground rapid transit route shows clearer than anything else how closely the future value of millions of dollars' worth of real estate is connected with this long-deferred enterprise.

So great was the demand for the rapid-transit maps issued recently by the Record and Guide, that the entire edition was exhausted.

A new edition is now ready for delivery; price, 10 cents; postage extra, 2 cents. The map has also been printed on bond paper. Price, 25 cents; postage, extra, 2 cents.

Every real estate broker, and all who are interested in real estate, should possess this map. It gives the route of the new transit lines, the location of all stations, sections of the road, etc. Will be needed for constant reference. Order at once. RECORD AND GUIDE OFFICE,
Nos. 14 and 16 Vesey St., New York City.

DO YOU KNOW THE LAW?

All laws relating to Building can be found only in the Record and Guide's publication, "The Building Laws of Greater New York." So arranged that you can find anything you want as easily as a word in a dictionary. Bound in cloth and illustrated, $3.00. Also the New Tenement House Law, in paper, $1.00; or the two together, $3.50. Send to Record and Guide, 14-16 Vesey St.

Vol. LXVIII. OCTOBER 19, 1901. No. 1753.

AT the close of the week the Stock Market took on a little character; not much, but some. Previous to that and since our last writing, it had been simply a trader's market. But now, with professional operations still very prominent, there appears buying in the best classes of stocks and bonds, as if the investment demand, which has been absent for a long time, is coming in again. There are further signs that the financing of the big railroad deals made in the past year is being taken up by the parties interested, and that in due time the public will receive propositions from these sources. When the financiers themselves, probably, could not state definitely. Everyone is aware, however, that something must be done sooner or later to give proper financial shape to the developing work that was done, and there is, of course, much curiosity regarding the probable disposition of the enormous blocks of stocks that were purchased at the highest boom prices in the mad fight that was waged for the control of the railroad situations in the Middle and Northwest. Since that time it is supposed that the contestants have come to an understanding on "spheres of influence," if not on actual ownership and dominion of territory, and all that remains to be done is to put their purchases, and exchanges if any have been made, into a shape attractive enough to induce the public to assume the pecuniary burden while they exercise the authority. Prudence suggests that this should be done speedily, because a change in the business aspect of the situation is foreshadowed by the statistics relating to the movement of large-bulk freight, such as grain, and declines in railroad earnings, though not yet apparent in the territory for which the fight of last spring was made, are becoming frequent enough to be noticeable in other parts of the country, particularly on the small lines. As we said last week, as soon as the arrangements for financing the big deals are completed, the market will be inspirited, and we may yet see a substantial upward movement before the new session of Congress opens, and business has to meet the effects of tariff or reciprocity, ship subsidy and currency discussions which always disturb things in large or small extent while they last.

IT is a distinct and certain sign of the dulness of all kinds of business in every direction when the European reports deal so exclusively as they do now with the movements of money and exchange. It shows that the papers have nothing else to talk about and, moreover, they have not been very correct on this one subject. The newspaper view of technical conditions is always, and it may be said in excuse, necessarily superficial. This, probably, accounts for the fact that the prophesied pressure on London simultaneously from New York, Berlin and Paris, has not transpired. In view of all that has been said it seems perfectly wonderful that London has kept its gold during the past two months, only parting with small quantities here and there which have been made good from other directions. In the same way the effects of the pressure on Paris seem to be exaggerated. This centre has certainly suffered from a too confident participation in Russian and German enterprises, but not apparently to a serious extent, the extent and resources of the money market being considered. It is, however, towards the end of the year that the European money market is tried most, and we must wait until then before forming conclusions. German industrial organizations are raising a strong protest against the new tariff scheme that is to be laid before the Reichstag this winter, which the Agrarians, to please whom it was drafter, will find it hard to meet. The proposed duties on grain are especially opposed, as is natural in a country that finds itself in the midst of a battle with other industrial nations, and does not raise sufficient grain to meets its own demands. As was discovered half a century or more ago in Great Britain, cheap food is a necessary factor in national industrial success; and, in the face of the facts it is surprising that the Government framed their bill in the way they did. Already the agitation may be said to have increased the injury done to business by the commercial and industrial reaction of the past year, so that Germany is in no position to invite the tariff reprisals which would follow the passage of the bill. However, judging from the numbers and influence of the German public who oppose the bill compared with those who favor it, who seem to be restricted to official and agricultural circles, the bill has a hard time before it and little probability of passing, but the discussion of its provisions has in meantime a bad effect on German and co-related business.

The Real Issue.

THE speeches delivered on both sides in the present municipal campaign contain but few references to the subject which must be uppermost in the minds of the majority of New York taxpayers. What these taxpayers would like to know definitely is that any man for whom they vote will give a large part of his energy, industry and ability to the task of establishing some relation of equality between the expenses of the city and its sources of income. And this surely is a very modest and an essentially just demand. During the past few years, not only has the tax rate been increased almost twenty-five per cent, but, wherever possible, assessments have also been forced up to the highest endurable level. At first it was demanded that an attempt be made to reduce the rate to something like its former figure, but a long and hard experience of the apparent helplessness of any official person or any official body to restore former conditions has led to a modification of this demand. At the present time the utmost that it seems practicable to ask is some assurance that expenditure will not continue to exceed the increase in taxable resources. Yet obviously there is grave danger that such will be the case. As one reads the proceedings of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, one gets some small realization of the continual pressure for more money to spend by every department in the city government, of the actual need which exists for much of this increased expenditure, and of the extraordinary obstacles in the path, even of the most economically inclined Board of Estimate. It is not merely that the growing population of the city continually demands new schools, more police protection, and ever more costly public improvements. Increased expenditure on such accounts would no doubt be covered by the normal expansion of assessed valuations. But the trouble is that the city is always assuming more numerous and more costly responsibilities. The New Tenement House Commission needs $500,000 for its first year's work, and if it intends to enforce the law will soon need more. Within a short time the branch public libraries will be making a like demand upon the city treasury, and so it goes. There are hundreds of good ways of spending the money. There is only one way of footing the bills. Unless some economies are made to counterbalance these prospective outlays, or some new taxable asset discovered and used, a further increase in the tax rate is as sure as anything under the sun.

In view of this situation, what property owners would like is not merely vague protestations against extravagance or in favor of economy, but some indication that the whole financial situation is being carefully studied, and that the danger to their interests is fully appreciated. Such indications are wholly lacking. To the obvious question: What is to be done to establish a proper correspondence between future expenditure and future income? the fusionists would answer "Elect Seth Low," and their opponents "Elect Edward Shepard;" but as long as neither candidate seems to understand the urgency of the difficulty, and the disastrous effect which a further increase of taxation would have upon the prosperity of the city, neither answer seems conclusive. If anybody should reply that this is a question to be studied after rather than before election, the answer is that not merely a vague but a definite statement of policy upon such points is something which every taxpayer has a right to expect, and that a mayor's actions subsequent to his election is determined largely by the public promises he has made and by the problems of municipal business which he has emphasized during his campaign. The trouble has always been that the money is continually spent without any careful calculation of resources, and that instead of wise foresight as to ways and means one administration after another merely drifts along—one party being as responsible as the other for the expenditure, and both being much more interested in the appropriation of the money than in its careful collection. This situation comes about because the people from whom it is collected form only a relatively small class in the community. The millions of people who live in rented apartments and houses all over the city have not the slightest idea whether taxes are burdensome or the reverse, and the consequence is that, whereas the numerous ratepayers in England actually superintend the expenditure of their own money, and prevent its malappropriation, the much smaller body of taxpayers in New York have little influence over municipal business. The property-owner as such is not high in the councils, either of Tammany, of the Republicans, or of the reformers; and for the Legislature he is a negligable quantity. What is still more remarkable, he submits meekly to this treatment. He possesses no authoritative organization which could protect his interests, give expression to his needs and opinion, and play the part of a vigilance committee over city expenditures. It is no wonder that the politicians of all parties are prone to ignore him.

The Real Estate Situation

Phases of the Market.

The real estate market has perceptibly broadened and strengthened during the past week. Not only have there been the usual sales of residences on the East Side and elsewhere, and the usual speculative purchases in the neighborhood of Longacre Square, but there have been a number of transactions of a less familiar character. For the first time in months there are some indications of further building on the West Side, particularly along the line of Broadway; a good many flats and tenements have changed hands, and one large purchase in the financial district is reported. All this is indubitable testimony to the existence of a fair inquiry for almost every class of real estate, and may be taken to be partly a consequence of the good renting, which has been going on this fall, and partly its natural accompaniment. Whatever a general diffusion of prosperity can do for real estate is being done. Retail trade is brisk. Small jobbers all over the city have more work offered than they can take care of. Large amounts of money are being spent in the alteration and re-decoration of houses. Business men are buying residences for their own occupancy, hiring or purchasing increased room to accommodate increasing trade. At least four large financial institutions are investing or proposing to invest a part of their increasing surplus in office-building. Public and private improvements are being undertaken on a larger scale than at any previous period in the city's history, and the enormous demand for labor which results therefrom, keeps the tenement houses well rented. In short, wherever and however business can directly affect real estate, activity prevails, and good prices are the rule; and this prevalent demand for the actual use of space and buildings is very decidedly the most wholesome influence at present governing the condition of the market.

It would be sheer mental blindnes and confusion, however, not to distinguish between the direct demand for space and buildings caused by good business and a specific investment demand. That is the one good thing which has not descended upon the real estate market, and of which there is no present prospect. During the past year there has been the liveliest and the solidest kind of speculative activity in all sorts of property, but the people who have bought and improved much of this property are holding it for a re-sale. It has not been taken out of the market. Wherever property has been taken out of the market, it was because business men wanted it for their own use—either residential or commercial—not because capitalists were proposing permanently to invest money in New York real estate. We do not mean, of course, that no capital at all is seeking permanent investment in real property. The Astors alone have recently spent and are still spending millions of dollars in this way; and there is always a steady investment demand for tenements. But flats, apartment houses and residences are not in good demand for investment purposes; and it may be said in general that it is chiefly people who have a special knowledge of real estate or interest in it, who continue to buy it as an investment, and even some of them have been discouraged.

For many reasons real estate has not regained the hold, which it had upon capitalists, small and large, before the recent increase in taxation. That increase of taxes was in the beginning paid entirely by property-owners out of their own pockets, and it decreased the actual value of real estate as measured by the income which could be derived from it by hundreds of millions. The market value of property did not actually fall to that extent, because the property was strongly held, and its owners had faith in the future of the city and their ability to retrieve themselves. But it did give real estate a black eye from the investment point of view, and discouraged further purchases of that kind. More recently, property-owners have been able in some cases to advance their rents, and to secure increased returns; but public confidence in real estate as an investment has not been restored; and for this there are some important reasons not connected with taxation. The truth is that the precise investment value of a number of very popular types of building has not as yet been thoroughly established. Flat-building on the West Side has been steadily kept just enough ahead of the demand to cause a large proportion of vacancies, and this proportion of vacancies has had a tendency to demoralize both the renting and the selling market. Many vacancies is a peculiarly disastrous thing in such buildings as the new seven-story apartment houses, for the expense of operating such buildings is very heavy, and unless they are tolerably well filled, they cause a loss not merely of the interest on invested capital, but of actual money paid out for heat and light, to run the elevators and so on. Fortunately the proportion of vacancies is now coming to decrease, and these buildings should grow in favor as investments. It cannot be expected that conditions will become entirely settled for several years to come. The popular classes of apartment houses and hotels place a much heavier responsibility on the investor than residences or tenements; and they must win their way into the favor of capitalists by producing in the beginning exceptionally good returns. Such buildings are often owned in Paris by large investment companies, which make a business of building and managing them; and we should not be surprised to see something of the same kind take place in New York.

A Four-Story Advertisement.

The Record and Guide has frequently pointed out that the erection of twenty-story buildings in the financial district was not a process which could go on indefinitely. If the narrow streets of that part of the city were covered with nothing but "sky-scrapers," the result would be a lack of light and air in the lower stories of those buildings which would be intolerable to their occupants and disastrous to their owners. We should probably have a "sky-scraper" commission appointed to look after the well-being of banks' and brokers' clerks. But in truth, while the lower stories of many of these buildings are but ill-provided with light and air, there is no danger that they will take complete possession of the downtown streets. Their increase is subjected to self-imposed restrictions. The owners of these buildings in many cases have purchased abutting property in order to protect their light and air; and the necessity for taking these precautions is likely in the future to grow more rather than less compulsory. In view of this fact the purchase by Speyer Bros. of a plot 58x72 on the north side of Pine St. 94 ft. east of Nassau, has a peculiar interest. It is announced that the purchasers propose to improve with a bank building, not any taller than the Clearing House, and if this is their intention the location is admirably adapted to such constructional moderation, for the light of the low building will be secured by the Sub-Treasury on the front, and some buildings on the rear owned by the Mutual Life and not to be improved. This is the only instance in which a banking house or institution have failed to avail themselves of the chance of erecting a tall building on a downtown plot. The Park National Bank is said to be hesitating between a six and a twenty-story building; but the latter is likely to prevail. But while the example of Speyer Bros. is unique, and is not likely to be extensively imitated, still the example may be followed in some instances. No advertisement of financial exuberance and stability could be so impressive as the erection of a four-story building on a lot that cost about $125 a square foot. It would to the knowing mind be as impressive, if not more so, than a twenty-story building on the site of the present Custom House. So it is possible that at least some of the considerable number of parcels already reserved by the owners of existing office buildings, may eventually be bought by prosperous banking houses and institutions and used by them as Speyer Bros. is using the parcel on Pine St. The advantages of occupying the whole of a building must be considerable in the way of convenience and comfort.

VERY little attention seems to be given to one side of the central tunnel question by the city officials, and that is the side of the owners of property and residents on Park avenue, which, in our humble opinion, is as important as the other side, that of the travelers; and, as is pointed out in the letter from Mr. D. Y. Swainson to the President of the Health Board, given in another column, this is being sacrificed. It must be remembered that there are two distinct sources of complaint against this abominable tunnel: One, the passengers who for a portion of the year are stewed in it; the other, the residents on Park avenue who are all the year annoyed by its noxious fumes and noise. Not only is one claim to redress as strong as the other, but, as the letter quoted points out, the first duty of the city authorities is towards its residents, rather than towards those who live elsewhere. It is the duty of the authorities, of course, to help making travel and business in the city as attractive as possible, but it is not their duty to sanction a remedy for a defect that increases the discomfort of residents who are joint-complainants with non-residents.

THE numerous gentlemen in this city who take an active part in the discussion of questions relating to taxation, will do well to consider the report of the Tax Department just issued, especially that part in which President Feitner refers to the policy of the Legislature which, while on one hand imposes mandates on the city involving heavy expenditures, on the other takes from the city tax-assets in which to raise State income independently of the city, and thus reduces its ability to obey mandatory law, such as that regulating the salaries of school teachers. Some modification of this policy which would make one act compensatory of the other rather than aggravatory, would be a tax-reform that would be highly appreciated by the property owner.

Ante-New Law Tenements.

THE ALTERATIONS REQUIRED BY THE NEW LAW AND THEIR COST — LAWRENCE VEILLER TAKES ISSUE WITH THE RECORD AND GUIDE.

New York, October 14, 1901.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Sir: I have read with considerable interest the editorial in your issue of October 5th, entitled "Ante-New Law Tenements," and a number of similar articles in different issues. So many misleading statements have been made in regard to the effect of the new tenement house law, both on old buildings and on new buildings, that it seems time to call the attention of builders, real estate owners, and operators to the real facts as they exist The editorial in your issue of October 5th, to which I refer, is so striking an example of this general misunderstanding of the law that I feel that I must take up with you certain statements that you have made which are absolutely incorrect.

Your article deals with changes that are necessary in now-existing tenement houses, i. e., alterations that must be made by the owner, whether he wishes to or not, upon the order of the Department of Health, or, after January 1st, the Tenement House Department. You say, "the alterations required in old tenements run all the way from a moderate amount of fireproofing to the insertion of an air shaft, which will necessitate expensive structural changes, carrying away one room on each floor and thereby destroying the financial scheme on which such buildings are generally run." In the first place, there is absolutely no provision of the tenement house act which requires the owner of a now-existing tenement house to make alterations in his building for even a "moderate amount" of fireproofing.

Similarly, there is no provision of the tenement house act which compels the owner of a now-existing tenement house to construct an air shaft in his building if he does not desire to do so. What the new law does require in regard to cetain types of now-existing tenement houses is a very different proposition. As you are aware, there are a certain number of tenement houses in this city (and almost entirely in Manhattan) in which there are a number of dark interior rooms, receiving no light or air except that which comes from another room, or from the public hallway of the house. This class of buildings may be divided into two different types. First—Those houses which are four rooms deep (eight rooms on a floor), in which the two front rooms and two rear rooms secure light and air from the street and yard, and in which there are four interior rooms which are at the present time dark and unventilated. The changes that would have to be made in this type of building in order to comply with the new law are very simple. They consist simply in removing the present wooden or plaster partitions separating the two rooms and substituting in their place partitions in which there is a movable sash window, the window to be 3 feet wide and 5 feet high, and one-half of it made to open. As you will admit, these slight alterations will entail the very least amount of expense upon the owner, practically almost nothing, and will bring light and air into the present dark and unventilated rooms, and will materially improve the property. So much for the houses that are four rooms deep, of which there are probably in this city not more than 5,000.

Now, for the other type of tenement house, namely, where there are six rooms in a line on each side of the hallway (twelve rooms on a floor). In this case the circumstances are different. Here there are two rooms at the front and two rooms at the back getting light and air from the street and yard, respectively, and eight rooms on each floor getting no light whatsoever, except that which they receive from other rooms or from the hallways of the buildings. In the case of a house of this kind there are many different ways of complying with the provisions of section 79 of the tenement house act. The four rooms adjoining the front and rear rooms, can be made to comply with the law by the putting in of sash windows in the partitions between the rooms in question and the outer rooms. This is a very slight expense. After this has been done, however, there are still four innermost dark interior bedrooms on each floor which must be, according to the new law, provided with some means of light and ventilation. This may be done in several ways.

(1) If the bedroom in question happens to be next to an air shaft of an adjoining building on different property, which contains at least 25 square feet in area, a window may be cut into the wall of the room in question opening upon this air shaft, and the law will thus be complied with even though the air shaft is on an adjoining lot. Similarly, if the room in question happens to adjoin a neighboring yard, a window may be cut into the wall opening on this yard and the law will be complied with. In some cases this will be perfectly feasible and will entail but slight expense. In other cases, of course, this will not be feasible.

(2) Where the method suggested in number one cannot be employed, the simplest and best thing for the owner to do is to take down the partitions, thus making his three-room apartment to a certain extent a two-room apartment. He will then fully comply with the law. I appreciate that this may involve slight reduction in the rental power of the building, but I doubt very much if it will even do that, as no space will be lost, and the tenants can draw a curtain between the two rooms if they desire privacy. As a matter of fact, in this class of buildings the tenants are generally poor people who pay low rents, and who, as a rule, sleep in the parlor (and in summer on the fire-escapes, roofs and sidewalks), and who use this innermost bedroom generally for the storage of their clothes and trunks.

(3) The third method by which the law can be complied with is the construction of an air shaft in those buildings which now have no air shaft. In such cases the air shaft would have to be at least 4 feet by 6¼, and such a shaft would have to be fireproof and be provided with a door at the bottom. What the expense of putting in an air shaft in a tenement house of this type would be would depend very largely upon the particular conditions in each building, but would certainly not be the ridiculous amount quoted by the opponents of the law. The putting in of an air shaft will, of course, involve the giving up of at least two rooms on each floor, and is a method that I should think would not be generally employed.

You say in your article that "a special provision renders useless any bedroom not containing 600 cubic feet of air space." This is not so. The provision you have reference to refers only to the case of dark interior bedrooms without means of light and ventilation. Rooms in existing tenement houses which have a window opening on the street or yard, or on a court or shaft of not less than 25 square feet in area, are not required to have 600 cubic feet of air space, or 60 square feet of floor area.

You state further that the law "limits the number of persons using a bedroom to a divisor of the cubic-air space that will produce 600 cubic feet for each, and that the landlord is most absurdedly required to see that this provision is obeyed, and he is to be liable to a heavy fine or a term in jail if he fails to do so."

This is not so. The law in section 112 provides that "no room in any tenement house shall be so overcrowded that there shall be afforded less than 400 cubic feet of air to each adult and 200 cubic feet of air to each child under twelve years of age occupying such room, and no apartment in any tenement house shall be so overcrowded that there shall be afforded in the living rooms and bedrooms [combined] of said apartment less than 600 cubic feet of air to each individual occupying such apartment [or suite of rooms]." This is practically the same requirement as existed in the old law since 1895, being enacted in chapter 567 of the laws of that year, and having been contained in section 1,321 of the Greater New York Charter. As a matter of fact, this provision of the new law is much less stringent than the old law, the laws of this state since 1879 having required that there should be at least 600 cubic feet of air to each occupant of every room in a tenement house, a provision which has been continued in every piece of legislation from 1879 until 1895.

You say that "in addition to facing a certain loss of rental value the owner will have to provide additional capital to meet the expense of squaring his building with the law. This expense will run from a few hundred to five or six thousand dollars." As has been shown above, this is entirely incorrect. Not only a very slight decrease in rental, if any, will be entailed, but a practically nominal expense in the way of alteration in this class of buildings in order to comply with the provisions of the law in regard to light and ventilation of now-existing tenement houses.

It would be unfair to leave the impression that there are no alterations required in now-existing tenement houses, for that is not so. There are a certain number of alterations that will have to be made in addition to what has above been set forth, and they are the following:

(1) Where the water-closet accommodations are now located in the yard, in school sinks or privy vaults, the owner must, before January 1, 1903, remove the school sinks or privy vaults and replace them with water-closets in sufficient quantities, so that there will be one water-closet for every two families or apartments in the building. The law does not specify how this shall be done, but gives to the owner great latitude. It may be done in any of the following ways:

(a) He may put long hopper water-closets out of doors provided he can protect the pipes, traps and flush tanks from frost.

(b) He may give up the use of one room on the ground floor of his building at the rear adjoining the yard (or in any other place he likes opening on the outer air), and put all the water-closet accommodations in this one room, of course, separating the water-closets by partitions.

(c) He may put water-closet accommodations on each floor of the building, either by building an extension off the rear rooms by giving up one of the inner bedrooms opening on a shaft for the purpose, or he can very easily in many cases, by taking off a small part of his kitchen and shifting his wash tubs, put the water-closets adjoining the two kitchens. Any one of these ways will comply with the new law.

(2) Where the public hallway is now dark the owner is required by April 12, 1902, to remove the wooden panels from the doors which lead from the public hallway to the rooms, and substitute glass panels. It is to be noted that this will not apply to flat houses where there are private halls, not will it apply to any tenement house which is not four stories in height. Section 80 of the tenement house act also provides other ways in which this same result may be accomplished if the owner prefers to adopt other methods, but this will undoubtedly be the cheapest and simplest way, and will be much cheaper for the owner than it would have been to have kept a light burning from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m. every day, as was required by the old law. It of course would not be as cheap as paying no attention to the old law and keeping no light burning.

(3) Every tenement house must be provided with a ventilating skylight in the roof over the stair well, the glazed surface of the light to be not less than 25 square feet in area. The laws of this state since 1867 have required such a ventilator in all tenement houses, no matter when erected, but the size of the ventilator has been left to the discretion of the Department of Buildings.

(4) Where there are water-closets enclosed with woodwork, the woodwork must be removed from the front of the closet and the space underneath the seat left open, and the floor beneath the closet must be kept in good order and painted with white paint. A similar provision exists in regard to sinks located in the public hallways or stairs, but does not apply to sinks located in the apartments.

(5) A self-closing fireproof door must be provided at the bottom of every shaft or inner court, so as to enable the shaft or court to be cleaned out.

No other alterations or changes beyond those mentioned above are required by the tenement house act in now-existing tenement houses, and the attention of real estate owners should be called to the fact that they are given one year's time in which to make any such changes, and that these changes need not be made before April 12, 1902, and that in the case of the removal of school sinks and privy vaults, this need not be done until January 1, 1903.

I must differ with the Record and Guide when they say that "those who are responsible for the tenement house law kept their eyes fixed upon Cherry Hill, framing a law that applies to the whole of Greater New York." This was not the case. The Tenement House Commission were quite as conversant with the very greatly differing conditions in the different sections of the city, as the Record and Guide, and never lost sight of the fact that the tenement house law affected the apartment houses of Riverside Drive and West End av, the flats of Harlem and the three-family houses of Brooklyn, the Bronx and Richmond, as well as the tenements of Hester st and Cherry Hill.

Yours sincerely,

LAWRENCE VEILLER.

The writer of this letter it will be seen goes the length of courtesy in characterizing our statements, but let us take up his denials in detail in order to see who is right and who is wrong:

"There is absolutely no provision of the tenement house act which requires the owner of a now existing tenement house to make alterations in his building for even a 'moderate amount' of fireproofing." This is not correct for Section 41 (Title III. Provisions applicable to all tenement houses hereafter erected or now existing), says: "No bakery and no place of business in which fat is boiled shall be maintained in any tenement house which is not fireproof throughout, unless the ceiling and sidewalls of said bakery or of said place where fat boiling is done are made safe by fireproof materials around the same." Had we used the term fire-protection, which would better have explained our meaning, instead of fireproofing, it could have been supported by quotations from the act, as for instance (Section 32); "Every now existing tenement shall have in the roof a bulkhead or scuttle. * * * Every bulkhead hereafter constructed in a tenement house shall be fireproof," etc., and (Section 37) "All shafts hereafter constructed in tenement houses shall be constructed fireproof throughout," etc. There are besides other provisions for minor fire protection.

"There is no provision of the tenement house act which compels the owner of a now existing tenement house to construct an air-shaft in his building, if he does not desire to do so."

This is simply hair-splitting. If the act lays down conditions which can only be met by the construction of a shaft, it is no distortion or perversion of language to say that it compels the construction of a shaft. Especially is this so as the act foresees the employment of shafts and provides for their size and manner of construction when used. These conditions will be met in the 4-room deep tenements by the cutting of windows between the outer and inner rooms as Mr. Veiller states, and it will not as any practical man can see, require the removal of the partitions to insert windows. But in the case of five and six-room deep tenements the problem is one of considerable difficulty and not to be solved in the easy way described by Mr. Veiller in his letter. In the first place, where the bedroom adjoins an air-shaft 25 sq. ft. in area, of a different property, the owner of the bedroom could not cut a window into the shaft without the consent of the owner thereof, who might, otherwise, if he chose close up the newly-opened windows with iron or other covering. Furthermore, it has for a long time been the rule of the Health and Building Departments, before allowing an opening onto an adjoining yard, even when the owner of the two properties is one and the same, to require an easement to be filed in order that a change of ownership of either parcel may not thereafter be followed by the obstruction of the opening. There are other objections to this proposition, but it is not necessary to go into them; we may, however, mention that there are many old houses that already have shafts, but not of the area required by the new law and these shafts will have to be enlarged. As to tearing down partitions and making three-room apartments into two-room ones, with one room, say 12 ft. deep and the other 20 ft. deep, that certainly has not occurred to an owner, or if it has occurred to him has been promptly dismissed, for the reason that it would not be possible to let such apartments except at a great sacrifice, in the face of the competition of numerous other existing three-room apartments in which this alteration is not required. Consequently the light shaft and the sacrifice of inner rooms is thought to be the only solution of the problem, having proper regard to its business side.

That the law does not limit the number of persons occupying a bedroom to a divisor of the cubic air space that will provide 600 cubic feet for each.

The law (Section 112) says: "No apartment in any tenement house shall be so overcrowded that there shall be afforded in the living rooms and bedrooms of said apartment less than six hundred cubic feet of air to each individual occupying such apartment." This, without Mr. Veiller's interpolations, is capable of the construction put upon it, that each occupant of a bedroom must have 600 cubic feet of air space per occupant. This construction is due to the fact that the act is to be literally obeyed and the absence of the definition of "apartment" in the law allows that word to be used interchangeably with the "room." In this matter Sections 79 and 112 must be read together.

That our assertion that the cost will run from a few hundred to five or six thousand dollars, has been shown to be entirely incorrect.

This is not so, either partially or entirely. Mr. Veiller has simply expressed his personal opinion that the cost would be slight, that is all. He gives no estimates, and practical people will not endorse his view. The expense to the owner of any particular house is the cost of all the work required to be done in that house under the law, whether the work is to be completed in a day, or a year or two years. The sum of work enumerated by Mr. Veiller gives an intimation of a pretty big alteration bill wherever any considerable proportion of the items has to be carried out, and even he has omitted the roof bulkhead or scuttle and the fireproof stairs leading thereto, which, where required, will be a pretty big item alone. On the whole, while ready to be corrected, we prefer to stand by our own statement of cost, general as it is, rather than to accept Mr. Veiller's vague ones. That he has but an inadequate idea of the pecuniary significance of the sacrifices called for by the act is shown by his suggestion that the best room in the rear apartment should be cut off and devoted to water closets.

That the Tenement House Commission were aware of the differing conditions in different sections of the city, etc.

If that is so, it is a great pity that the Commission did not differentiate in their provisions for these different sections, as, for instance, so as not to require a fireproof shaft in a frame building, which is as valuable a precaution against loss of life by fire as the fireproof stairway in the top story of a non-fireproof brick building.—Editor Record and Guide.

Working Under the New Law.

JANITORS' APARTMENTS AND FIRE ESCAPES.

Neville & Bagge add some suggestions to those already given for the modification of the Tenement House Law. They say they find that the provisions relating to janitors' quarters are confused, if not conflicting. Section 91 describes the conditions under which janitors' apartments will be allowed. It says they shall not be in a cellar, but may be in a basement if the ceiling is 9 ft. from the floor and 4 ft. 6 ins. above the surface of the street or adjoining ground; another section (2, part 7) says: "A basement is a story partly but not more than one-half below the level of the curb." A tenement less than 40 ft. wide is limited to 5 stories and 57 ft. in height. Construing these together, the Department of Buildings will not sanction a plan for a 5-sty flat, with janitor's quarters in the basement, holding that the basement is a story. "Now," say Neville & Bagge, "we do not think this was the intention of the framers of the law, but the department has no discretion, and there it is, and the practical result is, that we cannot put a janitor in a basement of a 5-sty flat unless the latter is more than 40 ft. wide. We think the law ought to be amended so that we could.

This firm also think that where a fireproof staircase is placed in the front of the building, as is shown in the diagram herewith, which gives the floor plan of a 2-family flat designed by them, and approved by the department, it ought not to be necessary also to put a fire-escape on the outside of the building, which the Department of Buildings have insisted upon in this case. It will be seen that there is a fire-escape on the rear directly accessible to each apartment, and, in the view of Neville & Bagge, all reasonable precautions in the front are provided by the fireproof staircase there, and the Department of Buildings should have discretion to permit the omission of the front fire-escape. The diagram given is interesting as a floor plan drawn under the new law and approved by the department, as well as an illustration of the point the architects make. They could not put the stairway anywhere but in the front. If they had put in on the side they could not have given each family an outlook on the street, but would have had to put one front and one rear, which would not have been acceptable to the owner. If they had put the staircase in the centre of the building, they could not then have complied with the law as to light and ventilation.

Other objections made by Neville & Bagge were covered by the statements of other architects given last week. Their general view of the law is that while, probably, some new provisions were required for the cheaper class of tenements, they should not have been extended to the high-class apartment houses, which were already sufficiently lighted and ventilated. The consequence of their having been so is the practical stoppage of the erection of this class. In answer to a question, they said this was not due to previous over-building, but to the fact that the law makes this class of building in the main unprofitable.

Mr. Fromme's Candidacy.

Mr. Fromme's many friends in real estate and legal circles will extend to him cordial wishes for his success in the coming political contest. Even many whose partisan leanings are not the same as Mr. Fromme's will view his candidacy for President of the Borough of Manhattan with friendly feelings, because of the deal of excellent work he did as Register of the county. The nomination to the Presidency of the Borough of Manhattan was tended to Mr. Fromme by Mr. Joseph Mulqueen in behalf of the Notification Committee, and in reply to the complimentary remarks made, Mr. Fromme said:

Mr. Mulqueen, and Gentlemen of the Committee:

I am deeply moved by the handsome manner in which, through your spokesman, you convey to me the nomination of President of the Borough of Manhattan. I accept the nomination and am profoundly grateful to our organization for this additional and greatest manifestation of confidence reposed in me. I am told by your spokesman that as Register of this County I have given satisfaction to the lawyers, real estate men and others having business with the office. If that be so, it is because I hold that a public official should do his duty and in doing so must act for all the people. So will I continue to act. The importance of the office of President of the Borough of Manhattan is materially increased by the new charter. It includes the Department of Highways and Public Works, the Department of Buildings, the Department of Public Buildings and Supplies, the Department of Sewers and Tunnels, the making of all contracts connected therewith, the initiation of all street openings, parks, approaches to bridges and tunnels, and all other improvements. It gives a seat in the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, passing on the appropriations for the entire city with two votes for this borough. Necessarily the duties of this office, if honestly and efficiently administered, make for the betterment of this city and tend to increase real estate values. On these lines will I conduct the office. I have no friends to reward nor enemies to punish. I will execute the duties of the office with fidelity, to the benefit of the city and its citizens, mindful at all times that he serves his party best who serves the people best. I stand for the Democratic Party at all times. I stand for the Democratic platform. I stand for the Democratic candidates. I stand for New York for New Yorkers. I will always be true to myself and shall always act and shall so discharge the additional duties intrusted to me as to render myself worthy of the honor you have conferred and merit the trust that you have reposed in me.

The Power of Arrest.

At the adjourned hearing yesterday by the Council Committee on Law on the proposed amendment to the Building Code, making misdemeanors of violations of that instrument, it was stated that the promised additions or modifications of the proposal had not been received. The New York Chapter of the American Institute of Architects has formally condemned the amendment, and authorized opposition to be made to its enactment. In view of what has and is taking place, it would not be surprising if nothing more was heard of this amendment until after election, and perhaps not even then.

The Tunnel and Park Av. Residents.

Property-owners and residents on Park av feel that their interests are being further injured by the plan approved by the Health Department for changing the N. Y. Central tunnel, and are protesting against its adoption and execution. Their feeling is expressed by the following letter, which has been sent to John B. Sexton, President of the Health Department, by D. Y. Swainson, of Firm of Leonard J. Carpenter:

41 Liberty St., New York, October 11, 1901.

Mr. John B. Sexton, President, Health Department, New York City:

Dear Sir—We are agents representing the following properties: 586 Park av, 583 and 585 Park av, 1028, 1030 and 1034 Park av, 1049, 1051 and 1053 Park av, and wish to enter our protest against the openings being enlarged, or any additional ones being made, to the 4th av tunnel. This looks like sacrificing the people of the city for people who live out of it, and we think the taxpayers should receive first consideration from our city authorities.

We want to place upon record our strongest protest against this injustice.

Yours respectfully,

(Signed.) D. Y. SWAINSON.

Property-Owners' Tenement House Committee.

The Tenement House Committee of the United Real Estate Owners' Association are comfortably established in their permanent quarters, Room 311, on the third floor of No. 99 Nassau st, having removed from the temporary office on the first floor.

The committee met last Tuesday and appointed a sub-committee to confer with legal authorities on the constitutionality of the obnoxious provisions of the Tenement House Law, relating to now-existing tenement houses. This sub-committee consists of Edward J. Tamson, Jacob Appell, Geo. G. Banzer and Bauer and Adolph Bloch and Ira J. Ettinger, counsel to the committee.

The committee are also preparing a bill to send up to Albany, if necessary, repealing the obnoxious and oppressive features of the provisions of the law, in which they are most directly interested. Councilman Christman, the untiring and enthusiastic chairman, is taking a prominent part in this, as in all other parts of the committee's work.

The report, if true, that a large purchase has been made on Gravesend Bay, between Bay 49th st and Coney Island Creek, at which to create a yachting and boating centre, has an interest both to builders and owners of other property in the vicinity. It is said that Charles E. Hill, of No. 149 Broadway, New York, as attorney for a number of influential yachtsmen, has purchased 175 acres within the limits given, having a frontage of 3,200 ft. on the Bay and 4,500 on the Creek, for $300,000, and that boat-buildings, sail-making, etc., will be established there, and a basin formed which will be a great rendezvous and storage for pleasure craft.

W. E. Harmon has contracted to purchase the J. H. Van Brunt farm of 62 acres, bounded easterly by Flatbush av, Amersford pl and Hubbard farm, northerly by land of Dowling, westerly by Ocean av and land of Henderson & Magaw, and south by the Hubbard & Magaw farms, the contract price being $4,000 per acre. The same purchaser has also signed a contract with John H Shults for the 75 acres, bounded by Ocean Parkway, Coney Island av lands of Bay Ridge & Manhattan Beach Railway, and lands formerly of the estate of Henry Johnson, the purchaser agreeing to pay $5,000 per acre.

The commission appointed by the Supreme Court—Appellate Division, to take testimony as to the necessity for building the Brooklyn end of the Rapid Transit R. R., and the desirability of the route, consists of William C. Bryant, Richard H. Laimbeer and Frederick H. Kellogg.

It is said that the Brooklyn Heights Railroad Co. or allied interests will build a large number of 2-family houses adjoining their new depot at Lincoln Park for the benefit of their employes.

In the registration of the first two days the 29th and 32d Wards showed up favorably as compared with other wards, indicating a good and substantial movement of population to them.

It is proposed that the trolley line on Vanderbilt av should be extended through 16th av to Bensonhurst in order to increase the transit facilities of that section.

Real Estate Notes.

Thomas S. Walker, of Hall J. How & Co., has returend to the city from his summer home in the Adirondacks.

James Livingston is completing a second group of six American-basement private dwellings on the north side of West 100th st, near Riverside Drive, adjoining the six completed by him last spring. They vary in the size of frontage.

To better accommodate a growing clientele and to keep in step with the extension of the business district northward, Julius Friend, of No. 695 Broadway, corner of 4th st, has opened an uptown real estate office at No. 489 5th av, near 42d st. Pierre G. Carroll, who has been with Mr. Friend for many years, continues as his chief-of-staff. At the uptown office R. Telfair Smith and Wm. S. Bogart are able workers, assisted by Mr. Carroll.

Edward Polak, real estate broker, has removed from No. 3473 3d av to more commodious offices at No. 4030 3d av, corner of 174th st. Mr. Polak has been for many years an energetic and successful worker in Bronx Borough property.

Morris Hess, of the firm of M. & L. Hess, died last Saturday at his late residence, No. 34 West 89th st. He was 55 years of age, and had been active in real estate for the last 15 years. He leaves a wife, three daughters and two sons. L. Hess, his brother, died 5 years ago.

The plot on 5th av, from 104th to 105th st, fronting 125 feet on 104th st and 200 feet on 105th st, and for which Isaac H. Clothier was reported to have paid $400,000, was purchased by him for $350,000. He sold it to Benjamin Stern for $415,000; the price reported at the time of the resale was in the neighborhood of $500,000.

The delay in completing the connection of the new viaduct extension of Riverside Drive with the Boulevard Lafayette is said to be due to unexpected obstables in the clearing-up of technical points relating to the new sewerage system in the vicinity of the extension, on which the completion of the specifications for the work is waiting.

Friends of the well-known broker, Mr. Delancey T. Smith, will regret to learn that his wife, Mrs. Margaret Abell Smith, died suddenly last Sunday at her residence, No. 222 West 71st st. Mrs. Smith was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hawk Hussey, of Buffalo, who had been prominent in the business and social affairs of that city, and a cousin of Mr. Daniel O'Day, of the Standard Oil Company. She was married in St. Patrick's Cathedral on November 7, 1894, to Mr. Smith. Mrs. Smith was a woman of engaging manner and strong character, and was much devoted to church and private charities, to which she gave both her means and her time. She leaves two daughters, Miss Edna Abell, a daughter by a former marriage, and Mrs. Eugene N. Robinson.

There were filed in the Supreme Court this week ten complaints in actions brought by Rebecca Ann McDonald to recover about $100,000,000 worth of property in this city. These suits are said to be the first instalment of 280 which will affect titles to property on 5th, 6th and Madison avs, and in the side streets from 12th to 16th and 35th to 42d sts. One action is against Robert B. Roosevelt, uncle of President Roosevelt, as owner of No. 57 5th av, and another affects title to the property of General Henry L. Burnett, United States District Attorney, at No. 7 East 12th st. Others who are sued are Julia C. S. Grant, George A. Plimpton, Ida M. Ryan, Peter R. Bonnet, Abraham Valentine, George A. Hearn, Mary A. Fitz Gerald and the MacWilliam Company.

The auction sales for the week exposed an instance of borrowing on easy terms, which is probably unique in the history of New York real estate. Mr. William M. Ryan sold under foreclosure a house at No. 13 Horatio st for $7,350. According to the records, the mortgage indebtedness on this property amounted to $21,434, and the unpaid taxes to $394. The property is not now, and never has been, worth much more than the price which it brought, so that the amount of the indebtedness seems to argue an ability on the mortgagee to borrow money on real property, which, if fully exercised, would have been sufficient to make his fortune. The facts, however, show that this particular loan was made under circumstances which were altogether exceptional. The amount of money originally loaned was only $4,000, but the mortgage contained the provisions that the amount should not become due and payable until the death of the mortgagor, and that the interest, although charged every year, should also not be payable until that time; but the mortgagor was in the meantime to remain in possession of the property and collect the rents. The interest has been piling up for more than twenty years, and finally amounted, with the principal, to a sum three times the value of the property. It is no wonder the mortgagor lived as long as he did. Under the circumstances, he could not afford to die.

Questions and Answers.

MECHANIC'S LIEN.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you please enlighten me on the following matters: (1) Can a lien be put on a building for repairs, contracted for by a tenant? (2) Will a lien on building hold good for more than was due contractor at time lien was filed; owner doing repairs in latter case?

Answer.—(1) A lien can be filed, but it will not be valid unless the work was done with the consent, express or implied, of the owner. (2) No.—Law Editor.

INTESTACY—HEIR.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you kindly give me the following information through your paper: (1) If a wife dies intestate, having never had any children, to whom does her personal propertly go? Has her husband any interest; if so, what proportion? (2) Can an heir to an undivided estate, being a direct owner, that is, left to him under will subject to life interest of his mother, who has died, by mortgaging his share place a lien or cloud on the title and prevent the executor, who has power of sale under the will, from selling? That is, if the executor agrees to sell, can any one reject title on account of an heir having mortgaged his share, and ask to have it satisfied or claim it is a lien?

Answer.—(1) If there is no parent, brother or sister, nephew or niece, the husband gets the whole surplus after payment of debts. If there be a brother or sister, nephew or niece, or a parent, the husband takes the whole of the surplus if it does not exceed $2,000; if the residue exceeds that sum he gets $2,000 and one-half of the excess of the personal property over $2,000. (2) No. The heir, or, strictly speaking, the devisee, has a vested interest in the real property which may be divested by the exercise of the power of sale. The mortgagee of the devisee may protect himself by duly presenting his claim to the executor.—Law Editor.

The Building Material Market Conditions and Prices

The condition of this market is best indicated by the fact that changes in quotations are few and trivial. Iron and steel of all kinds continue in active demand, and complaints are still locally current of delay in deliveries and the consequent obstruction to building work. Tin plate is beginning to right itself, that is, the supply is large enough to unsettle present quotations, and expectation is that with the home producers at work again prices will revert to the level obtaining before the strike. This expectation keeps buying at the hand-to-mouth state. Copper's interest is maintained through the bombastic manifesto of a Boston speculator in copper shares regarding prices for the metal and quotations for his shares. His position that with increased production and lessened consumption the metal can be kept at the price prevailing when production was smaller and consumption at its highest may delude operators in the stock market, but will not induce consumers to buy more than they need from day to day while the statistics of supply antagonize quotations, as they do now. The market in its several departments is described below, and prices corrected to date will be found in their usual places in our business pages.

Lumber.—Trade among the wholesalers is quite active, although there is a quiet market reported by the retail trade. There is nothing of particular interest to note. Prices remain quite firm all along the line, and the advances noted last week are being well maintained. White Pine continues active and firm. Offerings of Eastern spruce have increased slightly, as the mills have been doing more sawing; prices are very firm, with indications that higher quotations may soon be made. The call for hemlock is strong, demand being excellent and the volume of trade is satisfactory to all concerned; it is believed that the base price of $14.50 will soon be advanced. The tendency of prices in yellow pine is upward. North Carolina pine is also in good request, and prices are stiffening. Cypress is selling well at fair prices. Hardwoods are quiet, with a fair call, however, for plain oak and ash and poplar.

Lath.—Offerings have continued moderate and have been absorbed on a steady basis of values.

Bricks, Lime and Cement.—A firmer market is noted for common hard Hudson River brick, and prices are unchanged on the advance mentioned last week. Business has been fairly active. The manufacture of bricks on the North River has stopped for the season. Lime demand has been sufficiently active to fairly well absorb the offerings of Eastern lime, and prices have been well maintained. A good steady run of orders has continued in both Rosendale and Portland cement, and quotations are unchanged.

Builders' Hardware.—The general market has continued to show a good undertone. Manufacturers have been kept busy in making shipments on orders recently placed, and there also has been a moderate amount of new business. The scarcity of raw material has continued to be felt in several lines, and has had a tendency to make manufacturers somewhat slow in their deliveries. Prices in the main have held firm.

Nails.—Wire nails have continued to meet with a fairly good sale, and, although there has been some irregularity in prices due to the competition of outside mills, the undertone of the market has held steady, and quoted prices have not changed from $2.53 in carload lots on dock, and $2.60 in small lots at store. Cut nails have had a fair sale, and quotations are unchanged. It has been possible to obtain concessions to some points due to keen competition. Local prices are $2.18 for carload lots on dock; $2.23 less than carload lots on dock, and from store $2.18 to $2.30.

Plumbers' Supplies.—Dulness continues to be the most conspicuous feature of pig tin, and prices seem to be more in buyers' favor. While the spot quotations are 25.10c. asked and 24.85c. bid, it is understood that 25c. will buy. The continued scarcity of lake copper for prompt delivery has caused a further slight advance in spot prices. Up to 16.85c. was bid the latter part of the week, and 17c. was asked. The rumors that a sweeping reduction in prices is to be made have been renewed. Pig lead is very quiet at unchanged prices. There is a moderate demand for early delivery of tin plates at previous recorded prices. The American Tin Plate Company announced this week their readiness to accept orders for delivery over the first quarter of the year on the present basis of $4.00 at the mill. Although deliveries of sheets are reported to be somewhat better since the American Sheet Steel Company's mills were started in full operation, they are still hard to obtain for shipment any time within 60 to 90 days. Jobbers' prices on black sheets are perhaps a shade easier in the Eastern market, but they are still scarce, and almost impossible to obtain in any quantity for immediate delivery.

Paints.—It is said that paint manufacturers are seriously affected by the condition of the linseed oil markets, and that many firms will be compelled to purchase spot oil to fulfil contracts. As yet no prices have advanced, as the oil market is so variable. Colors in oil are especially strong. Competition, however, keeps the market unsettled, but has caused no quotable change in prices. An increasing foreign business is reported by one of the leading houses.

Linseed Oil.—The situation is an unusual one, but there seems to be no immediate relief in sight. In well-informed quarters it is believed that the present scarcity of oil will continue for the next 30 days. There is a little oil obtainable at 60c. in carload lots, and from this up to 65c. is asked as to seller and quantity, those quoting the higher price claiming they have no difficulty in getting it.

Glass.—The only noteworthy feature of the glass market is the approaching resumption of the window glass factories. But for several of the lesser works, these mills have been closed since May. The present supply is becoming low, and during the first half of November fires will probably be started. It is said that the manufacturers will guarantee employment for their workmen for 8 consecutive months, beginning with November, and this is heralded is a favorable sign. Plate glass is in moderate demand. Referring to trade conditions, the annual report of President Chambers, of the American Window Glass Company says: "The prospect for trade was never better, as there never has been such universal prosperity, or so much building, particularly of dwelling houses and manufacturing plants that use more especially window glass, and the consumption will be greater than ever before in the history of the country, so that the outlook is much brighter than a year ago.

"The majority of manufacturers outside of our company combined and formed a selling agency, so that for the last six months of the year useless and unnecessary competition has been largely eliminated, with most gratifying results to all. The large jobbers of the country who distribute the bulk of the window glass made, have also formed a national association, and are working in harmony with the manufacturers. A large majority of the co-operative manufacturers have lately formed an organization for the purpose of handling their product to better advantage, and are co-operating with our company and the selling agency and the jobbers."

The earnings of the company show:

Profit from sale of glass	$1,533,826 24
From all other sources	178,334.15
	1,712,160.39
Depreciation of properties	300,000.00
Net profits for the year	1,412,160.39

N. Y. Lumber Trade Association.

ANNUAL MEETING AND ELECTION.

The annual meeting of the New York Lumber Trade Association was held at the association rooms, in the Welles Building, No. 18 Broadway, on Wednesday last. The attendance of members was large. Reports from the various committees were read and approved, and showed the association to be in a flourishing condition. The New York Lumber Trade Association is probably the strongest in the United States, as all the dealers comprised in the Metropolitan District are members.

President Richard S. White told of results accomplished, and in the course of his remarks called the attention of his hearers to the wonderful and continued prosperity of the country. They were having a full share of the good times. The lumber trade was, as a whole, on a substantial basis, and no serious failures had overtaken their members.

Resolutions of regret were passed on the death of Garret L. Hardy. Mr. Hardy was one of the oldest lumber dealers in New York, and was an associate member of the firm of Hardy, Voorhees & Co., who a few years ago celebrated their 50th year of business career as lumber merchants in New York.

A vote of thanks was tendered the President, who was re-elected for the ensuing year. The following ticket for officers was elected; it was with few exceptions practically a re-election of the board of last year: President, Richard S. White; First Vice-President, Albro J. Newton; Second Vice-President, W. P. Youngs; Treasurer, Chas. E. Pell; Trustees, David M. Resseguie, J. T. E. Litchfield, Alfred W. Booth, John L. Cutler, Jr., A. P. Bigelow, Walter G. Schuyler, Gulian Ross, John S. Loomis, E. W. McClave, Louis Bossert, Charles A. Meigs, John H. Ireland, Thomas T. Reid, C. W. Wilson, Charles L. Adams, I. P. Vanderbeek, James H. Havens, Hammond Talbot, H. E. Stevens, E. M. Price, James H. Pittinger, Thos. J. Crombie, Wm. H. Simonson, Patrick Moore, W. E. Marsh, E. M. Wiley, F. B. Whitney, Russell Johnson, John F. Steeves, Fred'k W. Starr, W. R. Bell.

A luncheon at the Hoffman House Cafe followed the meeting where a generous board was spread and a good time ensued.

Of Interest to the Building Trades.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment this week appropriated $275,000 for the erection of the new Harlem Hospital. It will be located on Lenox av, between 136th and 137th sts.

The Brooklyn journeymen plumbers have attempted to solve the apprentice question by prohibiting the employment of helpers for five years from October 1. Whether this will solve the problem of too many in the trade or not remains to be seen.

The Portland Company, with offices at No. 1135 Broadway, this city, have been awarded the contract for installing five of their hydraulic elevators in the new apartment house, "The Coronet," situated at the northeast corner of 58th st and 6th av, adjoining the New York Athletic Club, for the Mela Realty Company.

The Indiana Hardwood Lumbermen's Association held a meeting recently for the purpose of securing a free discussion by the producers and shippers of hardwood lumber, to the end that this organization may assist the national association in establishing a fair, reliable and uniform inspection throughout the United States.

Ronald Taylor, who has been abroad since August last, returned to this city on October 6th. He has been investigating the new composition flooring processes which are being successfully applied in most of the cities of the Continent. He comes back highly pleased with the results of his investigation on this subject.

Plumbing business still continues brisk, with nearly everybody busy. Good journeymen are in demand and helpers very scarce It is, however, stated that many jobbing and overhauling plumbers are complaining that they are unable to make collections promptly.

The New York Mastic Works have been succeeded by the Vulcanite Paving Co., who will manufacture and supply the specialty, Seyssel Rock Asphalt, of the old concern. The advertisement of the new firm will be found on another page; their offices are at No. 11 Broadway, and in the experienced hands of H. Wiederhold.

The stockholders of the American Brass Co. have voted to issue $575,000 additional stock at par, making the total capital stock of the company $10,000,000. It was announced that the cecently-acquired Chicago Brass Co. would be owned by the Coe Brass Co., and operated by that concern in the interests of the American Brass Co.

Judge Lawrence, of the Supreme Court, has appointed Milton Mayer temporary receiver of the assets of Milton Schnaier & Co. plumbers, at No. 347 Columbus av, on the application of Milton Schnaier, in a suit brought against his brother, Louis Schnaier, for a dissolution of partnership on account of a disagreement between them. The firm have a $200,000 contract on the big Stokes Hotel, on Broadway, at 73d and 74th sts.

The United National Bank will open its doors on Nov. 1, 1901, at the newly-fitted quarters, No. 147 West 42d st, adjoining the corner of Broadway, to do a general banking business, with a capital of $1,000,000, and a surplus of $200,000. The officers are: Henry W. Gennerich, President; Chas. F. Holm, Vice-President; Henry Von Minden, Second Vice-President; W. W. Warner, Cashier; and Henry C. Strahman, Ass't Cashier.

The Central Federated Union on Sunday, on the motion of William J. O'Brien, of the granite cutters, fusion candidate for Sheriff, passed a resolution calling for the strict enforcement of the new Tenement House Law by those in charge of its enforcement. Delegate O'Brien was a member of the old Tenement House Commission, and was active in agitating for the new law.

Lead-plated iron sheets seem to be much more used now than formerly, says a foreign exchange, and to replace zinc sheets for many purposes, as they are not only cheaper, but also have better resisting qualities. Leaded sheets do not bulge so easily as zinc of the same thickness. Articles made of zinc sheets are generally found to be weakest where they are soldered together, as noticed when they have been in use or exposed to the weather for some time, which, however, is not so with leaded iron plates or tin plates.

In a neat little brochue, entitled "The Irascible Sultan and The Thousand Doors," a story is told apropos of the advantages that follow the use of a device introduced by the Noiseless & Draughtless Door and Window Cushion Co., which, as the name implies, is an article that does away with the door-slamming and window-rattling nuisances. It has been adapted by such hotels as the Waldorf-Astoria and Holland House, besides many business buildings and residences. Copies of the brochure and terms for cushions will be furnished at the company's offices, Nos. 5 and 7 East 42d st. Telephone call 5101 38th st.

Patrick H. Lynch, builder, of 1669 Amsterdam av, has filed a petition in bankruptcy. His embarrassments were contracted in 1899 and 1900 in erecting big apartment houses in Hamilton place. The assets consist of a reversionary interest in the Kaaterskill North and Kaaterskill South apartment houses. There are 110 creditors. Mr. Lynch was formerly a policeman. He retired from the force in 1887, and went into building operations. He became embarrassed in July, 1900. Martha Lynch, his wife, also filed a petition in bankruptcy yesterday, with liabilities $16,007 and no assets.

GOLD MEDAL AT PAN-AMERICAN.

It is the proud boast of Americans everywhere that in our homes, hotels and business buildings a degree of comfort exists incomparably superior to that which obtains in other countries. A door hung with Bommer Spring Hinges gives the very acme of comfort in its line. Bommer Spring Hinges are carried in stock everywhere by the largest jobbers, and are manufactured by Bommer Brothers, 257 to 271 Classon av, Brooklyn, N. Y. The firm have just received notice that the Gold Medal of the Pan-American Exposition has been awarded to their popular hinges.

TERRA COTTA.

The first terra cotta made in New York, or, perhaps, in America, dates from about 1853, when it was used for string-courses and window trim on the Hotel St. Denis, Broadway and 11th st. On the same thoroughfare, and overlooking Trinity Churchyard, there are a number of tigers' head keys, which millions of people have assumed to be of brownstone. Even now, after a lapse of nearly half a century, the only thing that points to a different conclusion is their perfect and otherwise unaccountable state of preservation. Yet, notwithstanding this promising beginning, very little was attempted along the same lines during the next thirty years. Not until 1886 did the architects and building public of this otherwise progressive city begin to realize the extent of their neglected opportunities.—Exchange.

AN ELECTRIC RADIATOR.

A description of a new electric radiator brought out by a London firm is given by "The Architect" (British). The radiator consists of a movable form, something like an asbestos fireplace. It contains four large electric heat lamps in a polished copper reflector. The heat is generated by current from any electric supply main. All that is necessary to fix them ready for use is to connect the flexible wires attached to each radiator to an electric plug which forms part of every installation. For high or low voltage they are equally adapted, heat lamps of the requisite capacity being supplied, and work satisfactorily on alternating or continuous current. The standard size of these radiators consists of four heat lamps, sufficient to warm the air of a room 12 feet square, with a consumption of one unit per hour, but they can be regulated to one-half by means of the switches attached. For larger rooms or halls two or more radiators can be used, or radiators can be supplied of a design containing six or more lamps, although the first method is preferable, as the heat can be taken to the point where most wanted, a special feature being their portability. But the most important is that they provide pure warm air, no oxygen being consumed by them, nor are any noxious fumes given off. Their appearance is certainly bright and cheerful, and there are no ashes or dirt to be removed after their use. In a report on these radiators, after being in use for some time at the Isolation Hospital, Leyton, these advantages are specially noted. There are various other uses to which these radiators can be adapted, some of those supplied to Edward VII. being placed in the bathroms for warming bath-towels, etc.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. .e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing a Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered

3d. B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to their having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482, denote that the property is in section 2 block 482.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers, the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—The letters R. S. mean Revenue Stamp, as R. S. $8.00 means Revenue Stamp $8.00.

Tax on Conveyances executed prior to July 1st, 1901, on $100 to $500, 50c., and for each additional $500 or fraction thereof, 50c.; on Conveyances executed on and after July 1st, 1901, 25c., where consideration exceeds $2,500 and is not more than $3,000, and 25c. for each additional $500 or fraction thereof.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage is drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find Mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instruments as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

October 11, 12, 14, 15, 16, 17.

Editor Record and Guide:

Kindly correct error in lien notice published in your columns on Oct. 12 as to name of Boyle & Everts Co., which appeared in one place as Boyle & Evans Co., the correct name being Boyle & Everts Co. The notice is as follows: The lien filed by G. W. Billings, as trustee for Boyle & Everts Co., bankrupts, of Auburn, N. Y., is without foundation. They are not entitled to a payment; neither have they made an acceptable delivery of material to warrant advancing a payment. Steps will be taken to vacate the lien. The contract covering this lien was originally awarded to John S. White, of this city, and later assigned to Boyle & Everts Co., of Auburn, N. Y., who have failed since the assignment of this contract, and G. W. Billings was appointed as trustee. Emma Horenburger.

Editor Record and Guide:

The lien filed by Sidney B. Harris against David Schlesinger is without foundation, and steps will be taken to vacate same. Materials were delivered by Harris for Joseph Bernascheff, contractor, residing at 177 East 107th st., who has received all payments due him, but failed to satisfy his sub-contractors, and to finish the job. Mr. Robert Isele has been awarded the contract to finish the job and he assumes all claims against property for work and materials previous to date. Fred. S. Schlesinger, Architect.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

Vol. LXVIII. OCTOBER 26, 1901. No. 1754.

THE substantial buying in the securities market, remarked last week, continues, and is to be especially noted in the bond division where the total transactions each day this week have run up to a handsome figure. In the best of railroad stocks there has been good buying, too. In the more speculative issues of both railroad bonds and stocks there has been considerable realizing, but not sufficient to do more than check the advance temporarily. Manipulation of quotations is by no means altogether absent, and its presence accounts for many of the stories of new combinations and absorptions; but on the whole, it must be admitted, that the market has the appearance of being about to open out and become more active with rising prices. This movement, however, is not assisted by the advance in sterling exchange and the talk of gold exports. The season has arrived when the coalers should come in for some favorable attention. It is reported that the anthracite production of the past year has been the biggest in the trade, 10,000,000 tons, more than in 1899-'00, the total being 55,000,000 tons. This result combined with the understanding that the anthracite interests have been working in more harmony than ever was known before, raises the hopes of stockholders regarding the results to stocks. Something must be allowed for the increased cost of production as a result of the terms secured by the miners in the last strike and of the advance in the prices of materials generally, yet still the earnings available for dividends ought to be greater than last year on a production that made a handsome increase of more than 20%. What helps the anthracite trade helps the bituminous also. The circumstances continue to keep the attention of investors and speculators both largely confined to railroad issues to the exclusion of the claims of the Industrials. It has become somehow the impression that this class of securities has something to fear from the coming Congress, though why the consolidation of manufacturing interests ought to be more subject to attacks from Washington than consolidations of carrying interests no one has explained. Of course it would be much easier for Congress to reach the one than the other. Some variations of the tariff could easily put the larger industrial combinations in a very different position than they are now in, while they would not affect the business of the carriers. But as a matter of principle if a policy of repression of combinations is to be undertaken, one would think it ought to be against the practice of combinations in general and not against particular industries that have become in a measure combined.

AS the year goes on European financial markets will be more and more occupied with the movements of money, and investment and speculative operations will lessen accordingly. Advance arrangements for meeting the year-end settlements if not already begun soon will be. The accumulation of gold by the Imperial Bank of Germany, reported this week, is doubtless in preparation for this; and to the expectation that the Bank of England will take protective measures under a corresponding necessity, is due the rumor that an advance of its rate is contemplated. These things, taken in connection with the continued depression in business, do not improve the situation; nor do the current official reports and returns from which the general conditions are deducted. Thus the latest reports of British foreign trade show losses in both classes, imports and exports. French revenue returns give no sign of recovery from the losses that have characterized them for some time and German industrial corporations are passing dividends right along. One that paid 17 per cent last year has recently announced that it will pay nothing this. The cement industry is in great trouble. It was hoped to provide some relief for the bad condition of this trade by the organization of a syndicate composed of several groups of factories, but this syndicate, it is reported now, has gone to pieces, under an inability to sustain prices in a period of poor demand. The development of the American cement industry and the consequent decline in export business to the United States is given as one and the most important reason for the present depression in the German cement trade. An interesting instance of the appreciation of the European public for gold, especially where there appears to be any danger of a scarcity, comes from Austria. When it was decided that the Austro-Hungarian Bank should make a trial with gold coins in the circulation, it was prophesied in financial circles that the public would not absorb the gold, but that the greater part of it would soon return to the bank. This prophecy has proved false it appears. The bank emitted 17.3 million crowns worth of 20-crown pieces in a month or six weeks, and only 248,000 crowns returned to the tills of the bank; all the rest was put by in the secret drawers of the public, for not a piece is to be seen in circulation. This does not look as if the Austro-Hungarian public were very confident of the early success of the long protracted measure to give the dual empire a gold currency which has had so many interruptions.

THE utterances of Dr. Albert Shaw about municipal government in New York or any other city are always interesting and instructive, because he combines a complete knowledge of the subject with an unusually well-balanced judgment, and his remarks recently before the Congregational Club were quite up to their usual level of interest. He particularly dwelt upon the fact that the history of municipal elections in New York is not an aimless succession of victories and defeats, but that there has been some measure of progress from one election to another. Each consecutive administration brings with it certain improvements, which are partly if not wholly retained by subsequent administrations. Said Mr. Albert Shaw: "Much that was gained under the reform administration of Mayor Strong has been permanently held during a Tammany régimé by a tenacious public opinion. If the reform forces should win this year great progress would undoubtedly result in the coming period of two years, and it would for the most part be permanent gain, even if a reaction should follow and another Tammany administration should have its turn. Such is the course and method of municipal progress in New York, and many another town. * * * Even with a Tammany government we should make some progress in the right direction, because Tammany must respond at certain points to the demands of an improved public opinion." It should be added that the gains that are made from one election to another are not simply the result of a tenacious public opinion, forcing from office-holders a certain standard of performance. They are due quite as much to a more thorough understanding of the problems of municipal government.

IT is one of the most encouraging aspects of the present situation that the actual business of city administration is undoubtedly being more carefully studied and more fully discussed than ever before. As the Record and Guide has frequently pointed out, the task of undertaking such a study is not even yet pushed as far as it should be; but it is certainly pushed very much further than it used to be. A multitude of new and for the most part good ideas about municipal government are in the air, and the different candidates are all more or less influenced by them, and are committed to carrying out at least some of them. Both Mr. Shepard and Mr. Low, for instance, have been occupied at first hand with the actual details of municipal administration. Mr. Low is a capable and experienced executive. Mr. Shepard as counsel for the commission, has a full and minute knowledge of the rapid transit situation as any man in the city. Both have definite ideas about the way to get or recover full value for municipal franchises. Neither of them pay sufficient attention in their speeches to the financial situation of the city, and to the necessity of finding a largely increased income without augmenting the tax burden of real estate; but this is obviously a problem which cannot be escaped, and which during the next two years will be so much discussed and so carefully studied, that some way out of the difficulty will eventually be discovered. By making these remarks, we have no intention of minimizing the differences between the candidates. There are plenty of solid reasons for preference either one way or the other. But it is worth while, at the present time, when, during the heat of the canvas, some of the speakers are foreshadowing dire disaster to the city, in case their candidate is not elected; it is worth while to remember that political conditions are on the whole improving, and that there is no danger of New York, like Philadelphia, becoming the victim of one party of politicians. Whatever party obtains power has to submit to a most searching criticism, and to a most strenuous resistance. Each succeeding election brings with it a more enlightening and formative discussion as to the conditions and methods of good municipal government. The result is that the public interests are yearly becoming better understood and more effectually safe-guarded.

Richard Vernon Harnett.

THE death of Mr. Richard V. Harnett which occurred on Wednesday, removes from the real estate world one of its most important personalities. Mr. Harnett was so well-known and had been for so many years so intimately connected with the greater real estate events of the time that he had become a public character, so far as that can be said of any one whose activities were confined to the commercial world.

It is more than thirty years ago that Mr. Harnett entered the real estate business for himself, opening an office at No. 111 Broadway. Previous to that, he had been associated with William Kennelly, the elder, in whose office he laid the foundation of his solid knowledge of real estate. It will thus be seen that Mr Harnett's career was entirely self-made, and was practically contemporaneous with the marvelous developments of the last generation which have changed New York from a large country town to one of the great metropolitan centres of the world. No small part of the success achieved by Mr. Harnett was due to the fact that, if he did not exactly foresee this growth, its probability was almost an article of faith with him. His belief in the promise and value of New York realty was never shaken; yet, fortunately, he was able to qualify his enthusiasm by a sound conservatism which made him one of the most accurate appraisers and one of the sanest advisers in the real estate market.

Mr. Harnett brought into the real estate profession at a moment when it was of minor account not only his buoyant and hopeful personality but a remarkable degree of commercial energy. He was distinctly an innovator, and the extraordinary hold which in a short time he obtained upon the auction department, and maintained for so many years, was the direct result of an immense amount of very hard work. A genial personality and a pleasant voice assisted him as auctioneer in winning his audiences, and the great sales which he conducted with unqualified success are evidence of an extraordinary aptitude for his calling The records of the real estate auction business in this city during the last twenty years or more, are very largely of his making. In building up this business, he was a busy rather than a hard competitor of others, and at all times a fair and honorable adversary.

While in a sense so much before the public Mr. Harnett, despite his geniality, was a man of quiet habits. The interest he took in the organization of the Real Estate Exchange in its management and efficiency, constitute the great public service that he performed for the real estate interests of this city. He was elected its president in 1897.

Associated with Mr. Harnett have been many men now leaders in the profession. Messrs. William M. Ryan and Philip A. Smyth were with him until 1885, Mr. Herbert A. Sherman was also in his office, and later Mr. Harnett admitted as partner his stepson, Henry W. Donald. With the aid of these gentlemen some of the largest real estate negotiations that have ever taken place were carried through.

A year or more ago Mr. Harnett's health began to fail, and after a time compelled him, reluctantly, to relinquish an active every-day participation in the affairs of his firm. His death, therefore, was not altogether unexpected, although its suddenness was a grievous surprise to his family and friends. In 1881 Mr. Harnett married Mrs. Kate Isabella Donald, who survives him. He was a member of many clubs and organizations, including the N. Y. Club, N. Y. Yacht Club, The Colonial Club, The Catholic Club, The Arion and Liederkranz organizations, and the Real Estate Board of Brokers. Mr. Harnett was sixty-two years of age. Funeral services will be held to-day (Saturday) at 11 o'clock, in the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, 71st street and Broadway. Members of the Real Estate Board of Brokers have been requested officially to attend the funeral at the residence, No. 312 West 72d street, at 10.30 o'clock.

The Real Estate Situation

The State of the Market.

A good deal of miscellaneous business has taken place during the past week. Fully one-half the sales are still a matter of private dwellings variously situated. The demand for this class of property continues to be so strong that it cannot but affect the building operations which are being planned for the coming spring. A few of the sales foreshadow future improvements, chiefly, however, apartment houses or hotels in the lower and central part of the city. It should be noticed that Madison avenue, between 26th and 34th streets, and the neighboring blocks are coming very much into favor as a field for the building of bachelor apartment houses and hotels. A half a dozen improvements of this description have either been planned or are already started; and we should not be surprised to find within the next few years this section gains as a region for this class of operations over the side streets near Herald and Long Acre squares. Property thereabouts is not too expensive for the profitable issue of such operation; buildings of that kind in the vicinity are at the present time very well rented; and the neighborhood is in many respects much pleasanter than the neighborhood of Broadway. In addition to the buying of residences, and of properties for improvement, there have been several investment purchases, which have an encouraging look. The most important of these is that of the Touraine, the twelve-and-a-half-story apartment hotel just being finished by Mr. Walter Stabler at Nos. 9 and 11 East 39th street. The success of the builder in renting and selling this hotel will be likely to stimulate other operations of the same kind in the same vicinity. The buyer is said to be a capitalist interested in the United States Steel Corporation; and the money which is going to pay for the large apartment hotel to be erected at the southeast corner of 52d street and 5th avenue is apparently also derived from much the same source. The investment of capital made in the steel business in New York real estate has already amounted to a good many million dollars; and most of the buying has been cleverly managed.

Values in Long Acre Square.

The speculators continue to mark up prices in Long Acre Square. Lively and persistent efforts are being made to piece together parcels, which will subsequently be available for big improvements, and with some success; but it must be remarked that the movement so far as it has as yet run its course, contains a much larger proportion of the wine of speculation than it does of the meat of permanent value. There is at present a large discrepancy between what the property is worth as measured by the income derived from it and the price which the owners are trying to get for it. We gave an instance a few weeks back of a corner which was rented for less than $4,000 a year being held at more than $500,000. Of course such discrepancies always occur, when a region is undergoing speculative manipulation. The only question is in any particular case, whether the prices asked are such as to encourage investors or such as to make them stand aside until there is some demonstration of the actual yielding power of the property; and there can be no doubt at present that values on Long Acre Square are high enough to discourage immediate improvements. The buildings already undertaken, and the investments already made—such as the two Astor hotels, and the Shanley purchase—are a sufficient basis for some kind of a speculative movement; but it must be remembered that a demand merely for restaurants, theatres, saloons and the like is never of itself sufficient to justify a very high level of value. For fifteen years past Broadway, between 36th and 42d streets, has been a favorite location for theatres, restaurants and hotels, and yet property between those blocks did not reach the level of value which was obtained further south. A demand for business purposes must help out the demand for amusement purposes before a very high level of values can be sustained. The establishment of a big retail or clothing house on Long Acre Square would be a solider basis for high values than any improvement or investment purchase yet announced; and while there has been talk of such a purchase, none has been actually consummated. By these remarks we do not intend to imply that the future of Long Acre Square is not as fully assured as anything of that kind can be. There can be little doubt that within fifteen years property on the square will have sold as high as it has recently sold on Herald Square. We are only questioning how far the present level of speculative value is justified by the present business prospects of the vicinity; and from this point of view it is possible that prices may have to fall before they can rise. The rapid transit construction work on the square must also tend to discourage immediate operations.

Auction Sales—Past and Prospective.

The auction market has also exhibited some degree of activity during the past week. A number of the parcels offered under foreclosure were bought by other parties than those in interest. Perhaps the most interesting sale of the week, however, was that of Nos. 128-130 Orchard street. These were three-story brick tenements situated upon a plot 50x87.6, and are located in a part of the East Side in which tenements obtain maximum rents, and in which speculative building until the passage of the Tenement House law was very active. Hence the amount, which the parcel brought was of some considerable interest, because of its bearing on the effect of the new law upon property available for improvement with tenements. It cannot be said that the price obtained indicated any particular decline in values. The purchaser paid $38,025 for the two lots; and this price was obtained only after spirited bidding, in which several prominent East Side operators participated. This price may be compared with other parcels of much the same dimensions and in the same neighborhood. In February, 1901, the estate of Hamilton Fish sold to Mandelbaum & Lewine, Nos. 153-7 Ludlow street, 50x87.6, for $39,000. On April 6, 1899, No. 102 Orchard street, 25x87.6, sold for $20,850. On Oct. 12, 1899, No 104 Orchard street, 110 south of Delancey street, 25x87.6, sold for $19,600. In June of 1898, lots at 164 and 166 Orchard street, also 25x87.6, brought $17,000. It will be seen that the price just obtained shows little if any decrease over those which ruled throughout 1899 and 1900. That there has been no decrease is due to the fact that the plot offered was 50 feet wide and only 87.6 deep. It should be noticed that on Tuesday of next week a sale is announced chiefly of unimproved property on the West Side, which will test the market for that class of real estate. These lots are situated on Riverside Drive, on 113th street, east of Broadway, on Manhattan avenue, on West 125th street and Edgecombe and Bradhurst avenues.

Park Avenue Tunnel.

The plan for the improvement of the Park av tunnel, now under discussion, is, according to "The Engineering News," by no means satisfactory to the engineers of the New York Central & H. R. R. R. Co. It was brought out only in response to the peremptory order of the Board of Health. The proposal for the present is to reconstruct the tunnel according to this plan for only the comparatively short distance of ten blocks, from 56th to 66th st. The company is willing to go ahead on this section as soon as the approval of the Board of Health is received. The plan favored by the company's engineers is to open a full-width tunnel, leaving only a nominal overhang of 5 feet on each side, but it is feared (and very naturally, too) that the objections of Park av residents against it would be too strong. It has been stated in connection with the plan submitted to the Board of Health, that electric operation of trains was contemplated for the side tunnels, using these exclusively for the suburban traffic through the tunnel. It was also stated that this foreshadowed the ultimate application of electric traction to all trains using the tunnel. The journal quoted above says: "We are informed by an officer of the company, however, that no plans for a change to electric motive power are at present under consideration."

A meeting of residents of Park av was held this week at the house of Dr. Cornelius B. Smith, No. 701 in that thoroughfare, when the Park Avenue Association, with Everett P. Wheeler as president, and Lawrence B. Smith as secretary, was formed to conserve their interests. At this meeting it was resolved to appeal to the Department of Health to rescind its orders directing enlargement of the openings in the tunnel roof, and making changes from masonry to steel construction in the interior, and requesting that no further action be taken in the matter until the residents are heard from. The sentiment of the meeting was that true relief from the conditions now existing will be found only in electric traction or mechanical ventilation. Among those present at the meeting were Supreme Court Justice Morgan J. O'Brien, the Rev. Dr. Abbott E. Kittredge, Sidney Whittemore, Amory Leland, Henry R. de Milt and Dr. Smith.

Ante-New Law Tenements.

COST OF ALTERATIONS REQUIRED—THE RECORD AND GUIDE'S FIGURES SUBSTANTIATED BY EXPERT TESTIMONY—MORTGAGEES BEGIN TO ACT.

The Chairman of the Tenement House Committee of the United Real Estate Owners' Association, Councilman George B. Christman, prepared the estimates given below of the cost of the alterations in "now-existing" tenements required by the Tenement House Law. They are for a 4-room deep tenement in which no shaft is required, and for a 6-room deep tenement in which the

The estimates of cost for the 6-room deep tenement shows what the law requires for the house, No. 271 East 10th st, which Mr. Christman built, with another of the same kind, in 1873, and afterwards sold. The financial history of this property shows how hardly the law bears on the owner. The case being one of continued depreciation of rental and increase of taxes, on top of which comes mandatory legislation calling for expenditures of between $5,000 and $6,000. The statement and estimate follow:

As to Mr. Christman's qualifications for making the estimate, it may be stated that in his thirteenth year, 1865, he was apprenticed to a carpenter. In 1871, he started in business on his own account, and between that year and 1900, built eight schoolhouses, five religious institutions, six churches and a number of store and office buildings, principally in the drygoods district, and from 1872 to 1900, was concerned as owner, builder or contractor with the erection of an average of from fifty or insertion of a shaft seems to be the only practical way of dealing with the problem presented in a sensible way. Lawrence Veiller, secretary to the late Tenement House Commission, suggested, in a letter to the Record and Guide published last week, that where the bedrooms adjoined a 25-sq.-ft. air-shaft, or a yard, windows should be cut into the shaft or yard, as the case might be, and where that could not be done, that the partitions be taken down and the 3-room made into a 2-room apartment. Our readers are given the opportunity of comparing the several suggestions by means of the diagrams published herewith. Mr. Veiller's notions of property rights, as revealed by his first alternative, have amused better-informed people, as has also his second. Putting aside the first, it will be seen that the second would have four apartments on a floor, each containing two rooms, one, say, 12 feet long, and another, say, 20 feet long. The insertion of the shaft will give four apartments, two of two rooms and two of three rooms, all fairly well-proportioned, the circumstances considered. It may be left to owners, agents, and tenants, to say which they will prefer without any doubt of the result.

sixty tenements a year. He has many times been called to court as an expert witness as to construction and values, and is still frequently employed to make appraisals.

Prior eo supplying the following tables, Mr. Christman said: "In reading over the Record and Guide of last week, I saw the letter of Mr. Veiller, in which he makes certain suggestions as to how the Tenement House Law, as it relates to old tenements, may be complied with. As a builder of a good many years' experience, I must say that these suggestions are impracticable and cannot be adopted. I am surprised that they should come from any one claiming to be a practical man. I find it strange, too, that he should state that there are not more than 5 000 4-room deep tenements in the city. From 20,000 to 22,000 would be nearer right, and Mr. Veiller, as secretary of the Tenement House Commission, ought to know this. As to his statement about the cost of the alterations required by the law in old tenements, beirg merely nominal I would like to have him prepare an estimate proving it. Such a statement is something more than I can understand. That the cost in a 5 or 6-room deep tenement would be from $5,000 to $6,000 can be proved by any honest, capable builder. I must say candidly that the reading of his letter gives me the impression that Mr. Veiller does not know anything about what the cost of the alterations required in an old tenement will be. I will give you my figures of the cost for the 4-room deep house and for the 6-room deep house and challenge Mr. Veiller to disprove their accuracy.

"I would like you to mention that the old tenements are affected in various ways by the new law, and the cost of the alterations will vary accordingly. I have given you typical cases. But outside of these there are houses built from 1883 to 1893, in which the Health and Building Departments required shafts to be put in of a specified size. These shafts were covered with skylights which have to be removed, so that the shafts may be left open. This will necessitate, though the law does not specifically state so, the removal of the plaster, and the shafts being made water-tight; that goes as a matter of course if the skylights are removed. The bottoms of the shafts will have to be concreted and ducts constructed through which to drain off the water to the outside, as required under section 81. The cost of this will not be less than from $250 to $275 per shaft. Some houses have one and some two shafts.

"Then there are houses on corners that have not 5 feet of yard. Section 79 says: 'Furthermore, no room in a now-existing tenement house which does not have a window opening directly upon the street or upon a yard not less than 5 feet deep, or upon a court or shaft, etc., * * * shall hereafter be occupied for living purposes.' It seems to me that where the light of a room depends upon a yard not 5 feet deep the rear wall will have to be set forward a distance sufficient to make the yard 5 feet deep. These matters I have not gone into, but they will have to be considered by the owners."

FINANCIAL HISTORY OF NO. 271 EAST 10TH ST.

Rent roll of 1873	$3,648.00
Rent roll of 1900	2,784.00
Difference		$864.00
Increase taxes 1873 to 1900		176.00
Total loss of income to 1900		$1,040.00
Estimates further loss of rents for room space being taken up by shafts, 10 rooms at $4.30 per month.		516.00
Total present and prospective loss of income		$1,556.00

The figures refer to the house when full and deduct nothing for expenses of maintenance, care or loss by vacancies. For one lot I paid in 1873 $16,500, and for the other $17,000; to-day a lot in this location is worth not less than $22,000, and it would cost from $14,500 to $15,000 to duplicate the house. The alterations add $5,682.58 to capital account without the allowance of a dollar for interest.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Dear Sir: We have read with interest your article in the Record and Guide in reply to Mr. Lawrence Veiller, of the Charity Organization Society. After carefully studying the new Tenement House Law, which affects "now-existing" buildings, we beg to congratulate you on your good common sense argument. You evidently know what you are talking about. We are practical real estate agents, and contractors for alterations and repairs, having many years' experience with tenements and their occupants. Now, the plain fact is, Mr. Veiller omitted to state the cost of the most expensive alterations required.

For instance, in re-section No. 79.—In many 4-family tenements with four families on a floor, there are "inside" lathed and plastered shafts, which are covered with louvred skylights of wire, glass, etc. Many of these shafts do not reach the cellar floor and others only reach to within 3 or 4 feet of the ceilings of the ground floor, store or apartments, and in these 3 or 4 feet there are the windows leading into the air-shafts. Further, these shafts were never made to be exposed to the elements directly, and in most cases the windows are not the regular sash and frames. The shafts may be in themselves satisfactory, although section No. 81 says every shaft must be at least 4 feet wide, whereas many are 2 feet 6 inches wide, and very long, instead. The question is how can a shaft be made to conform with the law by removing the top skylight?

We know it can be done, and so can most anything if it wasn't for the necessary cash. The cost of altering such shafts and making them and the windows in them proof against snow and rain, is a big and costly contract. To leave them open would swamp the building, that is certain. We figured on the cost in one tenement, with shaft, at least $1,000, and when the job is done, the benefit, if any, will not amount to a hill of beans, and leave an excellent draft pipe in case of a fire, for remember, these shafts are not built of brick.

As to section No. 83.—Many tenements have halls on every floor, running straight through to the rear yard, and on the end of every hall there is a glass door and revolving fanlight, from the ceiling to the floor, which gives air enough for any fresh air fiend and light in plenty. Question: why should an owner be compelled to place a louvred skylight over the stairwell when the halls, stairs and whole house are as light as day and airy enough? Still the law gives us no discretion, no matter how a house is constructed! We suppose the tenement committee never saw such a construction.

As to section No. 100.—As to school sinks in yards: In the first place, properly flushed every day and thoroughly cleaned and white-washed by competent persons, a school sink is better for a yard than any other water-closet invented; for many and good reasons, any experienced person will admit; but we do not combat this section, only as to the kind and quantity the law requires. In every tenement at present, where there are school sinks, there are five separate compartments for a 5-sty house. The new law requires ten in a yard, but don't mention where to put them, for if the yard is small, as in most tenements, 25x85x 109, the new law has a joker in section No. 77. Mr. Veiller says an owner can place a water-closet next to the kitchen, but he either forgets, or don't know, that the new law requires a shaft (fireproof) almost as big as the kitchen will hold, 25 sq. ft. of surface, on inside of shaft; therefore, to put the water-closet in the house it requires one (1) bedroom for each water-closet—for the largest tenement bedroom is not more than 8.3x8.6x9, or about 600 cu. ft., and a shaft must be at least 4 feet one way on the inside (just figure it out).

Now for the ridiculous hopper flush tank closet for an exposed tenement yard. Any practical plumber or any person with common sense must know that a long hopper, double-valved closet, is the only closet which can be kept from freezing, and even that is a job in very cold weather. Flush tanks cannot be made to freeze, because they get out of order too many times, and need continued tinkering, for tenement house people are not over-particular how such things are handled. Well; the cost of ten closets is between $450 and $500, including carpenter work for a house, doors, etc., etc. Not less, and all in the same class of house, although in fine condition, and nobody ill or complaining.

As to section No. 79.—A man and wife cannot use same room. A woman and her child cannot use same room, for each and every person must have 600 cu. ft. of air.

As to section No. 106.—Another joker, for in many houses, where air-shafts do not reach the floor, and cannot be altered unless the store or rooms on ground floor is remodelled. Never mind the cost or the state of an unfortunate owner's mind; for he will soon land up in the mad or poorhouse, unless the Charity Organization or some of these "Drawing-Room" reformers buy some of these houses themselves.

Reform is excellent. To theorize is dangerous—when not practicable. Very truly yours,

MONTGOMERY & SEITZ.

New York, Oct. 22, 1901.

Morris Jacoby, who makes a specialty of East Side property, and is one of the city's experts in proceedings to condemn land in that section, recently publicly made an assertion to the effect that the enforcement of the new law as to old tenements would bring a large percentage of that class of property to foreclosure. The same gentleman has made an estimate of the cost of making a 5-room deep tenement, four stories and stores, comply with the requirements as to light and ventilation alone by this means: Placing window in the partitions of the front and rear rooms, taking down two partitions and erecting another, so as to convert the three inner rooms into two. The estimate for these changes in eight apartments figures out at $400, made up of: Sixteen windows, at $10 each, $160; plastering, $56; carpentry, $104; painting, $80. This takes no account of plumbing and other requirements, nor loss of rental through the change in the number of rooms.

An important fact transpired this week showing that mortgagees are beginning to take action. This was the receipt of notices by owners of old tenements who have given mortgages to the Liverpool, London and Globe Insurance Co., calling their attention to the provisions of the law required to be observed in their properties, and requiring them to make the alterations called for by it. The circular says: "The company, being interested in this property as mortgagors, and also under our policies against loss by fire, and the sections of the law above noted being mandatory, we are compelled to request that the necessary alterations required to bring the building up to the standard demanded by the Municipal building laws, shall be effected and completed within the period prescribed. Kindly give this matter your immediate attention, and favor us with a reply at your earliest convenience, stating your purpose."

"As to the cost of making alterations required by the new law, the statements made at the meeting are without foundation, as in nearly every case the expense will not exceed $350." From an interview with Lawrence Veiller in the "Evening Post" of Oct. 23, 1901, in relation to a meeting held last Saturday evening by a number of architects and builders to take measures to obtain the repeal of the Tenement House Law, to which, as it appears to have had more politics than anything else in it, no further reference is made by the Record and Guide.

The Regulation of Automobiles

WHAT IS REQUIRED IN FRANCE.

In view of the constantly-increasing use of automobiles in the New York streets and parks, and the fact that no special municipal regulations or state laws at present govern their operation, the following description of the regulations in force in France, the material for which has been supplied to us by Mr. George S. Lespinasse, may be of interest. The regulations in question were originally decreed in March, 1899, and have been modified in the direction of greater severity in September of the present year. These regulations apply, of course, to all public highways, and not to private roads or tracks. The important provisions are as follows:

(1) Any vessels which contain explosive or inflammable materials must be made in such a manner that they cannot become loose or fall to the ground, and so cause an explosion or conflagration.

(2) The mechanism of the vehicles must be arranged in a manner that will prevent it from being dangerous to pedestrians, alarming to horses, or excessively odorous.

(3) The mechanism controlling the vehicle must be situated in such a manner that the conductor can work them without ceasing to keep a proper lookout on the road. This mechanism must be placed well in sight, and must be lighted at night. Nothing must interfere with the ability of the conductor to look ahead.

(4) The vehicle must be constructed so as promptly to obey the steering and turning apparatus, and must be able to turn quickly and readily in every possible direction. These parts of the machine must offer every assurance of durability.

(5) The vehicle must be provided with two separate and effective brakes, each of which would be sufficient to slow it down or to stop it.

(6) The next article designates the public officials which must testify that the foregoing regulations in respect to mechanism have been fulfilled. A certificate is issued to that effect by the official in question. These certificates may be issued either to the builder or to the owner of the vehicle. The builder has the privilege of selling vehicles which conform to a recognized type—authorized by a certificate—in which case each vehicle belonging to that class must be numbered as one in a series to which it belongs. The certificate must specify the maximum speed which the vehicle is capable of attaining. Finally, every vehicle must be labeled in plain and easily-discernible letters, with the name of the manufacturer, the class to which it belongs, and its number in the series of that class; also with name and address of the owner. If the vehicle is capable of attaining a speed greater than eighteen miles an hour, it must be provided with two identification plates, which must be placed in conspicuous positions in front of and at the back of the carriages; a public official is named to decide upon the precise character of these plates, and the method of lighting them at night.

(7) Every owner of a motor-vehicle, before operating it on public roads, must file a declaration with the prefect of the department in which he lives, which shall contain his name and address, and a sworn statement that he has complied with the provisions of the law enumerated above. A copy of the declaration is furnished to him by the department.

(8) Nobody will be allowed actually to run a motor-vehicle, unless he obtains a certificate of ability to do so, supplied by the prefect of his department after a favorable report by the engineering department. And anybody who is operating a vehicle must show, whenever asked by a competent authority, his certificate of capacity and the copy of his sworn statement. The vehicle must be frequently inspected to make sure that its mechanism is in good condition. Its speed must be under control under all circumstances, so that it can be stopped in case of an accident. In no case must the speed be more than eighteen miles an hour in the country, or twelve miles an hour in the city. The operator must never leave his vehicle without taking all necessary precautions against its running away, etc. Special provisions are made to cover races over country roads, which cannot be undertaken without giving proper notice.

The object of these regulations is obviously to prevent accidents, if possible, and to fix responsibility in case they occur.

Rapid Transit—Extension on Lenox Avenue.

The Rapid Transit Railroad Commission have decided upon the expediency of extending the subway in Lenox av, from 142d st to 150th st. The original plan of the commission was to turn the subway from Lenox av at 142d st, under the Harlem River and thence through the Bronx. The commission realized, however, that storage yards were necessary for this line on Manhattan Island, and they have acquired two blocks of marsh land between Lenox and 7th avs, from 148th st to the Harlem River. This will be filled with earth and rock taken from the subway excavations, and a spur is to be built from the turn to the yards. A station is to be built on this spur at 145th st. The extension will cost in the neighborhood of $300,000. The Municipal Assembly will have to approve this change in the plans.

. The Board of Public Improvements will, at their meeting on Nov. 13, consider the proposed laying out of a new street between Bridge and Jay sts, and the laying out of a public park bounded by Bridge, Tillary, Jay and the new street. At that meeting a public hearing will be given to the property-owners affected by the change. The assessed valuation of the lands to be acquired for the improvement is $218,000.

The Navy estimate calling for an expenditure of a further sum of $3,000,000, much of it for additional land at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, is naturally exciting interest in that section of the borough, whence the action of Congress thereon will be looked for with great interest.

Real Estate Notes.

J. F. A. Clarke is the buyer of the 2-sty stable, No. 142 East 40th st, reported sold in our last issue.

W. B. Dickerman, of Moore & Schley, is the purchaser of No. 187 Madison av, reported sold in our last issue.

The record of mortgages contains loans made on 9th av property at 3½%; is this another case of "special circumstances" explaining the low rate?

Lovejoy & Noyes, of No. 62 Cedar st, report an unusually active fall renting season. This firm makes a specialty of managing downtown business property, and have control of a large number of business buildings situated in the lower part of the city. They are a firm of young men, active and energetic, and give their clients such satisfaction that their business is increasing. A recent sale of theirs is reported in another column of this issue.

A plan has been prepared in the Topographical Bureau for a bridge from the intersection of Sedgwick av and Fordham road, Bronx, to 10th av, Manhattan, near its intersection with Sherman av, and crossing the New York and Putnam tracks, the Harlem River and 9th av at 210th st. This would bring an outlying section of the Bronx into communication with the proposed rapid transit station at 210th st. The bridge is planned so that it would not disturb the grades of any of the abutting thoroughfares. The cost has not been estimated. A proposition to build the bridge is now before the Board of Public Improvements, and if approved by them must still go to the Municipal Assembly and the Board of Estimate.

Owners and agents will do well to investigate the plan instituted by the Cornell Construction Co. for the cure of faulty systems of steam-heating and power plants. The plan includes maintenance, with guarantee of efficient service and satisfactory results, besides a saving of money and time. The company's watchword is "Send to us when in trouble," believing and knowing their long experience, expert knowledge and special facilities enable them to correctly diagnose and correct faulty systems installed through ignorance or otherwise. Telephone 1825 Franklin, calls the Cornell Construction Co., whose address is No. 137 Centre st. They will explain their system to interested persons, and can refer to many first-class firms. The company also construct and install steam-heating and power plants, and repair all makes of elevators.

The World of Building

Material Market.

No one who follows the returns of the Department of Buildings will be surprised if he is told that the local demand for building materials is rapidly lessening, and bids fair with the closing-up of work on hand to become comparatively very small. The general market is, however, reported to be in a good condition for the time of year, and this, with the fact that the changes in the supply trade of the past few years, which tend to hold prices to a larger degree in season, will account for the cheerful tone of the reports from wholesalers, which are given in detail below. It is particularly noticeable that the iron and steel trades bear a brave front, and it is understood that they are filled with orders sufficient to last them through the first half of next year. This being so, it indicates a pretty prosperous condition of business generally throughout the country.

Lumber.—The general market has held steady, but the volume of business transacted has been limited. Demand for Eastern spruce is excellent, and prices are stiffening. Adirondack spruce is in only a fair supply, with good inquiry. Prices for yellow pine are very stiff, and there is a heavy demand. Cypress is strong. North Carolina pine continues in good demand and prices are improving. Hemlock is still in good inquiry, and prices continue firm. Poplar and plain oak are moving freely and ash is in fair demand, while quartered oak is dull. Northern pine continues active and strong, with a scarcity in some widths.

Lath.—There have been moderate arrivals, which have been marketed at full prices; the closing was steady at quotations given elsewhere.

Bricks, Lime and Cement.—The market for common hard Hudson River brick is reported firmer, and prices are well maintained. The demand for Eastern lime has been sufficiently active to fairly well absorb the offerings, and prices have been unchanged. Rosendale cement has had a moderate sale, and American Portland has been in fair demand and prices are firm.

Nails.—Wire nails have had a good sale, but with the increasing offerings, as a result of the outside competition, the demand has been met freely and prices have continued to show some irregularity. Small lots at store are quoted in New York at $2.60 per keg. Cut nails have been firm. The feature has been the complaint among manufacturers of their inability to obtain supplies of steel, and in some instances buyers have been forced to be satisfied with cut iron nails. Small lots of cut nails from store are quoted at $2.18 to $2.30 per keg. Officials of the United States Steel Corporation admit that certain independent concerns are selling wire nails below the price fixed by the American Steel and Wire Co. They add that the quantity of nails sold at cut prices by the independent plants is insignificant as compared with the country's total output.

Plumbers' Supplies.—In the New York copper market the situation has not changed, and apparently the leading producing interests are in no hurry to justify the rumors that they intend to make a deep cut in prices. It is reported that lake copper needed for immediate delivery commands the full price of 17c., although futures are obtainable at 16½c. For electrolytic the quotations are still 16⅜@16⅝c., while on casting prices range from 15⅝ to 16⅝c. as to brand. The board of managers of the New York Metal Exchange will meet in November to act on a proposition to establish a contract which will make possible the trading in copper from all parts of the world. Dealings on this Exchange are now confined to lake copper. The pig tin has been quiet the past week. During the period of the recent declining market most of the large consumers covered their requirements for the balance of the year, and the smaller consumers are, as usual, buying only what they actually require for the filling of business in hand. Spot tin is quoted at 24⅞@25c. Pig lead is dull but steady at 4⅜c. per lb., in 50-ton lots. There is a moderate demand for spot tin plates. A few shipments have come into the Eastern market, from the American Tin Plate Company's mills since they started up. The demand for sheets continues. The bulk of the mills are out of the market as sellers for delivery during the rest of the year. Jobbers' prices on black sheets in moderate-sized lots are unchanged at 4.15c. to 4.20c. for No. 27, One Pass, Cold Rolled Soft Steel Sheets. Galvanized sheets are quoted at 65 per cent. off the list. No change has taken place in the pig-lead market, which is decidedly quiet. Prices remain unchanged from those ruling for some time past. American pig in small lots is quoted at 4.62½c. to 4¾c. per lb. Spelter continues to grow firmer. The consumption throughout the country is reported to be good, and while there may be some manipulating influence behind the present upward movement, no disposition is shown in any quarter to retard its progress. Producers consider that the price of this metal has been so low for the past two or three years that any advance would be welcome, no matter how it comes. Revised quotations will be found elsewhere in our tables of current prices.

Paints.—The opinions of dealers, as to the status of the market, differ, some announcing lively business, while others declare that the general tone of trade is quiet. The high price of linseed oil bothers manufacturers to some extent. Business in white lead continues on a fairly liberal scale, the movement of both dry lead and lead in oil being rather above the average for this season. Several changes in quotations have been made by manufacturers, and the oil list especially advanced. There is no abatement of the activity in dry colors, and between deliveries on current contracts and new business there is no room for accumulations of stocks in any line. While prices vary as to seller and quantity, the undertone of the market is firm.

Linseed Oil.—No changes developed this week in linseed oil, and the market was characterized by firmness. Although flaxseed was weak in the West, this decline had no effect on local oil, either for spot or future delivery. There is now no parity between oil and seed, as the price of the former is advanced solely because of market conditions. Seed selling at $1.60, however, yields linseed oil worth 65c. per gallon. One of the largest crushers reports that almost his entire output is being consumed, either by orders or in the open market, which leaves no considerable supply to accumulated stock. Futures as quoted by one of the independent firms were somewhat easier, and November oil was offered at 50c. The American Linseed Oil Co. has only one quotation in effect, that of 65c. for spot oil. Their futures have not yet been scheduled.

Glass.—The demand for window glass the past few weeks has not been up to expectations. One explanation is that the weather has continued mild, so that dealers have not been called upon to supply the requirements that accompany the first decidedly cold weather. There was a general start of the co-operative glass factories on October 15. The plants of the combine are expected to go into operation on November 1. Before Nov. 1 a meeting of the prominent firms will be held in New York to determine the schedule of prices for the ensuing year. Plate glass is moderately active. There has been no change in current quotations.

COUNTRY WORK OF NEW YORK ARCHITECTS.

Charles W. Leavitt, Jr., has recently been retained by the Saratoga Association, through W. C. Whitney, to plan and supervise the construction of the new track on the site of the present one. The new track is to be one and one-eighth miles long, with two chutes, one of which will be two furlongs in length. The construction of the new track will necessitate moving the grand stand, betting-ring, club-house, and the majority of the stables, and the grand stand will be enlarged when moved to its new site. Messrs. Pennell & Oliver, of Yonkers, N. Y., have been awarded the contract for the construction of the track, and Miles D. Bradley, of Saratoga, N. Y., the moving of the buildings. The same architect has been appointed by the Inter-State Pallisade Park Commission landscape engineer in charge of Pallisade Park. A thorough study of the best method of preserving and treating the Palisades will be made, and a corps of engineers will at once start making surveys, upon which to base studies and plans. It is intended by the commission that the matter be taken up in the most careful way, and it is intended that the public shall have full and free access, when the park is completed, which heretofore has only been seen from the river or on the east bank of the Hudson.

Of Interest to the Building Trades.

The Bronx branch of the Master Plumbers' Association has got itself established, and is in good working order. Additions to its membership are made at every meeting. The officers elected are: M. J. McDermott, president; Peter Schweeckert, vice-president; John V. McEvily, secretary; W. D. Clark, treasurer; D. L Delaney, financial secretary; Otto J. Spahn, sergeant-at-arms.

Plumbers are still complaining about the delay in the inspection of the lines by the Building Department, especially in jobs where the plasterer is following on the heels of the plumber. Another cause of complaint is that the horizontal and vertical lines are required to be tested at the same time, and this is frequently an impossibility, as often the cellar lines are put in and covered before the building is ready for vertical lines at all.

The Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., will receive bids November 7, at 2 p. m., for the general construction of the U. S. Custom House at New York, N. Y. Drawings and specifications may be had of the Supervising Architect, James Knox Taylor, on application to his office at Washington, or the office of the Architect, Cass Gilbert, 111 5th av, New York, N. Y. Applications must be accompanied by a certified check for $250, which will be held until the return of drawings and specifications.

THE JERSEY MEADOW PURCHASE.

A second large purchase of meadow land near Jersey City and Newark, N. J., has been made. This time 930 acres in Kearney township have been sold to Henry L. Sprague, of No. 15 Broad st, New York City. The earlier purchase embraced adjoining land to the north in Bergen Co. It is said that the purchase is in the interest of a syndicate, and that the identity and purpose of its members will be announced soon. It is also alleged that the Hackensack Meadow Co., which was recently incorporated, will build dikes, wharves, warehouses and factories, and also spurs connecting with the various railways centering in Jersey City and vicinity.

SASH AND DOOR COMBINATION.

A Minneapolis dispatch dated Oct. 23 says that the sash and door interests of the country have been united into one great combination. G. L. Poole, representative of a New York banking firm that is promoting the deal, left for the East last night with options on all but one of the big factories in this city. The factory-owners will receive part cash, part common stock and part preferred stock, and the men will be retained in the local managements. Other big centres are Oshkosh, Wausau, Merrill and La Crosse, Wis.; Dubuque, Davenport, Clinton and Muscatine, Ia.; and Rock Island, Ill.

BUILDERS' BRIDGES.

The decision of Justice Blanchard, given last June, refusing to continue a preliminary injunction which Frederick Gerken had secured restraining Charles Ward Hall, the owner of the Morse Building, at Nassau and Beekman sts, from erecting and maintaining a wooden bridge in front of Mr. Gerken's cafe on the first floor of the building, has been affirmed by the Appellate Division. To comply with the regulations of the building department, while making extensive alterations to the Morse Building, besides the addition of several stories to its height, Mr. Hall had erected a temporary wooden structure for the protection of passers-by. The contention of Mr. Gerken was that this wooden bridge seriously impaired his enjoyment of the premises by cutting off light and air, and ingress and egress. The appellate court, Presiding Justice Van Brunt dissenting, adopts the opinion of Justice Blanchard. The latter, after referring to these alleged impairments of the plaintiff's rights, said: "This may be true to a certain extent, although it is denied by the defendant. Nevertheless, I am far from satisfied that the injuries, if any, which will result to plaintiff by the completion and maintenance of the structure as proposed will be of an irreparable character, or such that plaintiff has no adequate remedy at law therefor. * * * A continuance of the injunction, under the circumstances of this case, would seem to work a greater hardship to defendant than the vacation of it would to plaintiff. It would be establishing a dangerous precedent to grant an injunction in every case where, as here, the possible rights and privileges of a tenant are temporarily, but not unnecessarily, interfered with by proposed alterations and improvements to the landlord's building, even though the tenant may suffer some damage thereby. To hold otherwise would seriously affect future building operations and timely and necessary improvements of buildings." Presiding Justice Van Brunt, in dissenting, says: "If the rule adopted in this case is to prevail, tenants have no protection whatever against aggressions of their landlords, when such landlords have the ability to respond to any judgment which may be recovered in an action at law. This is the first time in the history of jurisprudence of this State, so far as I have been able to learn, that a covenant for quiet enjoyment has been deliberately violated by a landlord and no protection has been afforded to the tenant except his right to bring an action for damages."

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing a Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482, denote that the property is in section 2 block 482.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers, the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—The letters R. S. mean Revenue Stamp, as R. S. $8.00 means Revenue Stamp $8.00.

Tax on Conveyances executed prior to July 1st, 1901, on $100 to $500, 50c., and for each additional $500 or fraction thereof, 50c.; on Conveyances executed on and after July 1st, 1901, 25c., where consideration exceeds $2,500 and is not more than $3,000, and 25c. for each additional $500 or fraction thereof.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage is drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find Mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instruments as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

October 18, 19, 21, 22, 23, 24.

Editor Record & Guide:

In your issue of the 12th inst., there is published a notice of lien against the R. C. Orphan Asylum and ourselves for $513.00. This is a claim against our sub-contractors, for plastering (Mertz & Gibbs), for lime furnished them. Laing & Noonan took a note from Mertz & Gibbs, which they claim was not paid, so they liened the premises. We deposited the money with the County Clerk and released the lien, and will fight the claim. We look upon the action of Laing & Noonan and their attorneys as most unwarranted and they must have based their anticipation of the success of their action more upon their knowledge of our regard for our good name than upon the justice of their claim.

Questions and Answers.

UNION RAILWAY ON CENTRAL BRIDGE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I have been unable to find any account of the granting to the Union Railway the right to cross Central Bridge in the last two numbers of the Record and Guide.

Answer.—You will find it mentioned in the issue of Oct. 12th, page 455. The Assembly have asked the Board of Estimate to fix the value of the franchise, presumably as a preliminary to taking final action.—Editor, Record and Guide.

COMMISSION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

To settle a controversy, will you kindly decide the following in your next issue: A is agent for an apartment house owned by B. B terminates A's agency as soon as he has rendered his August account, and without any previous notice. (1) A claims that he is entitled to his agency commission on the rent paid direct to owner by one tenant (tenant doing so on account of the dispute with A), for several months past. (2) A also claims the usual commission as a broker for renting an apartment last spring less what he has charged as agent, from month to month, for collecting this tenant's rent. B claims he should have charged from month to month on rent paid direct to owner, otherwise he has waived it, and as agent he is not entitled to charge any commission as a broker, for renting apartments. Which is right?

Answer.—If A had charge of the house and did not merely collect rent, it would appear that he is entitled to commission on rent paid directly to owner. (2) If A agreed to rent and collect for a certain stated commission, as is the custom, it is doubtful if he could go back and claim commission for renting because his agreement was terminated, especially if settlements were made under the agreement from time to time prior to its cancellation.—Editor, Record and Guide.

AGENT'S COMMISSION

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you kindly decide the following question, which has arisen between these two parties: Owner, A, has two houses which he wishes to rent. B, who is the broker, had noticed several signs on these houses for a long time, but they did not seem to rent. A came to see B, after a time, and agreed to let B put sign on these houses "For Rent," and B did so. Pure luck or plenty of hustle, B had the good fortune to rent both of the houses one after the other, I think, inside of a month after B's sign was put up. This was some four years ago. A paid the brokerage for renting the houses, 2½ per cent., and allowed B to collect the rents at the regular commission of 2½ per cent. for a time, and then threatened to take them away unless B would do the collecting, and taking charge for 2 per cent., which B consented to do. One of the tenants is still on the property; the other tenant left something over a year ago. The house has stood vacant since. A again allowed several brokers to put signs on the house in question, but the house did not seem to rent, and it stood vacant until this fall, when B succeeded in getting a tenant again, and charged the regular commission of 2½ per cent. for getting said tenant. The question is, is not B entitled to this commission? A says not, but B thinks he is entitled to same, and retained the amount, 2½ per cent., on a year's lease, and sent A a check for the balance. Answer this, who is right, A or B?

Answer.—B.—Law Editor.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

... The New Rapid Transit Route

The interest taken in the new underground rapid transit route shows clearer than anything else how closely the future value of millions of dollars' worth of real estate is connected with this long-deferred enterprise.

So great was the demand for the rapid-transit maps issued recently by the Record and Guide, that the entire edition was exhausted.

A new edition is now ready for delivery: price, 10 cents; postage extra, 2 cents. The map has also been printed on bond paper. Price, 25 cents; postage extra, 2 cents.

Every real estate broker, and all who are interested in real estate should possess this map. It gives the route of the new transit lines, the location of all stations, sections of the road, etc. Will be needed for constant reference. Order at once.

Vol. LXVIII. NOVEMBER 2, 1901. No. 1755.

THE Stock Market has disappointed its friends this week by taking fright very easily at unfavorable developments and being too impatient and too readily disappointed by the delay in the announcement of a settlement of the Union Pacific-Northern Pacific imbroglio. There is still some good outside buying both of stocks and bonds, but it is very discriminating if not actually suspicious, and in the main the market has reverted to professionalism. As the professional is bearish prices in these circumstances, naturally, show a tendency to decline. All that had been expected was a rally—a break in the downward movement, and we do not appear to be going to have even that, unless the small advance we saw in the last two or three weeks was the rally, and was not recognized when it came. This is possible because things are so different now to what they used to be, and so regardless of precedent that it is very hard to find out just what they mean. Of course the great standing menace that any who undertake to advance prices have to meet is found in the consideration that comes from a comparison of present quotations with those of a comparatively recent past. When this is made, the fact that there has been a decline anywhere up to 30 or more points in individual cases since the spring, counts for little, because the range between the lowest and present quotations is still very great. This week's change of market-front must be largely attributed to the increased importance of money as a factor in both the investment and speculative fields. Rates cannot be said to be high for a period of great industrial and commercial activity, but there is not only no confidence in their permanence, but some fears of a shortage and stringency. The renewal of offers of relief by the Treasury which may be, on the whole, wise and necessary are not reassuring. Some feel encouraged by them, but the majority regard askance a commercial condition that needs official and extraneous supports.

PART of the agitation of our own money market is due to the advance of the Bank of England rate of discount to the war figure of 4 per cent. An advance had been expected, but not one of one per cent made at once. This action of the Bank shows that its governors appraise the situation at a serious rate and think the case can only be met by radical action. This view is supported by the fact that the jump in the rate comes at a moment when it was thought that London had been relieved by the transference of the demand of Paris for gold to the New York market. This must have given some relief, but evidently it was not enough, hence the action of the Bank had to be so pronounced as to guard not only its own reserves, but to reassure its public also. The latest development in the European commercial situation is a collapse in ocean freight rates, one of the chain of events that produces the extreme decline from an extremity of activity. It looks as if shipping interests have now come face to face with their period of trial, of what duration they cannot say, but it is now clear that there is at present an over-supply of tonnage in the world; and, second, that the volume of merchandise requiring sea transport will be less in the near future than it has been in the recent past. With regard to the first, there is no remedy in sight, while almost every shipyard is booked full of work for several months to come, and British, American, German, and even Japanese shipbuilders are steadily increasing their output. The "tramp" owner suffers most from the present condition of the shipping trade. For not only is he caught by the depression in freights and the elevation in working expenses, but he is being driven out of the best routes by the big cargo "liner." Between this country and the chief ports of North Europe all the carrying trade is, or can be, done by the mammoth cargo boats of the great lines, carrying as much on one voyage as an ordinary "tramp" can carry in four or five voyages. The tramps displaced from the North Atlantic have to seek employment elsewhere, and in the African, Eastern and Colonial trades they are finding the same sort of thing developing.

PROBABLY of greater importance than the departmental appropriations made by the budget, just completed by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, are the appropriations for new improvements contained in the table of bonds to be hereafter issued given in another column. This shows the policy of the Board toward those great works by which real estate is benefited and the building business encouraged. It will be noticed that large provision is made for docks and school buildings and the completion and extension of the park system. One item that is to be especially commended is the generous allotment of bonds for work on the New East River Bridge, $3,500,000, as compared with that, $600,000, for other bridges between Manhattan and Brooklyn. This is as it should be. The Record and Guide has several times pointed out that, as far as possible, all the funds available for bridging the East River ought to be concentrated, where they will bring the earliest possible relief to the one over-taxed structure that furnishes the transpontine connection of the two boroughs. If any criticism could be made on these anticipatory bond authorizations it might be of the amount set apart for repaving, as $2,000,000 is a small amount to apply to the necessities of all the boroughs under this head. The condition of the pavements of the city as a whole is such that the city government ought really to adopt a more generous policy towards them, in order that they may be brought up somewhere nearer modern standards.

THE protest of the Broadway merchants against the proposed line of surface cars on Elm street is from every point of view justifiable. To grant a franchise for a surface road on Elm street would simply be a violation of good faith on the part of the city. Elm street was widened, and the property of the unfortunate property owners taken over by the city for the specific purpose of affording a truckway for the business of the dry-goods district. As it is scarcely necessary to point out, trucking to and from lofts in that section is carried on at present with the greatest difficulty. Broadway is crowded, and municipal ordinances forbid the backing of trucks on that thoroughfare; the other streets running up and down town are narrow and inconvenient; only Elm street is left for the purpose of affording the necessary thoroughfare for street traffic; and it would be the height of folly, as well as a matter of bad faith, to turn it over to the Metropolitan Traction Company. Were Elm street really a wide street, the admission of surface cars would not make very much difference; but its width is such that two rows of tracks would leave very little space for trucks or carriages, and it would be necessary there as on Broadway to enforce a municipal regulation against backing in. The reasons against the proposed line are so obvious and overwhelming that any further action on the part of the municipal authorities in favor of the Metropolitan Traction Co. will be closely scrutinized, and will be regarded with extreme suspicion. No reasonable compensation would justify the granting of the franchise.

PROPERTY-OWNERS will doubtless feel somewhat relieved that the Budget for the coming year promises to be somewhat less than the Budget for the current year, and that, according to Comptroller Coler, there is a prospect that the tax rate will be reduced as much as 10 cents. But it must be remembered that the only reason that there does not promise to be an increase rather than a diminution is that the city's contribution to the state taxes will be $2,443,527 less than it is in 1901, and that had not this margin existed they might have looked forward not to less but to more taxes. A temporary stop-gap has been provided, but the future is still threatening, and the necessity for the adoption of some policy, whereby expenditure will be diminished or revenues increased without additional taxation as urgent and as unavoidable as ever.

THE municipal campaign now closing has assuredly been one of the most remarkable in the history of the city. Never have the issues at stake been more intelligently and thoroughly discussed. Never has there been so little chatter about merely irrelevant and unimportant matters. Never has the party warfare been waged on the whole with more dignity and propriety. Never has there been a better prospect for good government, no matter which candidate for Mayor is elected. The great gain is that both candidates represented a high standard of integrity, intelligence and knowledge, and that the voters seem to appreciate this fact, and to have responded by showing a deeper and better interest in the issues at stake. A few more campaigns of the same kind, and the city of New York will be emancipated from machine rule by any party, and will be governed, as every democratic organization should be governed, not by machine dictation, but under the influence of the able and searching discussion of alternative policies. Consolidation has had many deplorable effects upon the municipal government of the greater city; but it appears to have awakened the citizens of New York to a livelier sense of the importance of the problems of their local government.

The Real Estate Situation

The sale of the Toplitz property awakened considerable interest on Tuesday of last week, because it afforded a good test of the present demand for unimproved real estate, and because, since it was the second time the property had been offered, it also afforded an opportunity to compare prices which the property brought with those which were offered early in the spring of 1900. The sale was a success, in that different parcels were for the most part actually purchased by outsiders, whereas in 1900 one section of the heirs believed it necessary to bid most of the property in, so as to protect their interests. At the same time property in, so as to protect their interests. The prices obtained, however, were only fair; and had it not been for the appearance of Mr. S. G. Bayne in the market as a buyer, they would have been decidedly less. The Greene street parcel situated between Prince and Spring streets, brought $48,750 against $48,500 in 1900, and was purchased partly by outsiders and partly by parties in interest. The lot on the north corner of Riverside Drive and 93d street went to Mr. Bayne at $37,000, an advance of $3,500 in the year and a half, which, however, did not more than cover the money which had since been spent in removing the rock on the lot. The other two lots on Riverside Drive, situated between 122d and 123d streets and only 86 feet deep, fetched a total of $18,300 against the former price of $17,300. Mr. Bayne, also, gathered in the four lots running through from 166th to 167th streets, between Amsterdam and Edgecombe avenues, at a total of $21,500 against the 1900 total of $16,500, which was a small enough advance considering the improved prospects for Washington Heights property. The corners of Edgecombe avenue and the two streets were bought in the interest of one of the heirs at a small advance over the former figures, but have since been resold to Mr. Bayne at a profit of $1,300. The corner of Bradhurst avenue and 150th street went to one of the heirs at $7,100, only $100 more than the earlier price. The most substantial advance recorded was that for the four lots, running through from 125th street to 126th street, between 7th and 8th avenues, and improved with brownstone flats, which brought $113,100 against 105,500, 18 months ago. The prospects of this property also have been much improved by the approaching settlement of the Heights. The seven lots on the corner of Manhattan avenue and 108th street, went to outsiders at about ordinary figures. The only parcel that brought actually less than eighteen months ago were the nine lots on the north side of 113th street, 100 feet east of Broadway, and their value was much diminished by the fact that their improvement is restricted to dwellings. The other parcel on 60th street, between 1st avenue and Avenue A, was not offered at the former sale. Later in the week some well rented property in the dry-goods districts were offered in a partition sale; but every parcel was bid in for the plaintiff without any outside competition. Real estate for investment purposes is still under a cloud.

Vacant Property at Auction.

It cannot be said that the developments of the week have been particularly satisfactory. The auction market has been interesting, but rather because opportunities which have been neglected than those which have been accepted. Some few large sales have been announced; but their significance appears to be rather exceptional than normal. It was inevitable that the remaining half of the Goold-Hoyt property on Pine street would soon be sold, because the location had become peculiarly available for a tall office building, in that the light and air on three sides of such a building would be secured by the uses to which these surrounding buildings were to be devoted. Consequently the chance to erect such a building on the plot was unusual, and it does not indicate that next spring much additional building of the same kind will be going on. The only projects for improvements down-town so far announced are the Borreel Building, the new four-story Speyer Building, and this twelve-story project for the property just sold. In addition there may be one or two new office buildings near Battery place; but in view of the enormous quality of new office space that will be offered for rent next spring and fall, it is incredible that just now many more similar improvements will be projected. There have been a couple of sales on lower 5th avenue which have a certain interest, because of the proximity of the property affected to other property sold last spring. One of these, No. 12 Fifth avenue, adjoins the McCormick purchase, and, although the name of the buyer is not announced, it may have been taken over in the same interest. The other is No. 62 Fifth avenue adjoining and surrounding Mr. Thomas F. Ryan's purchase on the corner of 12th street. Here again the name of the buyer has not been divulged, but there is at least a presumption that Mr. Ryan's large existing interests in the neighborhood may have led to the present purchase. There have been the usual sales between Long Acre Square and 5th avenue, and about as much buying of private residences as has been customary of late the most noteworthy of these being the purchase by Henry Sigel of the southwest corner of Madison avenue and 82d street. But the great trouble with the present situation is that those parts of the city, which usually furnish a large proportion both of the sales and of the plans for improvement are practically dead. The tenement house districts and the West Side, the great regions of former expansion and activity are in a condition of quiet, rarely equaled in the last ten years; the building plans filed are confined almost entirely to office buildings, family hotels, and small stuff, while those announced do not offer much prospect of future activity. The market, except along certain lines, is still hesitant and waiting.

A Monotonous Week.

IN the Edgecombe avenue decision, of which so much political use has been made in the past week, Justice Bischoff, takes the same view of the damage to be awarded owners when their property in private streets is taken by condemnation, that was taken by the commission of condemnation in the Hamilton terrace case given in these columns last August. This was that the judicial direction on which the property owners' case was based, to make substantial awards to abutting owners in private streets which were being converted into public streets, did not mean that considerable sums must be awarded; but used the word "substantial" only as distinguished from "nominal," and that the awards should conform to the actual values only, and that the court did not intend to authorize any award, no matter how inconsiderable in excess of the actual real damage factually, if such a word can be used, established by the proof. Justice Bischoff's ruling forms a new precedent as this is the first time a court has taken such a position. The Hamilton terrace report has not yet been before the court.

EVERY visitor to the Pan-American Exposition will regret that the undertaking will have to be paid for by the people who made it, rather than by the people who enjoyed it. The total losses will exceed $4,000,000. The stockholders will take out nothing for the $2,500,000 which they invested. The contractors who did the work stand to lose, so it is stated, fully $1,000,000; and the issue of second mortgage bonds will be defaulted, as well as twenty per cent of the first mortgage bonds. The enterprise deserved a more successful issue, for it was planned with the utmost liberality; its architects and builders created an exposition which ranked high as a work of art, and which was both full of good ideas, and was an entertaining place to visit. Yet it is easy to understand why it failed. Although situated in a subordinate city, it was planned upon a national scale, and the expense of making it was heavy compared to the location and the business importance of Buffalo. A large and expensive exposition can succeed only in a large city, because, it is really the permanent residents, the people who make constant visits to the grounds, who swell the income to large proportions. Buffalo was too small a city to pay for its exposition out of gate-receipts, so the stockholders must make up the deficiency. Another drawback which told against the success of the exposition was the fact that there was no really interesting and important occasion for such a display. Pan-Americanism as an excuse was a failure, and there was nothing else to take its place.

The Funeral of the Late Richard V. Harnett.

The last services over the remains of the late Richard V. Harnett were held on Saturday last at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, Broadway and 71st st, the requiem mass being celebrated by the Rev. Matthew A. Taylor. Representatives of the Board of Brokers met at 10.30 o'clock at the residence, on West 72d st, and with the family, relatives and intimate acquaintances accompanied the remains to the church, which was already filled with the friends of the deceased. During the services the choir sang "Lead Kindly Light" and "Nearer My God, to Thee." The coffin was completely covered with flowers and wreaths. The pallbearers were H. H. Cammann, Ex-Judge George M. Van Hoesen, J. Langdon Ward, Ira D. Warren, Judge Joseph F. Daly and Theodore Weed. The body was interred in Greenwood Cemetery.

Ante-New Law Tenements.

AN ODD CONSTRUCTION PROVING THE NEED OF A DISCRETIONARY CLAUSE—THE OWNER'S DILEMMA.

Recently the Record and Guide published statements from several architects who had filed plans for new tenements and apartments with the Department of Buildings, which showed the unwisdom of making laws relating to construction arbitrary, and leaving no discretion with the department to allow modifications to meet exceptional cases, and when the strict observance of the law would work hardship without corresponding benefit to the public; or, perhaps, where the modification would meet the requirements for health and safety equally as well as the strict observance of the form laid down in the law. The diagram given below will serve to show that a discretionary power is just as much needed with regard to tenements existing before the passage of the Tenement House Act of this year.

The diagram in a general way shows a form of construction uncommon, it is true, but yet to be found in several parts of the city, and which, considering what was generally given in tenements at the time when it was used, has much to recommend it. On the ground floor the hall runs clear through from street to yard, and on the upper floors from the front apartments, as the diagram shows, to a glass-panelled door and transoms opening onto the fire escape. As is customary in tenement houses, all doors used in common are usually left open, so it follows that an agent would not need to draw upon his imagination to describe these halls as "unusually light and airy," especially airy. It will be noticed, too, that there are four shafts, in one of which each apartment has windows, but these are old-fashioned lath and plaster shafts, covered with skylights and not always extending down into the basement. Now, what must an owner of this house do under the new law? He may be imagined seeking advice on this important question.

"In the first place," he asks, "must I put a louvred skylight over the stairwell?"

"Yes, you'll have to do that; the law says so."

"But the halls are light enough, and, if anything, too airy now."

"That doesn't matter; the act says: This law is mandatory, and the official executing the same shall not read 'may' for 'shall.' "

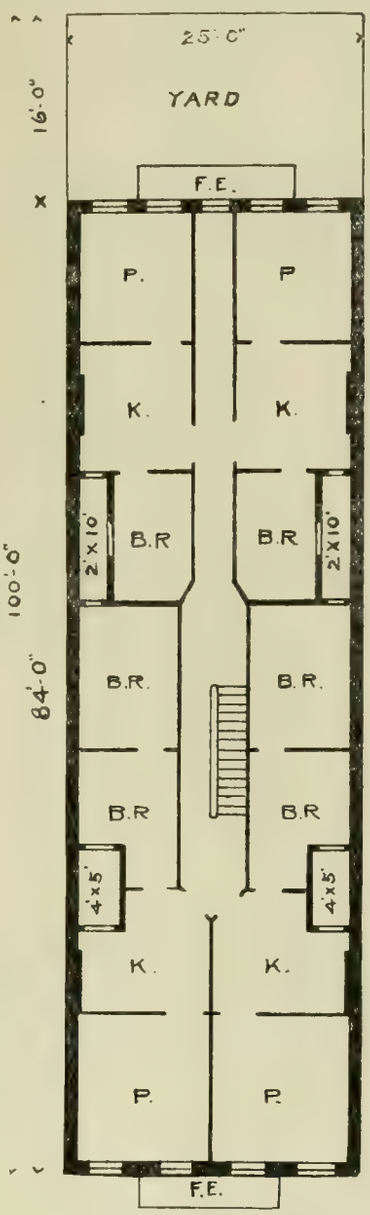
"Well, the tenants will kick, I know, and it will cost considerable, but I suppose I must put in the skylight. But now the light and ventilation of the rooms are all right, aren't they?"

"Hum, let's see. The law says no room shall be used unless opening onto a street or yard or a shaft 25 sq. ft. in area, or onto the front or rear room by a window 3x5. Now, you have shafts, but they are not 25 sq. ft. in area, and although you have 40 sq. ft. of shaft space on each side of your building, you will have to put in new shafts, making the least dimension 4 ft. and the construction fireproof."

"But I can't do that; it will cost too much. Four shafts would cost—I don't know how much—four or five thousand dollars at least, besides taking away two rooms on each floor."

"Then you will have instead to put a window 3x5 in the partition between the first and second rooms, and knock out the partition between the second and third."

"What, make two-room apartments! why no one would take them. What should I do then?"



"Let's see; here's the act. No, it does not say what you are to do if you cannot get tenants for your rooms after you've made the alteration. I must say that for the law, it leaves you complete liberty of action in that event, except that you mustn't put the building back as it was when you could get tenants for it."

"But, come now; with my light halls and four shafts, they won't make me spoil my apartments. Seriously, you don't think that?"

"If the law is carried out that will be the result. But supposing your shafts were big enough, they wouldn't do. You have skylights on them; they must come off."

"But that will let in the rain and snow and ruin the plaster."

"That's your lookout. There again the law—most inconsistent thing for it to do—lets you do as you like so long as you take the skylights off and provide drainage and intakes to the shafts. Now, let's go to some other things—you have school sinks in your yard—"

"Oh! you needn't go into that. My equity in the house is worth at most five thousand dollars, and the alterations would cost more than that, besides giving me a lot of trouble. I can save the trouble, anyway; I'll leave that to the mortgagee; he'll get the property in the end, and he may as well have the trouble with it."

It cannot be said that if the law had allowed the exercise of a little official common sense, this conversation would never have taken place, because it never did take place; but something more than that may be said, and that is, if the law had been less suspicious of official integrity and less rigid, this conversation would never have been even imagined.

Park Ave. Assessment.

A meeting of property-owners was held in Majestic Hall, East 125th st, on Wednesday evening, to organize an association to contest the assessment for the raising of the railroad tracks on Park av, and work incident thereto. The amount to be paid by the city, and assessed on adjoining and contiguous property, is in the neighboorhood of $800,000. Officers for a permanent organization were elected as follows: J. M. Horton, President; William Hay, Vice-President; F. W. Sander, Second Vice-President; David H. Scully, Secretary; John Armstrong, Treasurer. A Ways and Means Committee of twenty-five was named, and a considerable fund subscribed to undertake the work immediately necessary. It was stated at the meeting that in 1890 Congress passed an act requiring all railroad bridges over rivers to be at least 24 ft. above high spring tide mark, and that the so-called Park Avenue improvement was engineered to enable the Central and Harlem Railroads to comply with this act, while escaping as much of the cost as possible.

The State and the City's Tax Assets.

The Department of Taxes and Assessments have filed their report for the last quarter with the Mayor, and President Feitner has this to say in reference to the policy of the State towards this city in the matter of taxation:

The State Board of Equalization paid its annual visit to this department on August 27 last, and on that occasion we again urged upon their consideration the injustice enacted against this city year after year in overvaluing its real estate by comparison with the other counties of the State, and cited as indicative of the methods habitually pursued by them, the increase by this department of seven een per cent on the real estate valuations of this city for the year 1899, while the State Board credited us with but three per cent increase in that year. Nor is this studied indifference and wilful disregard of the plain statements and vigorous protests of our department against this annually reoccurring injustice the measure of the iniquities that we must bear.

The inequality of the apportionment of the State tax was exhaustively reviewed in our report of July, 1899. At that time, basing our statements upon the reports of the State Comptroller and the State Superinendent of Public Instruction for 1899, and the census of 1892, we conclusively showed that in 30 counties of the State the cost of government to each inhabitant was 2 3-10 cents, while to each inhabitant of Greater New York, for direct taxation, it was at the same time $1.70, and recent legislation has aggravated this condition for the city.

We have before sounded a note of warning on the subject of the invasion of our assets by the State Board and the Legislature through many mediums, viz.: The Excise tax, the Transfer tax, the Trust Company tax, the Savings Bank tax, exempting the unearned premiums of insurance companies, and others. The figures given below are a few instances which show that these taxes are very largely paid by the citizens of this city.

Total Liquor Tax receipts by the State, 1900	$12,622,957.79
Of which New York City pays	8,032,355.28
Total Transfer Tax receipts by the State, 1900
Of which New York City pays	3,615,420.56
Total Trust Company Tax receipts by the State, 1900	1,398,799.00
Of which New York City pays 96 per cent

These are not all, but they wil serve to illustrate our contention that the State Board and the Legislature are reaching out for our assets.

Improvement Bonds.

The budget just completed by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment contains the following table of bonds to be issued for improvements, from which may be gathered an idea of the policy the Board of Estimate and Apportionment think ought to be adopted in regard to the extension of the educational, commercial and recreative works that the city is responsible for:

New Fifth Avenue Hotel.

The New England Hotel Company, which was incorporated recently under the laws of the State of Vermont, with $500,000 capital stock, for the purpose of building a hotel, have already selected a site on or near 5th av, and will shortly begin active building operations. The hotel when completed will be managed by W. H. Valiquette. The company intend to build rather on the lines of the Holland House, though larger in size. The incorporators are: W. H. Valiquette, No. 230 West 42d st; Charles H. Perot, No. 140 Pearl st, New York, and Percival W. Cement, Frederich H. Button and Henry G. Smith, of Rutland, Vermont.

No Power of Arrest.

The Council decided on Tuesday that it was not desirable to make violations of the Building Code misdemeanors. The Committee on Law reported adversely the amendment to section 150 of the code, introduced for that purpose at the request of the Department of Buildings, and a motion to adopt the report was carried without opposition, as was also another placing on file the resolution of the Board of Aldermen asking concurrent action on the proposed amendment. This effectually disposes of the movement to carry into the code an obnoxious provision abolished fifteen or sixteen years ago, and revived since only in the Tenement House Law of last spring. This result is said to be mainly due to the good sense and effort of Adolph C. Hottenroth, Chairman of the Committee on Law; Vice-President John T. Oakley, candidate for the office of Sheriff; and Frank J. Goodwin, who is seeking election as Register.

Building and Engineering Trades' Directory of New York.

The Building and Engineering Trades' Directory of New York for the current year is just published and ready for delivery. This directory, as is well known, contains a much more complete and trustworthy list of individuals and firms interested in the building trades than any other medium of its kind published, and the names are so arranged and indexed as to reduce to a minimum the difficulty in finding them. Its scope is best indicated by its own descriptive title—asserting that it contains complete lists of architects, engineers, builders, contractors and all other professions and trades identified with construction interests, together with manufacturers and dealers in all kinds of materials, apparatus and supplies used in the construction, furnishing and equipment of building and engineering projects. The main list is classified according to the different trades with which the names appearing are connected, and this main list is supplemented by a very complete system of indexing. Not only is there an index of the classified headings which has been compiled and arranged in the most comprehensive form by means of cross-reference headings, but there is also an alphabetical index of all names of individuals and firms represented in the directory—an entirely new feature in a publication of this character. This book is published by The F. W. Dodge Co., 289 4th av, New York City. The price is $5.00.

Poor's Manual.

The change that has taken place in the ownership of an immense mileage of railroad in this country of late years makes Poor's Manual more than ever a necessary part of the library of the investor, the economist and the business man. This is because the Manual gives all the desired information in a comprehensive way, and with semi-official warrant. The increase in the usefulness of the current number is to-day as great as was that which recorded the new status of railroad securities brought about by the receiverships and reorganizations that followed the evil days of '93 and thereabouts. This number is the 34th, and has just been issued in the familiar form, but with the contents enlarged to cover the new situation and the developments that have taken place in steam and electric transit and carrying facilities. It is unnecessary to describe in detail the contents of a work so well known. A few of its most important features connected with the situation previously referred to, it may be well, however, to mention. One of these is the officially revised maps of most of the leading railroad systems, and, another, the comprehensive series of tables descriptive of the funded debts of the several companies, containing every item of importance an investor wants to know relating to each security individually. Altogether, the current number maintains the standard of its predecessors, plus the additions required by later enterprise and the broadening of the investment field. The Manual is published by H. V. and H. W. Poor, at No. 44 Broad st.

Re [illegible]tate Men and Registration.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

It is well known that a large number of "floaters" register several times from tenement houses and dwelling houses. These men have no politics, but simply register and vote for the money offered by the highest bidder. If real estate owners would verify the names registered from their buildings and report the facts to the police or to the State deputies of Chief McCullough the amount of false registry might be considerably reduced. The writer has done so from a tenement house owned by him, and he hopes that other property-owners will do likewise before election day.

5th av, No. 62, and 12th st, No. 11 West, are said to have been sold. Title stands in the name of Helen Talbot. This property has been in the market, but Charles N. Talbot, when seen on the premises, said that it had been withdrawn, but would not say that it had not been sold. The 5th av parcel is 51.6x125, and the abutting 11th st property 25x103.3. The asking price has been $275,000. The property surrounds No. 60, at the northwest corner of 5th av and 12th st, a 4-sty dwelling, on plot 50.9x125, purchased in February by Thomas F. Ryan for $200,000. Mr. Ryan is said to be the buyer of the Talbot property; he also owns the northeast corner of 5th av and 12th st, a plot fronting 131 feet on 5th av and 150 feet on 12th st, which he purchased for $385,000.

This borough cannot say it has been neglected by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment when that body provided for the issue of bonds for new works of development in the budget for next year, just completed. For, besides participating with the other boroughs in the appropriations for schoolhouses, new paving, and other things, it receives special provisions as follows: Museum of Arts and Sciences, $300,000; Hall of Records, $500,000; Water Supply, $2,120,000. The general and miscellaneous provisions for bond issues in the coming year will be found in the table of Improvement Bonds given on another page.

The Realty Associates, the new influential corporation recently organized with a large capital that was all subscribed by their organizers, have bought twenty 4-sty brick single flats on 58th and 59th sts, between 3d and 4th avs; the purchase price is said to be about $150,000. The object of this company has been announced as being to trade in income-paying property in the city of New York and paying considerable, if not special attention to such property in this borough.

Lively interest was shown in some of the offerings of Bay Ridge lots made by James L. Brumley on Wednesday, but as a whole, the sale was disappointing. Buyers displayed no adequate appreciation of the advance made by this section under both public and private improvements, and its suitability as a field for profitable building operations, to say nothing of its speculative attractiveness. Faith in it was not altogether lacking, however, as will be seen from the purchases made by W. E. Parfitt, E. J. Rustin and F. C. Vaughn, which will be found recorded in our column of "Sales of the Week." The block front on the shore road, between 71st and 72d sts, sold in three nearly equal plots at $9,300, $10,050 and $11,250, respectively, Walter E. Parfitt securing the 72d st corner and E. J. Rustin the other two plots. A small house on Bay Ridge av, with two lots, sold for $4,200, and a single lot adjoining for $700. Two lots on the northeast corner of Narrows av and 72d st went for $725 each, and inside lots on 72d st for $525 to $550. These prices naturally did not encourage the continuance of the sale.

Real Estate Notes.

Joseph P. Day represented the Fitzgerald estate in the sale of No. 328 West 72d st, reported in our last issue.

Frank L. Fisher Co. were the brokers in the sale of the northwest corner of Riverside Drive and 81st st, reported in our last issue.

The United States Savings Bank, now at No. 633 Madison av, is the buyer of No. 606 Madison av, southwest corner of 58th st. The bank will occupy the property after extensive alterations.

Samuel W. Clark, of No. 149 Broadway, makes a specialty of negotiating mortgage loans exclusively. He is an experienced worker, with good facilities for quick work. Telephone 4712 Cortlandt av calls Mr. Clark's office.

James Rufus Smith has finally taken title to the southeast corner of Mercer st and Washington place, which he bought at foreclosure in June for $168,000; he gives a mortgage of $125,000 at 4½ per cent. to the Irving Savings Institution, who were the plaintiffs in the foreclosure action.

Edward G. Hewitt is the buyer of Nos. 295 to 297 Pearl st, sale of which was reported in our last issue. He paid $40,500 for the property, and owns abutting property on Cliff st. He will not improve, as has been stated, having simply bought the property as an investment.

The Court of Appeals have reversed the Appellate Division ruling, which sustained a decision of the Commission of Estimate and Assessment appointed to acquire title to land required for the Speedway, refusing to consider the claims of owners for damages for loss of riparian rights.

The Scottish Realty Company of New York City has been incorporated with a capital of $500,000. The directors are: George E. Green, of Binghamton; James A. Davis, of Boston; George W. Sweeny, Francis C. Hamilton and Frank S. Baker, of New York City; I. C. Reed and William S. Farmer, of Syracuse.

Barry & McLaughlin is the firm name of two young real estate brokers who have recently opened handsome offices at No. 3418 3d av, near 166th st. Mr. Barry is a son of the well-known builder of that name, and Mr. McLaughlin has been interested in building until recently. They will do a general real estate business, including the placing of mortgage loans.

The firm of Charles R. Faruolo & Co., Italian real estate agents, 45 East Houston st, has very large and spacious offices and makes a specialty of leasing, selling and renting property, and collecting rents. The firm's departments for placing fire and plate glass insurance are very up to date. The firm is very active and energetic, and its business is increasing rapidly. Within a few years this concern has risen to the front rank. The telephone call of the firm is No. 2243 Spring.

John J. Kavanagh is a long-established and successful broker who has for very many years made the district east of Central Park the seat of his best efforts. Numerous clients who were induced by Mr. Kavanagh to buy realty have greatly profited by the large increase in values east of Central Park. Mr. Kavanagh's office is at No. 1031 Madison av, corner of 79th st, and his records of East Side transactions are very complete.

Peter Gilsey, for a number of years identified with the real estate field, has opened offices for the transaction of a general real estate business at No. 60 Madison av, corner 27th st. Mr. Gilsey, although a young man, has had excellent training in his profession, having for several years been connected with the offices of F. De R Wissman and John N. Golding, where he received a thorough education in real estate matters that will prove a great value to him now.

The Bank of Washington Heights has been authorized to do a discount and deposit business in New York City by the State Superintendent of Banks. The capital is $200,000, and the bank also starts with a surplus of $100,000. The incorporators are: J. Edward Simmons, John Whalen, John B. McDonald, Andrew J. Cormick, Thomas Alexander, James G. Cameron, Samuel McMillan, David Stewart, John D. Beats and John H. Flagler. Robert B. Hoguet is President.

The State Railroad Commission have recommended that the Union Railway Company construct a branch in Morris av, Bronx, at the earliest possible moment. This decision is the outcome of a complaint of the Property Owners' Association of the 23d Ward, who asked the commission to determine whether the interests of the residents of that section did not require the construction of that branch, in view of the fact that the Union Railway Company has a franchise to build a road in Morris av.

The World of Building

Material Market.

The tone of the general market is strong and the continuation of activity which is a remarkable—the most remarkable feature of the situation does not warrant pessimistic views at the moment, whatever may be in store for the business world a couple of months ahead. It is improbable that a very large proportion of the present activity is due to new orders, and the approach of winter must have its usual effect in lessening operations. Owing to the combinative policy of the past decade, prices are now not dependent merely upon supply and demand, and a falling off in the latter would not have its old time force. That the present situation is good is shown by the reports from the iron trade, which are taken with barometrical significance. This market holds well. In finished material there is a scarcity in all lines for prompt shipment, except plates. In structural material, the mills this year have done an enormous business, and it is a surprise to the trade why prices on beams and channels and other structural material have not been advanced. It is suggested in explanation that the United States Steel Corporation's policy must be one of conservatism in prices, especially when it, as a monoply in some respects, is on trial and Congress will soon meet.

Lumber.—The general demand has been only moderate, but with light offerings of nearly all grades of lumber prices have been well maintained. Prices for Eastern spruce are stiff, and there is little in stock. Pine is active and very firm. There is a good call for State spruce at full values. Some improvement in demand for hardwoods is reported, there being a good call for ash, poplar and quartered oak, while plain oak is firm Prices of hemlock are well maintained, and demand continues excellent. North Carolina pine is firm, and box is scarce, with prices having a tendency to advance. Cypress is quiet, but prices are strong. Full figures are still obtained for yellow pine.

Lath.—There has been a sufficiently active demand to keep the market closely sold up, and prices are unchanged from last report.

Bricks, Lime and Cement.—Brick has held steady, and prices are well maintained. The demand for lime has continued sufficiently active to fairly well absorb offerings of Eastern and keep prices steady. A steady demand has continued to be noted for Rosendale and Portland cements, and prices have not changed.

Nails.—There continues to be a steady movement in wire nails, and the volume of business is very satisfactory. The market is feeling the effect of the efforts made by new concerns to secure business, who are making slight concessions of 5 to 10 cents on regular quotations, both to the jobbing trade and to the large retailers. This cutting gives some irregularity to the market. This irregularity in the price of wire nails from the mills has not affected the New York market, however, small lots from store being sold at $2.60 per keg.

Cut Nails.—The demand for cut nails in the New York market keeps up to the usual proportions. Some merchants object to the iron cut nails which are occasionally offered as a substitute for steel nails, on account of the scarcity of the latter. Cut nails from store are quoted at $2.18 to $2.30 per keg.

Paints.—Trade is very dull, and will probably remain quiet until February. Outdoor painting will soon be impossible, and retailers also report a listless market. White lead is very plentiful, but there is a strong demand, and the quotation has not changed since the cut of a few weeks back. Other leads and zincs are quiet.

Linseed Oil.—This market appears easier. Demand for instant delivery is strongest, and many believe that during November the market will become normal. Large consignments of seed will arrive within a few days at the Staten Island and Philadelphia mills of the American Company, and when these plants are running full the present stringency will be greatly relieved. Prices are unchanged.

Glass.—Representatives of the manufacturers and jobbers of window glass held a business meeting Tuesday in the Wool Exchange Building. The conference was called preparatory to the opening of the window glass factories on Nov. 1. William T. Gray, president of the National Window Glass Jobbers' Association, and James A. Chambers, president of the American Window Glass Co., were in attendance. The slackness of the demand for window glass was discussed and several propositions relative to this were offered. Nothing definite, however, was decided upon. No change in the schedule of prices was recorded.

Jules Gerneart, representing the Belgian plate and window glass trades, laid a proposition before the directors of the Pittsburg Plate Glass Co. this week to form a combination or selling agency of the American and Belgian plate glass trade to control the world's trade. The project is to advance the Belgian price to meet the American price on the coast, and to divide the market with the Americans abroad. M. Gerneart made a similar proposition relating to the window glass trade to James Chambers, president of the American Window Glass Co. No responses have yet been made.

Kramer Thomson, No. 66 Broadway, is drawing plans for a 17-sty addition to the building of the Manhattan Life Insurance Co., to cost about $500,000, on the site recently purchased by the company from George Crocker, after litigation over aerial and surface invasion of the latter's land. The design will be similar to the present building of the company, and estimates will be taken shortly. The work will be started in the spring.

Waverly place, southwest corner of Mercer st; Goerlitz & Benjes, who have just purchased the plot, 25x82.9, will erect thereon a 10-sty loft building from plans by Alfred Zucker, No. 32 Waverly place.

Henry Siegel, No. 1 Union square, is now considering a proposition to add three more stories to the new Simpson, Crawford & Simpson Building—the present building is seven stories in height. This new enterprise will in no way conflict with Mr. Siegel's plans for the erection of a store on the old Macy site. That will be carried out as originally designed when possession is obtained.

Of Interest to the Building Trades.

James T. Barry, the well-known Bronx builder, has been at Atlantic City for the last few weeks for his health. He will return home soon, but for a short time only, as he intends to pass the winter in California. During his absence his interests will be looked after by his sons.

A modern skyscraper for public offices—that is the proposition made by J. H. Ehrehart, confidential appraiser of the board of tax commissioners at Albany. The New York State library, in the capitol building, is overcrowded. Many of the State officials favor the erection of a new library at a cost of $4,000,000. Mr. Ehrehart proposes, however, to take State officials out of the capitol and put them in a 12-sty business block, thus giving the library three times as much room as it now has.

The Leonard sheet metal works, of No. 159 East 48th st, manufacturers of copper and galvanized cornices, etc., will remove their plant to Nos. 330 to 336 West 13th st, extending through to Nos. 1 to 7 Gansevoort st, just west of 8th av, extensive premises which they have leased for a term of years. This firm, which is composed of E. R. & J. T. Leonard and E. A. Coursolle, have been in business less than two years, but have done considerable and very creditable work in their line. Specimens of the kind of work they turn out can be seen at the "Dorleton," 71st st and Broadway, H. M. Weed, builder; Nos. 6 and 8 East 53d st, Edward E. Paul, builder; Boy's Club, 10th st and Av A, John H. Deeves & Bro., builders; and the apartment house, southwest corner of Amsterdam av and 86th st, Thomas Potter, builder.

The Galligan Contracting Co., whose business is that of excavating and shoring, have opened offices at No. 38 Park row, this city. Mr. Thomas P. Galligan, for several years a member of the firm of T. P. Galligan & Son, is the superintendent of the company. His many years of experience in this line of trade will be a sufficient guarantee on the part of the company that any and all contracts undertaken by them will be properly executed. The company has at present the contract for excavations for the large hotel now under construction by the Astor estate for Muschenheim, the restaurateur, at 44th and 45th sts and Broadway. They recently completed the excavation contracts for the new building on the site of the old Star Theatre, at 13th st and Broadway, built by the Astor estate for Rogers, Peet & Co., and for the new Simpson, Crawford & Simpson store on 6th av. The company has branch offices and yards at Nos. 209-215 East 64th st. Their telephone numbers are for the downtown office 2293 Cortlandt, and for the uptown office and yard 3425 79th.

Mortgage—Rent Assignment Clause.

THIS CLAUSE MAY BECOME OPERATIVE BEFORE FORECLOSURE PROCEEDINGS ARE BEGUN.

Marshall, Moran & Williams, attorneys, send to the Record and Guide a copy of an opinion handed down by Justice Hoffman in the Municipal Court, in which he holds that an assignment of rent clause commonly inserted in mortgages becomes operative upon the default, and before foreclosure proceedings have been instituted. An appeal has been carried to the Appellate Term, and their decision is now awaited. The opinion was given in the case of James Thompson and others vs. James W. Erskine, which was an action to recover $160, two months' rent of an apartment in the building Nos. 338 and 340 West 85th st, built by Edward W. Kilpatrick, upon which a mortgage became due Jan. 17, 1901, and was not paid and has never since been paid. Jan. 26th notice was served upon the tenants that rents had been assigned to plaintiffs, and same were to be paid to their attorneys, Phillips & Avery. Defendant paid the February rent to Kilpatrick, and in doubt of his legal position declined to pay that for March. During these months Kilpatrick retained possession of the mortgaged premises and met the obligations as landlord under the lease, supplying steam, etc. Suit was begun to recover these two months' rent, and Justice Hoffman in his opinion said:

The law is well settled that a lessor may convey the reversion and the rent, or the rent may be assigned by the lessor without parting with the reversion, and although in such cases there exists no privity of estate or contract between the tenant and the lessee, yet it has been settled that the former may sue in his own name for rent accruing after the assignment. (McAdam on Landlord and Tenant, 3 Ed., p. 790; Moffett v. Smith 4 N. Y. 126; Reilly vs. Sexton, 32 Hun. 246; Morris vs. Niles 12 Abb. Pr. 102; Harris v. Taylor, 35 App. Div. 467). I am, therefore, of the opinion that upon the default of Kilpatrick on January 17, 1901, in the payment due under the mortgage, the aforesaid assignment of rents became operative, and these plaintiffs thereupon became entitled to the rents due said Kilpatrick or to become due, at and from said time, and the defendant, having paid the rent to Kilpatrick after receiving notice from the plaintiffs herein, he paid same at his peril. It clearly appears that plaintiffs are entitled to maintain this action for the rents which accrued for the months of February and March, amounting to the sum of $160, and should recover the same of defendants.

Counsel for the defendant, whose names are given above, in their brief to the Appellate Term, take the ground that Justice Hoffman erred by treating the alleged assignment of rents as a separate clause of the mortgage, instead of treating it and construing it as part of the receivership clause. In the latter view this alleged assignment of rents would become operative only in the event of the appointment of a receiver or of the entry of an order by a court of competent jurisdiction on institution of proper legal proceedings. Viewed in this light, as part of the receivership clause, the alleged assignment of rents could give no right to the mortgagees before the bringing of foreclosure proceedings, and without the order of a court of competent jurisdiction to enter the mortgaged premises, and there enforce the collection of rents as against the tenants.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to their having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482, denote that the property is in section 2 block 482.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers, the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—The letters R. S. mean Revenue Stamp, as R. S. $8.00 means Revenue Stamp $8.00.

Tax on Conveyances executed prior to July 1st, 1901, on $100 to $500, 50c., and for each additional $500 or fraction thereof, 50c;. on Conveyances executed on and after July 1st, 1901, 25c., where consideration exceeds $2,500 and is not more than $3,000, and 25c. for each additional $500 or fraction thereof.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the morgage, he time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage is drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find Mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instruments as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.
